TYPHOID FEVER

HOW TO PREVENT ITS SPREAD

ISSUED BY THE

State Board of Health

OF MARYLAND.

When TYPHOID FEVER appears in a family the source of the infection must be looked for in drinking water or food taken within the preceding twenty days. The patient may not have been infected at home, but if a second case occurs this second infection will in all probability be traceable to the first patient. In a majority of instances the drinking water has become infected. Your first business, therefore, is to find out the quality of your drinking water.

You can do this by asking your local health officer for instruction about shipping us samples of your drinking water. The daily supply of drinking water should be boiled.

The infectious material of typhoid fever is produced in but one way. It grows always in the bowels and sometimes in the bladder. It, therefore, escapes from the sick person in the stools and urine. If we kill the germs in the stools and urine as soon as they are passed, there can be no spread of typhoid fever. These discharges should, therefore, be disinfected as soon as possible. You will need a large quantity of a good disinfecting solution.

RECEIPT FOR A GOOD DISINFECTANT.

To four gallons of water add enough salt to make a strong brine. Put this in a five gallon demijohn or jug and add a quart of crude carbolic acid. Shake it up well and you will have a good disinfectant for stools and urine.

The crude carbolic acid, known as U. S. P. 90 per cent., is very good, and a quart will cost about 50 cents. There is a cheaper grade, known as a 35 per cent. acid, which is nearly as effective.

About a pint of this solution should be put in the chamber or bed pan before it is used, so that the discharges will begin to be disinfected as soon as they leave the body. There must always be at least as much of the disinfecting solution as there is of the discharges, so that more of the disinfecting solution may need to be added after the discharges are passed. If the stools are thin and watery their disinfection will be accomplished in half an hour or so, but if the stools are thick or formed very much more time will be required. On that account it is best to have a covered jar or bucket into which the bed pan can be emptied, and to empty this jar only once in 24 hours. If the discharges cannot be finally thrown into a sewer, they should be buried in the soil at a convenient spot where there is no chance of their fouling a water supply. The discharges should never be thrown upon the surface of the ground, for you will hardly be successful in killing all the typhoid bacilli, and you must not place them where those not killed by the acid may be blown about in the dust or carried away by flies to infect other people.

In spite of every precaution those who wait on the sick person will get their hands infected, and it is, therefore, necessary to wash the hands every time one does any service about the patient's bed or body. Whoever waits on the patient must not prepare food or drink for other persons in the house, or if it is impossible to mind this rule one must most carefully and thoroughly cleanse the hands before performing any household duty outside the sick room. Good scrubbing with soap, water and a brush, and then rinsing well in fresh water will suffice for cleansing the hands.

If anyone else in the house falls sick within two weeks after the first patient, the probability is that the infection was lodged before the precautions were taken in regard to drinking water and the disposal of discharges. But if the second case occurs more than 20 days after the first case that will signify that we have made a mistake somewhere in our precautions.

Kennedyville Items.

Silence does not always mean there is nothing to say, and the silence of the past week does not mean there has been nothing doing in this village, although it did on the day of the excursion to Atlantic City seem to be deserted, but only seemingly so.

On Thursday last the Methodist Protestant and Presbyterian churches united in holding their summer outing for the Sunday schools, and a delightful time was had, the afternoon and evening being spent at Betterton, and when we returned to our homes were glad of the pleasure derived from our trip.

The new lights in the Methodist Protestant Church are quite an improvement. Especially is this true of the one placed outside to light the hitching ground, for it illuminates the whole lawn and road in front of the church.

The hauling of coal to the school houses reminds us that the time is fast approaching when we will lay aside the palmleaf fan and start the work on furnace fires. Such is life, and we must make the best of it.

The Baldwin cannery is ready to begin operation now, and expect to start canning this week.

Little Dorothy Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Pennington, who has been indisposed is much improved at this time.

Mrs. J. H. Weer, we are glad to say, is out again, though she continues quite weak.

Mrs. Robinson is entertaining at present two of her sisters from Wilmington, Del.

Rev. and Mrs. Frank S. Cain are entertaining Mr. Cain's mother, of near Cockeysville, Baltimore County, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Pennington are entertaining Miss Beulah Reynolds, daughter of a former pastor, Rev. F. D. Reynolds, who is now stationed at Sharptown, Md.

Miss Emma Shafer has as her guest, Miss Simons, of the City of Brotherly Love.

Rev. Clews, wife and son, Headley, are spending sometime among friends in Western Maryland.

Services next Sunday, Aug. 24th, in the Methodist Protestant Church will be—Sunday school 9.30 A. M.; preaching 10.30 A. M. and 8 P. M. by pastor, Rev. Frank S. Cain; Christian Endeavor 7.30 P. M. You are invited to these services.

A GRAFTLESS CIRCUS.

