In 'Blithe Spirit' at Hampton

Principals in Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit," to be produced by the Hampton Communications Theatre, Friday, Feb. 25, are, left to right: Natalie Scott, Phoebus, Va., as Ruth Condomine; James E. House, Detroit, as Mr. Condomine, and Jean Hillen, daughter of Mrs. Geneva C. Hillen of 2406 Madison Ave., Baltimore, as Mrs. Charles Condomine's ghost.

Rites for Mrs. Julia Spellman to Be Held at Sharp St. Church

Final rites for Mrs. Julia A. Spellman of 2413 Woodbrook Ave., will be held at 10 a.m. on Saturday at Sharp St. Methodist Church, with the Rev. Joshua O. Williams, pastor, officiating.

The body is now resting at the Wilson Funeral Home, Brantley Ave. and Schroeder St. Burial will follow in Denton, Md.

For 20 years a teacher in the Love Point School in Queen Anne's County, Md. Mrs. Spellman died on Wednesday at Provident Hospital. She had been a patient there for seven weeks.

Late Rev. Spellman's Widow

Daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Stevenson, she was born in Salem, N.C. She was a graduate of the Princess Anne Academy, and had taken extension courses at both Morgan State College and Hampton Institute.

Mrs. Spellman also taught in the schools of Caroline and Somerset Counties. She was the wife of the late Rev. W. T. Spellman, with whom she worked for 34 years in the Delaware Conference of the Methodist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Spellman died seven years ago.

The deceased was a former member of the Order of Eastern Star, and was affiliated with Sharp St. Church and its Women's Society of Christian Service.

Four Children Survive

Her immediate survivors include:

A son, Hubert, mailing room foreman of the AFRO-AMERICAN Company;

Three daughter, Miss Madeline A. Spellman, teacher at the Maryland Training School for Girls, Mrs. Nola Stroud, teacher at A and T College in Greensboro, and Miss Berneta Spellman, a senior at W. Virginia State College.

A foster daughter, Mrs. R. S. Faiset of Camden, N.J., a brother, Albert Foreman; a granddaughter, Miss Crystal Stroud, and several nieces and nephews.

George L. Russell is president of the local branch. B. Earl Williams, secretary, and Raymond A. C. Young, president of the Second District of the Alliance.

5 Tan Champions Await AAU Meet

Conwell, Bolen Face Hot Contention Sat.

NEW YORK—Five tan athletes are among the champions who will said put their indoor track and field titles on the line in the annual AAU board meet at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

They are Eddie Conwell, Palmyra, N. J., mortician who is the defending sprint king; Harrison Dillard, former Baldwin-Wallace College ace and 1948 hurdles champion, Dave Bolen, Colorado University junior, 600-meter titlist, Phil Thigpen, of Seton Hall College, holder of the 1,000-yard run crown, and Lorenzo Wright, Wayne University star of broad jump fame.

Three of the number are Olympic Games heroes, Dillard, Bolen and Wright, while a fourth, Conwell, made the trip to London but was hospitalized during the international competitions and could not appear.

Faces Greatest Number

Conwell, naturally, will have the greatest number of challengers to turn back. Chief among these are Billy Mathis, ex-dash king who was declared winner of the 60 last year after incessant boosing by Garden fans brought about a reversal of the judges' decision placing Conwell first. However, in subsequent action the AAU refused to sanction the placing judges, for changing their original decision and ordered Conwell recognized as the champion.

Also considered a serious threat to Conwell is white Billy Dwyer, Rhode Island Officials Association 22 speedster who already boasts an indoor victory in the Millrose Games over both Conwell and Mathis. Tom Carey, former indoor dash titlist, Joe Ciancialella, white of Manhattan College, and Ira Kaplan, sensational NYU Jewish flyer who also owns a win over Mathis on the Washington Evening Star Games.

Dillard's principal competition will come from white James Gehredes, of Penn State; white Dick Taylor, of North Carolina, and Ed Dugger, two-time national high hurdles champion.

Bolen's Hands Full

Bolen, though, will have his hands full in the 600. And the Canaryville middle distance star will have to do his best to turn back such clever board performers as George Guida, of Villanova who last Saturday smashed the world record at 500 yards in the New York A.C. meet, Frank Fox, Seton Hall sophomore, George Gilhooley, of Metropolitan collegiate squadron, mile champion.

Wright figures to repeat, what with his main rival, Willie Steele, national outdoor and Olympic champion, on the West Coast, and not entered.

