GOVANS NURSES—The group celebrated their first anniversary with a program at St. Matthews Methodist Church, recently.

Officers are:

Mesdames Josephine Tate, president; Anna Pratt, vice president; Eleanor Kinsley, financial secretary; Sarah Bonds, corresponding secretary; Julia Hymon, treasurer; and Adah Oram, business manager.

The club, composed chiefly of practical nurses, has a charity program, and during their past season contributed to sick members, aided in providing funds for a picnic for girls at St. Elizabeth Home, and gave linens to Provident Hospital.

a charmingly decorated table, done in the Valentie motif, silver and lace, and provided a full evening of music for their fifth annual tea at Provident Hospital Nurses Home on Sunday afternoon.

Adelle Foreman was chairman of the affair, which garnered funds with which to purchase an incubator for the institution, which, incidentally, will be the third given to Provident by the club.

Two mothers of members, Mrs. Mabel Weaver and Mrs. Estella Nickens, who have been staunch sponsors of the group's plans, received flowers. About were four members of the Salisbury, (Md.) chapter of Companiona, including Blanche Purnell, Virginia Glaze, Violet McLennon and Kay Coates.

Providing entertainment for the evening were Sinclair Swann, Ann Wallace Hall, Richard Balckwell, Lucy Holt, Jones, John Childs, Mary Griffin, Evangeline Williams, Ruth White Lighston, Leonard Wilmore, Merita Gaither, Marion Seay and Gloria Tucker.

Accompanists for the soloists were Mrs. Sinclair Swann, Mrs. Frances Eubanks, Miss Mildred M. Williams and Mrs. William M. Garner.

The gift to the hospital was accepted by John Procope, superintendent.

Hostesses included:

Emma Tucker, president; Margaret Nixon, vice president; Mary Maiden, recording secretary; Elaine Wright, corresponding secretary; Barbara Hawkins, financial secretary;

Edna Balckwell, treasurer; Hazel Barrett, business manager; Ann McGlothern, Hospitality Hostess; Mildred Calloman, parliamentarian; Alice Branson, Lucille Cephas, Robbie Chissell, Essie Lee, Adelle Foreman, Gwendolyn Lunch, Floria Tucker, Beatrice Wright and Elaine Wright.

BONA FINITIMI MEETS

Bona Finitimi Club members were entertained by Mrs. Margaret Chamberlain this week at a session set to select officers.

Inducted were:

Frenche J. Roberts, president; Margaret Hite, vice president; Bernice B. Spruill, corresponding secretary; Alice Mickle, recording secretary; Marguerite Chamberlain, treasurer; Beatrice Shockley, chaplain; Mrs. Spruill, publicity; and Dorothy Mooney, parliamentarian.

Becoming members of the club were Carolyn Buford and Ann Pinkney.

WE WIVES FETED

The We Wives' (club) husbands had a gala dinner dance for them in the York Hotel's blue room on Sunday night.

Their table was a beautiful piece, with its center decor of red carnations and hearts, and miniature bouqueats of the carnations at each place; the atmosphere was groovy with the boys getting too, too sentimental in their song offerings of "Girl of My Dreams" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," and with the girls lending their proper share of glamour with, for instance, Hiawatha Swan in a champagne crepe wit h standing collar and lots of back fullness; Ivy Grinnage in royal blue satin off-shoulder dinner gown; Anita Hawkins in pleated dinner skirt topped with an ice blue satin blouse; and Gwendolyn Tarter in black crepe with plaid peplum sprinkled with black sequins and cuffed gloves to match.

Adding a bit of spice, the husbands did a chorus girl routine, and then to prove their thoughtfulness gave the wives four dozen cocktail glasses for club use.

Attending were:

The Charles Cephuses, Walter Dysons, Ben Formans, Sherlock Grinages, Theodore Hythes, Thomas Hawkinses, Iglehart Keeters, The Gaines Landseys, Frank Phillipses, Medford Reynoldses, Preston A. Shaw Jr., Edward Smith, Glenn Tarters, Warren Weavers and Wellington Rosses.

AUXILIARY ENTERTAINS

The auxiliary to the Monumental Medical Society entertained the wives of Provident Hospital interns at their meeting on last Thursday.

Plans for their Easter Frolic on April 18, at the Baltimore Gardens were completed.

Guests of honor were Mesdames Joseph Martin, Simon Carter, Marcus Moore, Doxie Green and Osborne Hoffler, each of whom received a handkerchief as a memento. Hostesses were Mesdames C. M. Lawrence, William Wright, C. Dudley Lee, Wayman E. Jones, Louis Johnson and W. Atwell Jones. The evening's entertainment was arranged by Mrs. William Watts and included pinochle and bridge. Mrs. Bernard Harris is president of the club.

BIG SISTERS HOSTESSES

And after the "Big Sisters" issued the cutest of original invitations consisting of a series of petite red hearts tied with white ribbon, one should have been prepared for the unusual when they held forth at the York Hotel on Friday past and figuratively turned the Blue Room into a "Red and White Room!" Just how such a huge and feminine red heart edged in lacey ruffles got into the Blue Room is still a question and what a background it made for a buffet table aloning the Valentine color scheme and laden with just about everything. Incidentally, this makes the 11th year for this civil group and souvenir book matches of red engraved with the club name and dates were given their guests. The evening was truly a gay one with a never ending flow of spirits at each hostess's table.

About for the occasion were:

The Charles Blakes, Calvin Parkers, David Wrights, Iglehart Keets, Frank Williamses, Frank Phillipses, Edward Williamses, Louis Pulleins, William Shorters, Edward Slaters, John Procopes, Edward Fishers, Ezra Murdocks, Pink Douglases, Fen Anthonys, Glenn Tarters, Jack Battleses, Ralpia Greens, Chuck Richardses, Alphonso Cottmans, Cornell Van Days, John Tilghmans, Richard Willises.

Mr. and Mrs. Chestnut, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Byrd, Lucille Roberts, Ida Nixon, Viola Catlin, Mae Flacks, Theodore Elliott, Ike Brown and Matt Garrison.

Esther Blake is president of the group.
