Methodists to Award 55 Scholarships

NASHVILLE — The Methodist Church will award 55 national scholarships for the academic year 1948-49 to colored students attending Methodist-related colleges. These scholarships have a total value of approximately $10,000.

Each individual scholarship will cover tuition and fees up to $400 per academic year. Awards are made to high school seniors, college undergraduates and graduates on the basis of scholastic achievement.

B-Average Required

In all cases a B average is required of applicants. High school seniors must also rank in the upper 15% of their graduating class. The latter requirement applies only to high school seniors, who seek scholarship for their freshman year at college.

Dr. Edward W. Stodghill, director of the Department of Student Loans and Scholarships, said that 51 scholarships will be awarded to students attending 11 Methodist-related colored colleges. He estimates that about four additional scholarships will be awarded to students in Methodist colleges attended predominantly by white students.

During 1947-48, three students attending predominantly white Methodist colleges received scholarships. James Lawson of Massillon, Ohio, attended Baldwin-Wallace College (Berea, Ohio); John H. Bustamente of Jacksonville, Fla., attended Boston University, and Ellen M. Kirkland of Camden, S.C., attended the University of Southern California at Los Angeles.

MISS GEORGIA DOIL LE VERE

WATCH YOUR ENGLISH

Double-talk is out when you talk to Miss Georgia Doil Le Vere. She knows her English . . . in fact, she majors in it at Shaw University down in Raleigh, N.C.

Miss Le Vere is preparing herself for a career in social work. Her sparkling personality and her intellectual attainments leave no doubt about her eventual success.

Before entering Shaw University, Georgia studied for three years at Morgan College. She's an avid reader, and her realistic viewpoint prefers non-fiction to fiction.

Before leaving Baltimore to enter her senior year at college, Miss Le Vere shopped around for a new wardrobe . . . and found exactly what she wanted at Hendin's.

In all her travels, Miss Le Vere says she has never found a fashion center as smart as Hendin's. "The folks there are nice and courteous, and you never see Hendin's styles in other shops."

We return the compliment by predicting that Miss Le Vere will be one of the leading candidates for "the girl most likely to succeed" honors.

Kittrell Closed, Too Few Students

KITTRELL, Ky. (ANP) — Kittrell College failed to join other institutions of higher learning in opening up its 1948 fall term of operation here last week, and may remain closed until the fall of next year.

The resumption of the fall term was withheld primarily because the student enrollment was not up to levels hoped for, and not sufficient to justify the program. In addition, the school's buildings are in need of repair and several thousands of dollars will be needed to effect renovations.

PROGRESSIVES AT PARTY

It is usually that feminine touch that pretties up a party, but the tables were turned on Saturday evening when a dozen hosts held forth at a cocktail party and buffet supper in the Park Avenue penthouse of Dr. J. W. Barnburg.

The party honored Dr. John E. T. Campet, Progressive party candidate for Congress in the Fourth Congressional District, and was given by Drs. Maurice L. Adams, J. W. Barnburg, Gilbert L. Banfield, Bernard N. Christmas, Evan A. Gilkes, Roger A. Lewis, Robert M. Lindner, George H. Pendleton, Charles E. Watts, Ralph W. Reckling Jr., William J. Watts and Thomas W. Harris.

There was enough pure fun to make the political gathering thoroughly enjoyable, and enough charm dispensed from the distaff side to make it a super event. Next evening practically the same 150 guests went out to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fish, at Chalfan, Green Spring Valley, for cocktails and dinner, with the addition of the Progressive party candidates for President and the famed Paul Robeson being guests.

The third affair of the week end, with the same core, was a reception to Mr. Wallace at Gillis Memorial Church, arranged by Dr. and Mrs. John E. T. Campet, Mrs. Gilbert Banfield, the Rev. Theodore Jackson, Dr. and Mrs. William Watts, the Rev. Ely L. Lofton and Dr. Ralph Young.