A tie for fourth in the Millrose Games and a tie for third in last week's New York A.C. meet, Indiana State product Webb Brooks, College prospect, is improving and may be a threat in the high jump.

Described as a "Jack the Ripper" who crept about town terrorizing women with a scout knife, a 53-year-old man was sentenced Wednesday, to 30 days in jail.

Special Officer Joseph Hill said he was walking through Druid Hill Park when he saw the man, who claimed he had followed William Jones of the 1200 block Whatcoat St. had chased them with a knife.

Jones was carrying the knife in his belt when he was caught and searched, the officer added.

A third woman told Magistrate Thomas Fitzpatrick that Jones threatened her with the knife on a previous evening.

Jones declared they had "the wrong man." He denied also that the officer found the knife in his belt.

PRIVATE SCHOOLS TAKEN LEAD:

Mixed Colleges Prove Success in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (ANP)—The integration of students at St. Louis University and in three departments at Washington University was pronounced a success last week by the two schools.

Colored students attend nearly every one of the Catholic elementary and high schools in this area. About 250 attend these schools and 180 attend the one all-colored school, St. Joseph.

Above Average

Father Reinert rated the colored students above average. He said that they were handicapped by a tradition of interest in intellectual work because of crowded home conditions, and the "recognized poor quality" of their pre-college education.

Washington University, a non-denominational school, has mixed classes in its George Warren Brown School of Social Work and its Graduate School of Arts and Sciences.

Dr. Benjamin E. Youngdahl, dean of the social science school, said 8 out of 131 students in this department were colored. Nine.

At St. Louis University, the Rev. Paul C. Reinert, S.J., president, said his school "has been able to iron out our difficulties." As a Jesuit school, it has 268 colored students enrolled in the Liberal Arts College, and the departments of nurse training, finance, commerce, the School of Law, and technology.

Attend Senior Prom

Six couples frolicked at the senior class prom, Father Reinert said. All are served unsegregated in the school cafeteria, he pointed out.

There is no other place in that area that will feed them, he said.

St Louis University leads the Catholic schools in this area that cut out segregation in schools at all levels a couple of years ago. Nine colored students attend two of the three Catholic colleges for women here.

One applicant who had been accepted to the medical school could not attend for financial reasons, Father Reinert said, but two prospective students are in the graduate school.

State Still Behind

However, despite the lifting of barriers by the private schools, the State of Missouri and St. Louis maintain dual systems. The State maintains the University of Missouri for whites and Lincoln University for colored. It has a separate law school for colored students.

In an effort to determine a future pattern of action, both the student body and faculty of the University of Missouri were polled on the admission of colored students. Feb. 14-16.

IN MEMORIAM

MOORE—A tribute of love to the memory of our dear mother, Julia Ann Moore, who left us in sorrow one year ago, Feb. 19, 1948.

The face we love is now laid low,
The hand we clasped in life is cold,
The heart we cherished in vain,
Lies now in death's cold chill.
We often think of the days
When we are all alone
We miss the kind word and smile
That never will come to us
Teach us silence often flow
Sometimes we feel we can't go—we will come home to you
We know, we know the silent heartaches,
Daily those who have died still live
Of the grief that's borne in silence,
Of the tears that flow in secret,
Of the hopes that are never realized,
Our hearts cannot tell what to say,
God alone knows how we miss you,
In a house that is lonesome today.
Husband, Daughter, Sisters,
Beatrice, Hattie, Janie, Maria,
Dorothy and Maxine.

WATKINS—In loving memory of my dear husband and our father, George Washington Watkins, who died Feb. 19, 1944.
When the evening shades are falling,
We think of you dear father,
In our hearts your memory will live forever,
If you only could come home
How happy we would be, for your grave
is lonely and cold.
We miss you, dear husband,
Our loving father.
Daughter, Wife,
Mrs. Mary E. Children,
BEATRICE & JOSEPH

GROSS—In loving memory of my dear husband, Jesse Gross, who passed away Feb. 19, 1945.
Sad not but forgotten
Children, Mildred E. Washington
and Mrs. Ethel Washington.

COPELAND—In sad but loving memory of our dear father, George, who departed this life 3 years ago, February 19, 1946.
Our father, you are not forgotten,
Though on earth you are not seen,
Still in memory you are with us,
As we gather here today.
Daughter, Mrs. Lavender Manning
Mrs. Grace Calloway.
