LOCAL MATTERS

Judge Elliott Returned.—After an eventful trip to Europe, Judge Thomas Ireland Elliott has returned home. He was in his chambers at the court house Wednesday and chatted pleasantly of his experiences. His bailiffs, as an expression of esteem, had filled the room with dahlias. Judge Elliott shows no effects of a severe attact of pneumonia, lasting nearly five weeks, which at one time threatened to have a fatal termination. An American doctor, a Johns Hopkins nurse and the presence of his wife and daughter were finally instrumental in bringing about a complete recovery.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Wild West show in town October 13th.

Buyers were offering 80 cents a bushel for old corn and 60 cents for new this week.

On and after to-day the Public Libary will be open in the afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Contractor George W. Owens is building a new home for Mrs. Harvey Brice on Bayside, Betterton.

Mr. W. Raymond Moody has been in conference with Governor Goldsborough and Cardinal Gibbons regarding a social reform movement in Maryland.

The Stewart Fruit Company, of Baltimore, has been paying $1 per hundred pounds for keiffer pears of the select class this week. They also paid 50 cents per hundred for culls.

We understand that the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company has leased the old TRANSCRIPT building from Mr. Harry Thomas, of Philadelphia, for a term of years.

Mr. George Rouse and family expect to move into their new home on the mill road about November 1. Mrs. Dewberry and family have rented the house where Mr. Rouse and family now live.

A step has been taken, it is reported, to organize a company of infantry of the Maryland National Guard in Chestertown. It requires 40 enlisted men to organize a company, and already quite a number have promised to enlist.

The presence of bay trout in large quantities in Chester river greatly increased the number of fishermen with hook and line during the week, and there have been some good catches, while others did not get a bite.

Robert Ferrell, the colored Queen Annes huckster, had ripe strawberries in market for sale yesterday at 15 cents a pint. They are a second crop, are large and of delicious flavor. He will have more here next week.

Hog cholera is playing havoc among the farmers' hogs again, and those whose herd is not infected are selling them and will be compelled to buy meat. One farmer who usually has thirty or forty good big hogs to kill, will have only two.

The tomato season is over in this county practically, and while there have been a number of fine individual yields, the crop generally has been far below an average one. One farmer near town did not get enough out of his crop to pay for his fertilizer.

The Chestertown Grange is called to meet next Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Business of importance to be transacted. A full attendance is earnestly requested.

We are indebted to Dr. J. E. Graham for one of the largest and best formed ears of corn we have seen this season. The corn is of the yellow variety, the ear weighs over two pounds and measures one foot in length. It was grown on the doctor's Queen Annes farm.

Miss Laura Lambert has resigned as chief operator at the Telephone Exchange and has gone to Philadelphia, where she has secured a position. Her place at the Exchange has not been filled, but Misses Dora Hodgkin and Stacey Medders have been added to the force.

Mr. Walter T. Pippin has been awarded the contract for the erection of Mr. Herbert E. Perkins' new home on his recently purchased lot on Queen street. It will be a two story bungalow fitted with all the latest improvements and will be one of the prettiest homes in the town when finished.

Do not forget the public sale of the Hubbard residence on Washington avenue on Tuesday, October 14th. This is one of the finest residence properties in Chestertown, and will make any one an ideal town home. The property is in an elegant state of repair and has commodious outbuildings and a fine pasture lot.

Still Pond Grange will hold a meeting on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock in the grange room at the school house. At 3.30 an open meeting will be held to which all farmers interested in their bank accounts are urged to be present. The ladies are urged to be on hand also, for an important subject is to be discussed.

The examinations for free scholarships in the new school of Technology to be conducted in connection with the John's Hopkins University, are attracting State wide attention this week. The results of the examinations may be ready for announcement on Monday. There are 75 applicants. Each scholarship carries the sum of $200, or other provision for defraying the cost of board and lodging.

Mr. John H. Moffett's fine coop of Rhode Island Red chickens took second prize at the great Allantown (Pa.) fair last week. This fair holds one of the biggest poultry shows in the country and the birds that take a prize there have to be at the head of the standard. Mr. Moffett is advertising some of those pullets which he says will begin laying the latter part of October, at the astonishingly low price of 75 cents each in the TRANSCRIPT.

The alarm of fire shortly after 12 o'clock on Sunday attracted a large crowd to the paper mill, where it was found that six hundred tons of old paper to be used in making strawboard had caught fire, presumably from spontaneous combustion. The Volunteer Fire Company, George H. Cannan, chief, responded quickly, and the strawboard company's private fire apparatus was turned on, and the flames were prevented from spreading to nearby straw ricks. Some of the people at first thought the mill was on fire, and hundreds ran to the scene.

According to Postmaster M. Wilbur Thomas' official register, two inches of rain fell during the storm on Wednesday. A valuable young horse belonging to Mr. Samuel Loller near Worton station was struck by lightning. It was not killed, but is paralyzed all over, and Mr. Loller may put an end to its misery. Another horse at Worton station was knocked down by a flash, but was not seriously injured. The bridge at Krusen's wheelwright shop at the head of Still Pond Creek was washed away, and Mr. George Rouse was compelled to ford the creek to get to Chestertown.

Chestertown was visited on Wednesday of last week by a large delegation from Delaware, who came into Kent and Queen Anne's counties for the purpose of looking at the State Road. The party consisted of the Levy Court of New Dastle county—Benjamin A. Groves, president; E. C. Clark, Comptroller; Samuel A. Burris, Thomas S. Fouracre, William A. Scott, Augustus Negandauk, George Ball; the commissioners of Middletown, Dr. E. G. Clark, president; Col. James Hanson, W. Alen, Charles Jones, James Wilson, State Highway Commissioner and Engineer, and R. C. Jacob, George W. Grice, and Frank Gril. The party were loud in their praise of the good roads in Maryland.

The Religious World.

Other Religious Notes on page 6.

The annual convention of the Union of Young People's Work of the Maryland Conference will be held in West Baltimore Church October 7-9. A fine program has been prepared for the occasion.

The 87th stated meeting of the Presbytery of New Castle will be held on October 7 at 2.30 P. M. in Wicomico Church, Salisbury. At that time Rev. H. L. Bunstein will retire as moderator and a new set of officers will be elected. A feature of the evening will be a popular meeting to be addressed by W. C. Pearce, associate-general secretary of the International Sunday School Association. Rev. J. M. L. Eckard, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Smyrna, and Elder S. J. Reynolds will attend.
