LOCAL MATTERS

Drowned at Betterton.—Robert Rollins, a negro deck hand on the steamer Annapolis, fell from the pier at Betterton on Tuesday afternoon and was drowned. Rollison was trying to grasp the line from the steamer to make the vessel fast when he lost his footing. The accident was witnessed by hundreds of passengers on the steamer.

Horse Drowned.—Dr. J. E. Graham's valuable driving horse was drowned in Chester river on Tuesday morning. The horse was grazing in the doctor's lot adjoining the home of Mr. J. W. Crouch, tied to a rope. It became entangled in the rope, and in trying to extricate itself it fell overboard and was drowned. The accident occurred before any one was astir.

To Begin Work on Monday.—The Board of County Commissioners received a letter this week from Mr. Walter B. Miller, of the State Roads Commission, to the effect that work on the Still Pond-Betterton road will begin on Monday. The necessary tools, scoops, etc., have been purchased and the work of grading will begin at once. Mr. Jones, a competent engineer from Wicomico county, will have charge of the work.

A Sudden Death.—Mr. Samuel B. Smith, son of Rev. Alfred Smith, D. D., one of the most prominent ministers of the Wilmington Conference, died very suddenly as the result of a fall sustained near the Penns. Railroad Station in Dover Sunday night week. It is supposed he lost his footing and fell through the coal bins. Mr. Smith fell through the trestle supporting the rails and in falling his body was hurled against a beam. The young man's father was at Camden, Del., camp at the time of the accident, and the news of the young man's death cast a gloom over the entire camp ground.

Shot at Chicken Thief.—Mrs. Walter R. Pippin fired three shots at a chicken thief whom she heard after her chickens on the avenue about 10.30 o'clock on Wednesday night. Mrs. Pippin saw the man moving about in the corn in the garden from her bath room window. She notified the night officer and he and several gentlemen responded but the thief had escaped. Thieving is becoming an altogether too frequent practice on the avenue and the town authorities should place a special police there to protect the residents. They have even become so desperate as to go into the stable of one resident and milk her cow. Such business should be stopped.

Foul Play Suspected.—Mr. Lawrence Stevens, accompanied by State's Attorney H. W. Vickers, was before the County Commissioners Tuesday and asked for the employment of a detective to inquire into the death of his brother, Mr. George Stevens, whose body was found floating in Swan Creek two weeks ago last Sunday. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict that the deceased came to his death by accidentally falling overboard from his boat, but Mr. Lawrence Stevens is of the opinion that his brother was the victim of foul play, and it is claimed that there is evidence in the possession of the authorities to show that there are at least some mysterious circumstances surrounding the death of Mr. Stevens.

Mr. John P. Dugan, General Passenger agent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, a former Chestertown boy who is making his mark in the railroad world, will please accept our thanks for an interesting number of the Baltimore & Ohio employes magazine which contains valuable information and illustrations of the method employed to make the B. & O. one of the greatest railroad systems in the world.
