Miss Storke is said to be one of the best bareback circus riders in the country.

A Sad Drowning.

Mr. Charles Jackson, a prominent young business man of Baltimore city, employed with the Adams Express Company, was drowned just off the home of Mr. Owen C. Smith, in Queen Annes, while bathing in Chester river on Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock. Mr. Jackson and his family had been spending some days with Mr. Smith and his family, and on Tuesday afternoon he and the children went bathing. After being in the water a few minutes, Mr. Jackson was seized with acute indigestion and sank out of sight before assistance could reach him. Mr. J. D. Foster, dived in the water after him with his clothes on, but the body was in the water some forty minutes before it was found. Drs. Simmons and Whaland pronounced death due to an attack of acute indigestion. He was a fine business man, and quite prominent in business circles. He was 25 years old and leaves a wife and three small children. The remains were taken to Baltimore on Wednesday morning for interment. Charles L. Dodd undertaker. The day on which the young man was drowned was the last day of his vacation. He said he wanted to enjoy the water that day, and after eating a hearty dinner he and the children went for a bath. His wife was standing on the wharf when he cried for help, but thought he was simply joking. He sank out of her sight never to return.

A Mr. Cottrell, of Baltimore, formerly in the employ of Ambassador Bryce, of Washington, has been appointed to the position of commissary at Washington College to take the place of Mr. George E. Lambert.

Mr. Frank Jarman, former Washington College star pitcher, is making a fine record with the Raleigh team of the Southern League. Last Friday Jarman pitched a game against Asheville and allowed them only four hits. The score was 4 to 0 in Raleigh's favor. Jarman also had a great day at the bat, getting three hits, one a three sacker in four times up, and he made two of Raliegh's four runs. That's going some for one day, and Frank is setting the southern fans afire.

FAIR NOTES.

Excellent order was preserved on the grounds during the entire four days of the fair, and everybody was pleased with the success of the show.

There was an excellent display of machinery, farm implements, carriages, corn cutters, bathroom and plumbing fixtures, gasoline engines, etc. Those who exhibited were: A. S. Turner, the hustling Worton dealer; Graham & Clements, Davis & Satterfield, Henry DeFord, of Chestertown, who are always on the job; Kilbourn & Bramble, the wide-awake Fairlee merchants; Schauber Bros., who are making a roaring success of their corn cutter, and Kent Lambert, whose bathroom and plumbing exhibit was especially attractive and complete.

Of course the baby show was the chief attraction for the ladies, and the big tent was always full.

One of the chief attractions at the fair was Jolly Bill Horney, of Shenandoah, Va., the largest man in the world. He weighs 702 pounds and 3 ounces, is 48 years old and stands 5 feet, 10 inches. He measures 72 inches around the waist, 42 inches around the calf of his leg. He is compelled to travel in a freight car, being too large to get in a day coach or baggage coach. When he reaches a station he has to use a truck to get from our place to another.

The dairy lunch, lemonade, ice cream, sausage and sandwich, cigars and chewing gum, soft drinks and all other privilege stands did a rushing business.

A thunder storm interferred with the balloon ascension on Wednesday, but there were two successful accensions on Thursday.

Mr. Walter Wright proved himself to be a handy man with the sprinkler which kept the track in good shape all the time.

The Chestertown Band, under the direction of Profs. McDaniel, of Centreville, and Arthur Bacon discoursed fine music.

The horsemen were delighted with the track and their stabling quarters, and they all stated that they will be here next year with reinforcements.

The Md., Del., & Va., Railway Company ran a big excursion here on Thursday starting from Lewes, Del., over the Queen Annes road.

FINE HORSE ACTS IN ROBBINS' CIRCUS.

Will Be Here With Many New Attractions Soon.

Every circus that comes to Chestertown has horse acts. It would not be a circus if it did not, but none of them have such performing horses as the wonderful troupe of imported German stallions, brought to this country for the Frank A. Robbins AllFeature Circus, which appears here twice on Thursday, Sept., 11. At an expense of 20,000 these eight coal black wonders of the equine world twice a day give a performance which is unequaled in the annals of circusdom. Under the direction of Prof. Joseph Barris, King of Horse Trainers, and without a peer in the show business to-day, the troupe goes through the most remarkable evolutions in the ring, the whole act concluding when Hector, king of the group, walks out of the ring on his rear legs, to the plaudits of all who witness the remarkable act.

High School horses, bareback riding, trained ponies and elephants form but a few of the features with this show. Wire walkers unexcelled, iron-jawed men and women, numerous aerial acts, and a troupe of clowns second to none in the country to-day, present a two-hour program which will delight young and old. There is nothing old about the show but the name.
