LOCAL MATTERS

Wedding Invitations—Mrs. Hebert R. Strong has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Rebecca to Mr. Harland Watson Huston, of Seaford, Del. The wedding will take place on Thursday evening, October 30th, at eight o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal Church, Chestertown.

Series of Entertainments—A series of four entertainments including, Musicals, a Lecture and an Impersonation will be given in Chestertown on November 15th, December 3rd, January 21st and February 21st, under the auspices of the Federated Club of Chestertown, the object being to continue the Chautauqua spirit during the winter, the ladies feeling that this is one of the most important works they could be engaged in for the uplift of the town. Please remember the dates.

Buys Fine Home—Mr. Robt. G. Nicholson, Proprietor of the Chestertown Ice Plant, purchased at public sale on Tuesday the fine home of Sidney P. Townshend, Esq., on Washington Avenue for $4,600. This residence was built by Mr. Wilbur W. Hubbard and occupied by him for years until he removed to his fine colonial Front street property. It is one of the finest residence properties in the town, and is regarded as the cheapest price ever paid for such a home in the town. The original cost to Mr. Hubbard was $10,000. The property is in excellent repair.

Played Tie Game.—Although outplaying the Western Maryland College football team for the best part of the game, Washington College was unable to produce at the proper time, and the annual contest between the teams, staged at Oriole Park, Baltimore, Saturday afternoon, ended in a scoreless tie. Except for the first quarter, when Western Maryland twice had the ball within Washington's 10-yard line, the Chestertown lads were in no real danger and forced the playing all the way. The teams were evenly matched in weight. Supporters of both colleges were out in numbers to cheer for their representatives.

A Public Library.—The Woman's Literary Club and the executive board of the public library of Chestertown invite their subscribers and all others who are interested in broadening the scope of the library and widening its general usefulness, to be present at a public meeting to be held in the library Tuesday, October 21, at 4 P. M., to discuss the opening of the library for free reading hours. There are in the library over 1,400 books, including the famous 5 foot shelf of books the "Harvard Classics," and many others of equal value, both for recreation and improvement, and it is the wish of the library committee to place them within the reach of all who care to make use of them.

Flag Raising.—Fancy School, Miss Julia Nicholson teacher, was presented with a fine American flag recently by Mr. Harry Thomas, of Philadelphia, son of the late Rev. Samuel Thomas. The presentation and flag raising took place Thursday afternoon of last week, attended by appropriate exercises. Prof. J. L. Smyth, superintendent of schools, made the presentation on behalf of Mr. Thomas and Mr. H. Stockton Startt in a well-chosen speech accepted the gift on the part of the school and trustees. Miss Nicholson and her pupils are very grateful to Mr. Thomas for his patriotic interest in the school, and the flag is unfurled to the breezes every day from the flag pole on the school building.

¶Mr. William Medders of Still Pond, has a very interesting statement on page 8 in this issue. It deals with a live subject and Mr. Medders is a live man. Read it.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

¶Court convenes on Monday.

¶Chrysanthemums are blooming, and Chestertown will have its usual fine display.

¶Farmers are as busy as bees seeding wheet and husking corn. There promises to be a fine yield of corm in the county this season.

¶The first new southern corn of the season reached Baltimore on Wednesday. The shipment consisted of 100 bushels, and sold for 75 cents per bushel.

¶Real Estate Broker J. Waters Russell has sold for Mr. Henry Stoker his property near Edesville consisting of 24 acres, to Mr. Harry Wagner. Price private.

¶Mr. Abe Cohen, the Sandy Bottom merchant, advises us to say that he will pay 36 cents a dozen for fresh eggs all next week. He will tell you something interesting next week.

¶Some one stole a gold watch and $10 in money from Mr. D. W. Stoops, the shoe maker, on Saturday. The thief entered Mr. Stoops' place of business and secured the booty.

¶Mr. A. L. Benjamin and son, Mr. Wm. C. Benjamin have removed to one of the Leary houses on Maple avenue and Mr. John Brown, janitor to the Court House has gone where Mr. Benjamin was.

¶The Junior Order United American Mechanics are preparing to hold a Memorial service in their lodge room next Sunday afternoon week, October 26th. An appropriate program is being arranged.

¶Mr. James W. Chapman will please accept our thanks for a basket of fine apples which grew on one of his fine farms. Mr. Chapman is one of the most sucessful apple growers in the county because he employs modern methods in their culture, and he is very generous to his frieuds in remenbering them when gathering time comes around.

¶We have in our possession three ears of corn grown in York county, Pa. One acre and a quarter of ground yielded 175 bushels of this fine corn, and the farmer who grew it expects an average yield of 125 bushels per acre. We saw this field of corn and we will show our friends the samples if they will come to our home, and will be glad to give them the name of the variety.

