GAYWAY to GATEWAY

By GEORGE D. TYLER

Nite life is experiencing a new all time low; and the spark of props, musicians and entertainers is heard from coast to coast.

Reasons for the drop run anywhere from the unwelcome tax to election year, but, the most logical is the luxury tax and high cost of living.

Jones, Orleans Still On

JONES'S is one of the two spots operating on a weekly entertainment basis, offering Melvin Spears and his Mellow Men, plus comic em cee Jimmy Green.

The ORLEANS has church's new trio, with Charlie (Base) Harris and Makel, guitarist, both recently with Lionel Hampton's band. Kitty (the cutey) Warren returned, last week, to share singing chores with popular Bettye Logan.

TheCOMEDY'S week-end policy, including new summer rates, is going over great, with Wendell Jackson's jump-band and vocalist Irene Johnson as em cee. Saturday nite guests included blues singing Piney Brown and Earl Onard, former em cee here.

Ike is all set to present the "chip off the old block" Mercer Ellington and orchestra at his Ork, Monday (29) nite, on the S.S. Bear Mountain. Mercer's warblers are top notchers and his band of music terrif, so don't miss this top season attraction.

Zerita on Astoria Bill

Our own ZERITA, pianist and songstress, is being featured at the ASTORIA, along with Stanford Early Sophisticates of Swing, the big little band. No worries here about taxes of any sort—just a good time promised everybody.

GAMBY'S is drawing good week-end crowds, offering faces well-known to strollers:

Baby Scruggs and her dance routines, songs by Oliver Travers, em cee; Maude Thomas, who delivers blues in a rocking manner that clicks; and the usual laugher that greets the unusual comic antics of Redd Foxx.

Reuben Woods and his Ambassadors of Rhythm are really great for dancing or as part of the revisical.

Alice and Lelia Picturesque

Alice and Lelia (idle because of illness) made a picturesque duo at the Yorkshire, Tuesday dawn. Both were black enamelled and that new look . . . Vashti (Frolic) and Margaret (Reds) kept Louise on the jump . . . Bernard Mason, treasurer of Musicians' Local 543 for the past 20 years, has tendered his resignation.

LAKEETA, the exotic dancer that led her own revive at Gamby's a while back, is priming a new step up to introduce at the D.C. Caverns, prior to a fall and winter tour . . . Terrie Sanns, promoter, and the Tumblers Trio, visited the Stroll, Saturday.

Between dance dates and boat rides, James Knox and his Moonlight Serenaders do a stay of nities at DOTSON'S, a suburban tavern, out Brooklyn way . . . Tuck, the pianist, is featured with Re-Bop and his Re-Boppers at the SPOT.

Ray-Dars Going Strong

The Ray-DARS continue to please the visitors to the ZANZI-BAR on week ends. "Peaches" Welsh handles the vocals. Thurlow Jackson is the manager, supported by a staff of competent bar-maids and waitresses. Fine foods are prepared, under Lucky Reed's no feuling.

Dr. Simmons Gets Air Time for Dental Unit

NEWARK

Dr. E. B. Simmons, East Orange, N.J., local committee chairman of publicity of the Commonwealth Dental Society, host organization to the National Dental Association's 35th convention, Aug. 13 in Newark, has completed arrangements for radio time for officers of the National Dental Association.

Dr. Simmons contacted the National Broadcasting System, Mutual Broadcasting System and Columbia Broadcasting System in New York City for a 15-minute program on Sunday, with remarks by Dr. E. W. Tagert, Birmingham, Ala., president, and another 15-minute period around 12 or 1 o'clock on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Dr. Simmons

1-Man Ark. U. Law Class Suspended—Student Ill

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (ANP) —The special classes set up at the University of Arkansas for Silas Hunt of Texarkana, only colored student at the university, were suspended here Friday. Hunt has been a patient in the veteran's hospital since last Monday, suffering from a hemorrhage of the lung.

According to hospital officials, the World War II veteran is not believed to be in a serious condition. He entered the university at the beginning of the spring semester and remained for summer school. He is a graduate of Arkansas A. M. & N. College, Pine Bluff.

Preparing for Big Race

Philip Fleming, 15, of 1326 N. 55th St., Philadelphia, is shown testing the wheels of his car before racing in the recent Philadelphia Soap Box Derby. He made a good showing, winning two trial heats before being eliminated in the semi-finals.