Like the Horseless Carriage and Seedless Orange, It's Here, Downie & Wheeler Shows Arrest any and all Gamblers Found About Their Tents.

What is their about a circus that thrills the blood of a healthy person? What is it that makes you restless and stand up on your toes when you hear the band coming up the street playing that music with a swing and vigor only heard in a circus band? You say circuses are all alike and when you have seen one you have seen them all, but still you will walk fast—or even run—right in the heat of the day in order not to miss one bit of the facinating street parade and then when the calciope has passed you will rush over to the return street and push several children out of the way to see it again. Think it over. Why do you do it? Then you will go to the show "just to take the children" or possibly because "Your girl insisted on going and you did not wish to displease her." It's alright to "alibi yourself—almost everybody has done it time and time again.

Does not the flash and glare and ginger have a lot to do with your enthusiasm for a circus? Doe't you like the scintilating brilliancy and gaudiness of the ensemble? Sure you do and even if you do wear a modest suit and boast of being conservative you secretly admire and envy the man who had nerve to wear a red necktie and Shepard's plaid suit. Let's all be human when the Downie and Wheeler shows are here and let ourselves loose and have the time of our lives. Circuses do not come often and they are not expensive. This show is a clean entertainment and free from graft and tricks. Meet us in front of the elephants when the Downie and Wheeler shows come and we will all throw trouble to the winds and peanuts to the elephants.

A Sign of The Times.

A well-known Democrat "hangs out" a sign of the times in the following strong letter in the Sun of Saturday:

To THE EDITOR OF THE SUN—Sir: An unusual poltcal situation prevails in Maryland at the present time. For the first time in the history of the State the Democratic ring has been completely cowed and whipped before it went into battle.

That intrepid young leader of progressive Democracy, the Hon. Blair Lee, disregarded the humiliating custom of seeking a nomination from the "bosses" and has gone directly to the people—to those who alone have the right to bestow it—and asked of them the honor of representing the State of Maryland in the Federal Senate. He has shaken his lance in the face of the "gang" and hurled defiance at their camp; clothed with the armor of right, he had dared to go forth as the people's champion, and no giant among the Phillistines could be found who is intrepid enough to meet the young tribune of the people. The "gang" has done what the guilty ever do when their game of bluff is called. They have thrown up their hands, and acknowledged themselves whipped before the fight.

Traveling on a Wager.

Three travelers from the W. I and Woolly West, reached Chesterson from Annapolis on Wednesday enroute to Dover, Del. These "Wild Westers" are traveling on a wager. If they travel 20,000 miles and return to San Francisco by June 1915, they are to receive $1 for each mile they travel, and to have the privilege of conducting a moving picture show during the great Exposition. They have one horse with them that has been in every State in the Union, and the travelers have already covered 8,000 miles of the 20,000. They are visiting every state capitol, taking photographs and getting letters from the Governors of the various States, clipings from the various newspaper and photos of interesting scenes. They are getting out a book descriptive of their travels and have already sold 6000 copies. They expect to make a fortune by the adventures and are from Washington State.

Burning a Poet.

The following was overheard at one of the Chautauquas by Mr. Reno Welbourn on the day of his popular lecture on the "Wonders of Science." Miss Hamilton was the Platform Superintendent at that place and had each day been giving one of her well-known lectures.

Small Boy. "Are you goin' to the Chautauqua to-day?"

Other Boy. "You bet! Miss Hamilton is goin' to burn the people's poet."

"Poem, you mean. A poet is a man who writes a poem."

"Naw! I seen it in the program. It says, 'Miss Hamilton, Burns, the People's Poet.' I'm goin' to see it done."

Five Solid Reasons

FIVE solid reasons why each farm needs a manure spreader are these, in the words of a farmer who has devoted much time to correct soil-feeding. 1. It saves disagreeable and hard work. 2. It pulverizes and mixes the manure mass. 3. It distributes manure evenly over the field, insuring a good, even stand of grain. 4. It prevents loss of nitrogen through fermentation or leaching in the pile when manure is hauled directly from the stable. 5. Indirectly, the ease with which it can be handled encourages the owner to care for the manure and distribute it on the fields carefully instead of wasting it.

I H C Manure Spreaders will work uncomplainingly for years making profits for the owners. You will find them all styles and sizes, high and low, endless apron or reverse.

I H C manure spreaders are exceedingly durable, strong, correctly built to stand all conditions and all strains they may meet. Each feature has its purpose. Up hill or down or cutting corners, they spread all kinds of manure evenly, in a light or heavy coat at the will of the driver. The beater drive is strong and simple, beater teeth are square and chisel pointed to pulverize the manure, and the large diameter of the beater prevents winding. The rear axle, carrying a large percentage of the load, insures ample tractive power.
