Mate Files $5,000 Suit for Injuries to Wife

Contending that his wife was injured when their car was struck by another, Clarence Vaughn of 523 Cumberland St. entered a $5,000 damage suit in Superior Court on Wednesday.

The suit was filed against Benjamin Fisher of 135 No. Glover St. whose car according to the petition, collided with the Vaugrn car on Nov. 13 at Fairmount Ave. and Broadway. Mrs. Etta Vaughn was a passenger in her husband's car.

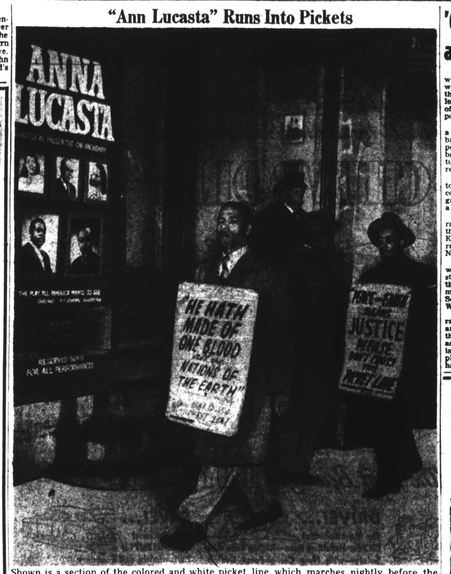
"Ann Lucasta" Runs Into Pickets



Shown is a section of the colored and white picket line which marches nightly before the Maryland Theatre, Franklin near Howard St., where an all colored cast is appearing in the play, "Anna Lucasta." The pickets are members of the NAACP, Baltimore Progressive Party and Marine Cooks and Stewards' Union. They are protesting the segregating of colored patrons to balcony seats.

'Anna Lucasta' Cast Criticized

Bob Kaufman, president, and Mrs. Adah Jenkins both appeaging as pickets.

Picketing Jim Crow

"We are not picketing the cast as such," Mrs. Mitchell declared, "we are picketing jim crow."

In this connection, she pointed out that the NAACP also is picketing the white cast of "Harvey," now playing at the Ford's Theatre.

Continuing, Mrs. Mitchell said that "leading white actors in Actors' Equity Association voted not to return to the National Theatre in Washington until segregation is eliminated. The playwrights took similar action," she added.

None of them has ever stated that such a step in direction of elementary justice and democracy was 'taking bread out of their mouths' as has the "Anna Lucasta" cast, Mrs. Mitchell asserted.

"Are We Really Ready?"

"It makes us wonder whether colored citizens themselves are ready 100% first-class citizenship. Many sacrifices are required of all of us who want to see democracy a reality in our day.

"Three years ago the all-white cast of 'A Flag is Born,' who did not know of the segregation at the Maryland Theatre before they came to Baltimore, gave the Maryland Theatre management an ultimatum that they would not perform unless segregation was eliminated.

"The management complied. Still the cast played to a packed house. The white 'Flag is Born' cast could have given the same argument that 'Anna Lucasta's' did, but they did not," Mrs. Mitchell declared.

"We could certainly not expect any less from a colored cast," she said, "because they, being colored, and facing segregation in their everyday lives, should be the last ones to refuse to cooperate.

"Everybody's Fight"

"This is everybody's fight. Moreover, it is very hard to explain to the hundreds of our white supporters, who want to make democracy real in Baltimore, and who never cross our picket line, why colored actors themselves cross it," she added, stating:

"Dr. Charles Houston has often said that his primary concern is not whether colored citizens will get civil rights, but whether we will be ready to accept them.

"The road to our full emancipation is filled with sacrifices for all of us," she concluded.

Colored Persons Attending

Thursday night there were upwards of 20 persons on the picket line, which resulted in many white persons refusing to enter the theatre.

Since Sunday night, when the engagement began, only a few colored persons have attended. However, more went in Thursday than on previous nights.

As a result, some of the picket directors have expressed the belief that some colored persons are being paid to cross the line.

This theory is being investigated and will be exposed if found to be true, it has been promised.

'Close-up' Drama at New Albert

The search for escaped Nazi war criminals and secret agents which is going on relentlessly throughout the world despite the long lapse of time since the end of World War II has been incorporated in a motion picture.

The story of a leading secret agent who is discovered and brought to justice in the heart of post-war New York forms the basis for the latest Marathon Picture production, "Close-Up," currently at the New Albert Theatre.

In "Close-Up" a newsreel photographer is instrumental in uncovering and capturing the entire gang when he accidentally takes a routine shot.

Alan Baxter, plays the photographer, Virginia Gilmore, plays the love interest, and Richard Kollmar, the "Boston Blackie" of radio fame, plays the escaped Nazi.

A desperate fight between a wild stallion and a man, with the stallion victorious in trampling the man to death, is one of the many very exciting scenes in Screen Guild's "The Return of Wildfire," the second feature.

Richard Arlen is the helpful ranch hand and Patricia Morison and Mary Beth Hughes portray the sisters. James Millican is cast as the foreman and Reed Hadley is the gambler. Chris-Pin Martin plays the highly amusing ranch hand "Pancho."

Lucky to Head St. Loo Circus

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Lucky Millinder and his versatile musical crew will headline the parade of top-flight entertainment as the Mound City's annual YMCA Circus gets underway at Kiel Auditorium for a full week, beginning Sunday.

Lucky was accorded the choice assignment of handling the musical honors at the YMCA Circus, this year as the result of the spectacular comeback he has made in the past few months with a pair of smash jukebox hits, "D' Natural Blues" on RCA Victor and "Let It Roll" on Decca.

Story of a Lost Continent at Met

Though the story is older than civilization itself, the tale of the lost continent of Atlantis continues to play upon the romantic imaginations of people everywhere whenever it crops up. And Seymour Nebenzal's newest film, "Atlantis," currently at the Met, is no exception.

But "Atlantis" is an exception in two notable ways. It presents a new theory that, far from being swallowed up by the waves of the Atlantic Ocean, the lost continent was surrounded by lands arising out of the sea and exists today in the Hoggar Mountains of Africa.

Maria Montez plays the glamorous, amoral Queen, in a manner befitting the imaginative quality of the story.

One of the great delights in watching the Cisco Kid, in the supporting film, "The Valiant Hombre," is the way Cisco has such a good time giving us a good time.

This fast-paced, colorful Western co-stars Duncan Renaldo and Leo Carrillo as Cisco and Pancho, saddle-pals who are quasi-desperadoes and semi-Robin Hoods.

Illinois Moves into Louisiana

MONROE, La.—Winding up his record-breaking sweep through Texas, Illinos Jacquet will make his first appearances in Louisiana in a series of four dates, teeing off Friday, April 22, at the Carroll Auditorium in Monroe, Lafayttee, and two in New Orleans.

The frantic tenorman completes his southern tour with dance dates in Montgomery, Ala., and Jackson.

Fateful Rivals in Thrill Drama

Met Talent Club to Get Underway

The Met Theatre Talent Club will officially open on Saturday (tomorrow), at the North Avenue house with Chuck Richards as emcee.

With the doors opening at 11 a.m., the half-hour show will begin at 11:30 and will be broadcast from the stage over Station WBMD.

Prizes will be awarded the winners, and shows will be held each Saturday for an indefinite period.