Handshake for Young Racer

Twelve-year-old Jason Coleman of 1904 N. Darien St., Philadelphia, is shown being congratulated for his showing in the recent Philadelphia Soap Box Derby by Rudolph Jeeter, director of the R. W. Brown Boys' Club, where the youth is a member and where the racing car was built. Jason was sponsored in the Derby by Pacific Mills and is wearing one of that organization's American Soap Box Derby Shirts.

Concords and Discords

By W. LLEWELLYN WILSON

Community singing, which has always been a popular feature of the annual concert which brings together the combination of the Municipal Band No. 2, the Park Band No. 2, Baltimore City Chorus and a guest soloist, will offer as an innovation, this year, two leaders, members of the bands, who will conduct the selected popular vocal refrains.

The two instrumentalist selected to introduce this novel feature are John Christian and Earl Wylie. Both of these young musicians are members of the reed section of the respective bands in which they play.

During the current season these musicians have been leading community songs on scenes where the two bands have performed.

Young to Be Soloist

Announcement, through the bureau of Parks acting superintendent, Earl F. Forman, that Bernard Young is to appear as soloist, has stirred renewed interest in the concert, which will take place on the coming Sunday at Druid Hill Park, at 6:30 p.m.

Conducted by M. Lodd and Charles E. Gwynn have worked untiringly to raise the musical standards of the two organizations they now head; and local audiences are making it known how deeply they appreciate the efforts of the musicians by the large attendance which the Friday and Sunday concerts attract.

Musical Talent Lauded

Margaret Sharp, who has been the first instrument player to be selected to serve as guest conductor, locally, has proved conclusively that professionals' modesty is a fault of her virtues.

She has not allowed the opportunity, which Charles E. Gwynn, her conductor, has given her to appear in public as conductor of the band, to spoil her.

She has returned to position as first flute in the two bands in which she plays and there modesty and unobtrusively toots her flute.

Studies Piccolo-Flute

Miss Sharp is now learning to play the piccolo flute, that brilliant sounding little instrument which is so necessary to be heard in a first-class brass band.

In order that a flute player might successfully perform on the piccolo flute, he must adjust his embouchure (technique as to the position and tautness of the lips over the orifice of the instrument) in playing to the range of the Johnnie Moore and his Four Blazers, who will be the feature attraction at the Club Bali next week.

At Club Bali

Because the flute is somewhat easier to play, few of our flautists are willing to give the necessary time and energy to learn to play piccolo flute.

Piccolo Misnomer for Instrument

Often we hear the smaller instrument called the "piccolo" but it should be known that the word piccolo modifies the word flute as an adjective.

The word "piccolo" means a small pickle. The imaginative Italian musicians called the small flute a piccolo flute.

"Hallelujah Chorus" Tradition

One feature of the musical selections to be played at band concert at Druid Hill Park on Sunday night will be the well-known "Hallelujah Chorus," from George Frederick Handel's world famous "The Messiah."

There is a tradition which dates from its first performance, at which event a well-known king of the period was so moved by the soul inspiring power of the chorus, that he arose and stood during the whole hour and the entire audience did likewise.

From that day until this, audiences all over the world always stand while Handel's The Hallelujah Chorus is sung.

Wilmington Residents Raise $18,000 for Fund

WILMINGTON, Del. — Colored citizens of this city have raised $3,171, or 17.3%, of the $18,305 that has been contributed thus far in the 1948 Delaware campaign of the United Negro College Fund, it was announced last week by Dr. Walter A. Dew, chairman of the local drive.

In announcing that receipts are above those for a corresponding period last year, Dr. Dew said contributors have been almost equally divided between colored and white persons, of the 737 individual contributors, 357 are colored.

Money from the fund will be used to help 32 private colored colleges in meeting their operating costs.

Secretarial Vacancy at Downingtown Filled

DOWNINGTON, Pa. — The only vacancy in the staff of the Downingtown Industrial School here, has been filled by the appointment of Miss Margaret A. King of Montclair, N.J., as secretary to the principal, to succeed Mrs. Odessa J. Cole, who resigned to join her husband in New York City.

Miss King, a native of Tarboro, N.C., assumed her new duties on Aug. 2. A 1944 graduate of Montclair High School, she received a B.S. degree in commerce on May 31 from North Carolina College at Durham, where she worked for two years as secretary in the publicity office.