¶The Kent train was one hour and forty minutes late on Wednesday evening due to the fact that a passenger who had purchased a through ticket to Chestertown somewhere down the Delaware roads, demanded that the train be held at Townsend for him. The passenger caught a late train up the Delaware road, which caused the delay in the arrival of the Kent train.

¶Misses Grace and Mary Clark, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Clark, of Church Hill, were thrown from their buggy Monday when their horse took fright at the automobile of Mr. Thomas Hurlock. The animal dashed into the machine, upsetting the carriage. Mr. Hurlock jumped from his auto and caught the horse before it could dash away. The Misses Clark escaped without a scratch.

OUR DEATH RECORD.

GEORGE B. McWHORTER.

Mr. George B. McWhorter, one of our oldest and most highly esteemed residents, died at his home on Washington avenue at a quarter before one o'clock on Thursday, after a long illness, aged 75 years. Mr. McWhorter had been in ill-health for a long time, but throughout his long illness he never complained of his condition, and sought in every way to relieve his devoted wife and family of the anxiety incident to his affliction. His death was calm and peaceful and his mind was perfectly clear up to the moment of his death. The deceased was born near Blackiston's Cross Roads in Delaware. For some years he engaged in farming on the Brown farm in Queen Annes. He removed to Chestertown in December, 1878, and on January 1, 1879, he began the livery business in the Russell stables on High street. Owing to the condition of his health he sold his livery business in September, 1903, to his son, Mr. George W. McWhorter, and retired to private life, though up to the moment of his death he maintained a keen interest in the business of his sons, and every day during his illness when he was not able to go to the stables, he inquired for his sons' welfare and wanted to know what was going on in the community. Mr. McWhorter was keenly interested in the public welfare, and though of a quiet and reserved manner, he had the happy faculty of always knowing what was going on around him. He was an ardent Democrat, and some years ago was a candidate for sheriff. A more generous hearted man than George B. McWhorter never lived. He was honest in the extreme, and in every business transaction in which he engaged he was noted for his fairness and integrity. We never heard Mr. McWhorter say an unkind word about anybody, and his heart was so large, that his deeds of charity and his acts of kindness were known to every one. His family life was beautiful. The devotion of himself and wife to each other was complete, and while she ministered to his every want with a devotion and self-sacrifice that was as beautiful as it was lavish, he strove always to relieve his family of the strain of his suffering, and looked on the bright side of life until his sufferings were ended. We know that George B. McWhorter was a grand man, a devoted husband and a staunch friend, and he enjoyed the confidence and respect of the town and county because of his sterling character. We believe that his is the reward of the just, because of the life he lived here.

Besides his devoted widow, he leaves the following children: Mrs. Harrison Massey, of Church Hill; Mrs. John W. Hirons, of Chestertown; Mrs. B. M. Bergen, Baltimore; Mrs. James E. Allen, of Clayton; Messrs. George, Harry and Robert J. McWhorter, of this town; Mr. Frank McWhorter, of Church Hill; Mr. Charles McWhorter, of Baltimore; and Miss Nellie, his devoted daughter at home. Funeral services will be held from his late residence on Washington avenue this (Saturday) afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Dr. L. E. Barrett. Interment will be made in the family lot in Chester cemetery. The pall-bearers will be his five sons and his son-in-law, Mr. John W. Hirons. Undertaker Wm. T. Hicks will have charge of the funeral arrangements.

MRS. ANNIE ELIZABETH ELLIOTT.

Mrs. Annie Elizabeth Elliott, wife of Mr. William J. Elliott, one of our oldest citizens, died at her home on High street on Wednesday of pneumonia, aged 74 years. The deceased spent the greater part of her life in Chestertown, and she was known in the community as a good christian woman, devoted to her church and its interests, loyal to her family and true to her friends. For years she was a member of Christ M. P. Church, and during her younger days was one of its most active and devoted members.

Besides her aged husband, she leaves two children, Mrs. S. A. Ivens, and one son, Mr. J. W. Elliott, both of Chestertown. Funeral services will be held this Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from her late residence, conducted by Rev. Dr. W. R. Graham. Interment will be made in Chester cemetery. The pall-bearers will be her five grandsons: Messrs. Harry, Frank, Maurice and Preston Ivens, Eli Elliott and Wm. P. Milby. Undertaker Charles L. Dodd will have charge of the funeral arrangements.

MRS. GEORGE W. JONES.

