Five Generations Here

The guests were:

Messrs. and Mesdames Jesse Hayes, Levi Wallace, Leroy Tyler, and Garland Rayne.

Mrs. Maude Bryant, Mr. Fred, Mrs. Sophia Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

Cherry Hill Tenant Council Gives Party for Otho Pinkett

Otho P. Pinkett, who has been promoted from manager of the Cherry Hill Homes to manager of Somerset and Douglass Homes in East Baltimore, was given a surprise farewell party by the Cherry Hill Tenant Council, Wednesday.

On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Pinkett, were escorted by Mrs. Lillian Green, president of the Cherry Hill Tenant Council, into the darkened Community Building. The lights were suddenly turned on, amid the shouts of "Surprise!" to spotlight a gift and cake-laden table and a group of tenants, president and members of the many organizations of Cherry Hill, and representatives of the clergy.

Protest Transfer

Representatives of the different organizations of Cherry Hill had held a conference with Mr. Ash on Monday, in his office at the Housing Authority, to protest Mr. Pinkett's leaving. Mr. Ash, in his refusal to let Mr. Pinkett remain, stated that all Mr. Pinkett's excellent qualities, that were voiced against his leaving, were the very qualities that were needed in the East Baltimore projects.

The refreshments, five large cakes, punch, candy and nuts, were donated spontaneously as the result of an appeal from Mrs. Green, president of the Tenant Council, at a tenants' meeting the previous night, when Mr. Pinkett bade farewell to the community and presented the new manager, R. Clarke Davis. The refreshments were arranged on a long table in the center of the auditorium under the direction of Mrs. Lillie Fleet, vice president of the Tenant Council. Music was the highlight of the evening, for it was heard from a combination record player and radio, that Mr. Pinkett purchased from the funds of the vending machines in the Community Building.

Receives Gifts

Mr. Pinkett received numerous gifts, including a pipe, tobacco pouch and half pound of tobacco from the Tenant Council, a pipe lighter and lighter fluid from the Mothers' Club, a pen and pencil set from the P-TA, an umbrella from the Ladies Guild. Two dollars from the Cherryettes, an engraved New Testament from the Cherry Hill Community Church (Presbyterian), a box of cigars from the Cherry Hill Protective Association, another box of cigars from the Catholic Church, a chocolate cake from Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Noel Sr., and a rams horn ash tray from Mr. and Mrs. Howard Green.

Through Mr. Pinkett's zeal for civic improvement and organization, the three years that he has been manager of Cherry Hill Homes, this community has become well-known to the City and State legislative bodies and to the whole country as an organized, ideal planned, all-colored residential community. Mr. Pinkett has never been known to be the unloved "rent-collector" nor the task-master. He has never been to busy or too important to take time in functioning as a backbone and sounding board of all civic and social endeavors in Cherry Hill.

Even the kids know TIP-TOP's better bread!

Tip-Top Bread sure is better for toast and sandwiches. My family all say Tip-Top has smoother texture and tastes better. I'm glad to see on the loaf Tip-Top is enriched for better health.

Says Mrs. Lillian Jordon of 707 Cumberland St., shown with her husband, Allan: "Tip-Top sandwiches go into my husband's lunch box every day. All of us like Tip-Top's softness and fresh flavor. Tip-Top Bread sure is easier to spread."