Carfare Boost Hearing Delayed

The Public Service Commission hearing on the proposed fare increase of the Baltimore Transit Co. has been postponed until Tuesday.

Originally scheduled for this week the hearing is eagerly awaited by BTC patrons who feel the company's record of poor service and discrimination in employment does not merit it an increase in public receipts.

Nature of Complaints

Show schedules, discourteous operators, and rough driving of trolleys and streetcars have been but a few of the complaints lodged by passengers against the transit company.

Added to these insults to the public have been the failure of the transit company to train any colored conductors or operators, and its refusal to give over 1000 Negro State College students adequate bus service.

Singer, 18, Slated for Video Show

About the most excited young woman about town on Thursday night was talented Miss Erma Curry of 1524 May Ct., who was notified that she is slated for a television broadcast at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Friday) over WBAL-TV.

This is her first experience (and she has had many to boast of?) on television, although she auditioned and won a spot last December on WBAL's "Hi-Jinks" show.

She likes radio work and is looking for a sponsor who is interested in backing her in a radio program featuring popular ballads and popular classics, respectively.

A graduate of Carver Vocational High School, where she took business education, the 18-year-old singer is now working as a secretary at a downtown optical company, but she wants to sing.

She vows she'll never let up until she achieves her real ambition—singing with a name band.

11 Choirs in Va. In Big Festival

HAMPTON, Va.—Approximately 500 members of eight Tidewater communities will join in a mass chorus climaxing the Tidewater Choral Festival in Ogden Hall at Hampton Institute on Aug. 12 at 8 p.m. The concert will be repeated in Norfolk on Aug. 16.

Soloists will include Georgia Hamilton, former Hampton Institute member, now with the Harry T. Burleigh Glee Club; William P. Spratley, another Hampton graduate who directs the Berkley Community Choir and the "Lea Chantes" group; Miss Mary E. Grandison of Berkley; and Joseph Morris Jr. of Norfolk, dramatic baritone.

Program Listed

The numbers to be sung by the mass chorus are: "Praise Ye the Lord, the Almighty" (W. B. Olds), "Heavenly Light" (Kopylow-Wikhousky), "Hallelujah," from Handel's "Messiah," "Roll, Jordan, Roll" (R. H. Gillum), and "Let Us Break Bread Together" (Noah Ryder).

Individual choirs from the following areas will appear as units under their own directors: Newport News, Hampton, Hampton Institute's Summer Session, Phoebus, Norfolk, Berkley, Portsmouth, Suffolk, Smithfield, Charlottesville, and Elizabeth City (N.C.).

Seven years of Tidewater Choral Festivals have added several dozen new forays to the repertoires of the many co-operating choirs, and, according to a number of observers, have served to bring about a definite improvement in the quality of choir music in churches on the Peninsula and other nearby areas.

"This year," says Dr. James Elmo Dorsey, head of the music department of North Carolina College and a Hampton summer staff member, "there will be a special effort made to concentrate on the tonal beauty inherent in the familiar songs and classical masterpieces on the program."

Garden Fete Nets $805 for Hospital

ORANGE—Final reports on the fifth annual Garden Party which was held July 18 on the lawn of the Orange home for the benefit of the Community Hospital, were made last Thursday at a meeting of the party committee at the residence of Mrs. George Whittle, 335 Ogden St.

Total receipts for the party were $854.90, leaving a balance of $805 which was presented to Mrs. Rosamond S. Marrow, president of the board of trustees of the Community Hospital by Mrs. Orphan, Mrs. Octavia W. Catlett.

In February, the committee gave $518, making a total of $1,323 which the group has presented to the Community Hospital of Newark within the brief period of five months.

2 Carolina GI's Pass Grade Tests in Japan

YOKOHAMA, Japan — S/Sgt. James L. Thompson of Greenville, N.C., and T/5 Russel Jasper of Rembert, S.C., qualified recently as clerk-typist and operations sergeant, and as heavy-truck driver and supply clerk respectively, under the Army's new Career Plan governing promotion in enlisted and warrant grades.

Sgt. Thompson, the son of Mrs. Mary Thompson, entered the Army in 1943 and joined the Eighth Army headquarters here in 1947. T/5 Jasper, the son of Mrs. Julia Alston, enlisted in 1942 and came here in 1946.