Mrs. George W. Jones, one of the most prominent women in Millington, died at her home early Wednesday morning after a lingering illness of several years duration, of cancer of the spine, aged 52 years. The deceased had bourn her sufferings with remarkable fortitude, and maintained her interest in her church and community up to the time of her death. She was an active member of Trinity M. E. (South) Church, and when in good health she was one of its most ardent and loyal members. She was devoted to her home and family, and was a charming hostess and sincere friend. She leaves a husband, Mr. George W. Jones, one of the county's most prominent and substantial men; a son, Mr. Jonathan Jones, and one daughter, Miss Lydia Jones. Funeral services will be held from her late home, near Millington, this (Saturday) morning at eleven o'clock, with interment in Millington cemetery.

MR. ROBERT RICHARDSON.

Mr. Robert Richardson, aged 78 years, died at his home, 509 W. 9th street, Wilmington, Del., Oct. 6, 1913, after an illness of some duration. The deceased had been a resident of that city for 38 years, and for thirty years he was employed as a carpenter by the Pennsylvania R. R. Co., and retired 8 years ago. He is survived by his widow and 4 children, Mrs. Geo. Carlisle, Mrs. Clayton Watson, Miss Anna Richardson and Harry L. Richardson. The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, with services at the house. Interment in Wilmington and Brandywine cemetery. Mrs. John A. Dwyer, a niece whom he had often visited, attended the funeral from Kent.

¶The tea given by the M. E. Sunday School in the vacant room in the Lyceumn Theatre building on Thursday evening was a great success socially and financially. The net proceeds were about $60.

Birthday Party.

Mr. and Mrs. William Burris gave a birthday party at their home near Millington Wednesday evening, Oct. 15th, in honor of their son, Linwood's, 21st birthday. The time was pleasantly spent with games and other social amusements. During the course of the evening the guests were invited to the dining room where refreshments consisting of cake, candies, fruits and other dainties were served. Among those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. William Burris, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Hurd, Misses Ethel Burris, Pearl Wallace, Winifred Seamens, Anna Blanchfield, Julia King, May Wallace, Evelyn Seamens, Mary George, Agner King, Sadie George, Agnes Burris, Elsie Burris, Blanche Rousch, Gertrude George, Messrs. Spry Comerford, Albert Comerford, Charlie George, Augustus Davis, Henry George, Irwin Wharton, Charlie Rousch, Linwood Burris, Lester Newnam, William Hollett, Edward Boyd, Robert Newnam, Gilbert Newnam, George Hailey, Nolan Hailey, Roy Jones, William Durham, Herman Wallace, Norman Darrell, Walter Darrell, John Hollett, Harvey Burris, Harry Anthony.

The guests departed at a late hour after offering their heartiest congratulations.

Our Merchants' Interest.

We are unable for lack of space to give individual reference to many of our merchants this week. We ask our readers to read carefully all the advertisements in the paper. They are just as interesting as the reading articles because they give you an insight into the character of our places of business, and also discloses to a very large degree the individuality of our merchants. Read the advertisements.

Four circuses have visited Chestertown this season, and the fifth is coming soon. Hagenbeck-Wallace Great Spectacular Circus and Wild Animal Shows, one of the really big shows of the world, will be shown in motion pictures at the Lyceum Theatre Oct. 23, 24, 25. See advertisement on front page of this paper, and watch for bills for particulars.

Mr. Gebhart, of the Hopkins Tailoring Co., Baltimore, will be at the store of Vansant & Newsome three days next week to assist in their opening for tailored-to-measure clothing for fall and winter. If you've ever worn a Hopkins suit or overcoat you'll want another just as good. They would like you to meet Mr. Gebhart and see the styles and fabrics, even though you are not ready to order. Don't forget the days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 23, 24, 25.

Millington Items.

Mr. Phillip Wood, of Wilmington, Del., was the guest last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Ahern.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday Will Be Opening Days For Hopkins Tailored-to-Measure Clothing.

ON NEXT THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY we're going to give you the same opportunity to get a HOPKINS TAILORED-TO-MEASURE SUIT OR OVERCOAT that you would have were you at Hopkins Tailoring Company's Baltimore headquarters.

On these days we will conduct the Fall and Winter Opening of the Hopkins line.

An expert—from that organization of experts—will be here to show you their enormous line of patterns and materials for the coming season, and to take your measurements for whatever you may need.

When you order a Hopkins Suit or Overcoat you are assured of getting one finished inside and out with every little nicety and detail of design and workmanship that identifies them with men who DO care about their personal appearance.

But, even though you're not ready to order, come anyway. You're sure to decide the kind and style you'll want later.

REMEMBER THE DAYS
Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 23rd, 24th and 25th.
