FRANK M. MILLER,
Chestertown, Md.

IF YOU ARE with Mr. Bryan, you must be an Anti man. Mr. Bryan has been fighting the Murphys, the Jim Smith, the John Walter Smiths and all the rest of those machine politicians who have held the people in their grip for years. Mr. Bryan licked the whole business at the Baltimore Convention; nominated Woodrow Wilson, and gave the people the first Democratic President the country has had since the days of Grover Cleveland. Mr. Bryan told you at the Chautauqua the other night that he is fighting for the people's battle, that the signs of the times point more than ever to the establishment of popular government, and that this must be a government of the people, for the people and by the people. Voters of Kent county, Mr. Bryan is fighting your battle. He wants nothing to do with Senator John Walter Smith and Mahon and Kelley and Padgett. If you believe in Mr. Bryan, you must vote for those who are upholding the people's cause in this contest here in Kent, and as Mr. Bryan showed you in what direction the signs of the times point, why don't you get on the side of the people, fight their fight, and stop hurrahing for Bryan with your mouth, and running on the ticket and working with his bitter foes here in Kent county? If there is any one thing in this world that Mr. Bryan and every other honest man abhors, it is hypocrisy. If you say you are for Mr. Bryan, be like Mr. Bryan and fight the fight of the people with those who are Mr. Bryan's friends.

The Last Days' Races.

The last day's races at the fair were the best and most exciting of the entire week. It looked like the drivers and horses as well were out for blood, and from 1.30 until dark there was a succession of bruising finishes. The special race for a purse of $150 in which only Kent and Queen Annes horses were entered, proved the most exciting of the day and it required six hot heats to determine the winner. The contenders were: J. K., that fine green pacer owned by Mr. Peter Brice; Belton Jr., from Marydel, and Susie Ferguson, that fine and speedy mare owned by Mr. J. E. Ferguson, of Chestertown. Belton, Jr., had the foot and staying qualities, and after he was run down n the first heat he won the third, fifth and sixth heats, and the race. A crowd of about 2500 witnessed the races. The summary of the events is as follows:
