

The Quickest Way

The shortest and quickest way from farm to town is by telephone. When in doubt about prices, use the telephone; when farm machinery breaks down, order repairs by telephone; when a quick sale is desired, the telephone will aid. In any emergency you'll find the telephone a friend

Every farmer should have Bell telephone service. Have you?

Kennedyville Items.

Rally Day services will be held in the M. P. Church here on Sunday next. The children will have their exercises at 10.30 A. M.; C. E. service at 7 P. M., in charge of the pastor, Rev. Frank S. Cain; at 7.30 Rev. Jas. E. Maloy, who was pastor here 53 years ago, will preach the sermon. All are invited to attend these services.

Quite a few of our people attended the Sunday school convention at Still Pond on Tuesday last, and enjoyed the sessions very much.

Mrs. McKnett, of White Plains, N.Y., is visiting friends of former days in and around Kennedyville.

The W. C. T. U. will, as usual, serve dinner and supper in Weer's Hall on election day, and will be glad to serve their many friends.

Rev. Frank S. Cain attended the convention of young people's work of the Methodist Protestant churches of Maryland in Baltimore last week.

Mr. Tilghman Shafer, wife and daughter, Miss Emma, and Rev. Frank S. Cain attended the debate between Wm. H. Anderson and Lloyd Wilkinson in the Lyric, Baltimore, on Oct. 6th.

On Tuesday we had a sad accident to take place in our village when Mr. Howard Clendaniel, while working in his feed mill got caught in a belt and was thrown over the shafting, falling upon his head, cutting that and crushing the bone in or near the elbow of his right arm. We are glad to report him as getting along as well as could be expected at this time, and we wish for him a speedy recovery.

Miss Annie Weer has been indisposed for the past few days, but is improving.

Mr. Walls seems to be slowly convalescing, while Misses Ruth and Martha are able to be up a part of the day.

Evangelistic Addresses.

To-morrow evening Evangelist L. E. Froom, of Baltimore, will begin a series of Sunday evening addresses at Firemen's Hall. These weekly services will continue throughout the winter. The subjects, Mr. Froom promises, will be live, up-to-date Bible topics, including the thrilling prophecies of Daniel and Revelation. To assist in making the addresses the most helpful and educational specially prepared charts will be used.

The Question Box will be a unique feature in which opportunity will be given all to ask any question pertaining to the Bible.

Solos and duets by the evangelist and Mrs. Froom will be a pleasing feature of the services. They will be recalled in connection with the camp meeting, the choir being under his direction.

The subject for Sunday evening, Oct. 19, is "The Coming of the King of Kings—or the Blasted Hope—a death blow to Modern Delusions."

Government to Help Fish Condition.

Kent countians are interested in a movement looking to the preservation of the fish in the Chesapeak bay, which it is now hoped may be brought about by Federal enactment. A conference was held in Washington the past week at which Governor Goldsborough, representatives of the State of Virginia and Federal officials were present. It has been proposed that the matter be taken up by the Federal Goverment, but it is also held that this is not practical, but that this important question must be settled by the two states bordering on the bay. Virginia controls the borders on both sides of the bay near its mouth, and it has been hoped that one of the best means to adopt to remove conditions which make the catches of fish lighter than in years past in the upper waters of the bay is to have the Federal Gouerment compel the removal of obstructing nets at the mouth of the Chesapeake, in Virginia waters. Virginia, having the big advantage, is loath to pass legislation which will prevent her people from taking the fish before they get up into Maryland waters. Maryland fisherman have long held that the many boats engaged in the taking of fish for fertilizer in the lower waters of the Chesapeake naturally take food fish in their catches, preventing the school from getting up to spawn in the waters of Maryland.

What the Public Library Does.

There are ten reasons for sustaining your public library.

Because it is an essential part of our educational system.

Because it is a school for adults.

Because it is the only school which reaches those who must earn their living while they learn.

Because it directs children and adults to the best literature of all times.

Because it helps workers to do their work better.

Because it furnishes rest and recreation for tired workers.

Because it helps to make intelligent citizens.

Because it makes better men and women.

Because it is more democratic than any other institution in the city.

Because it makes one dollar do the work of many.

No doubt other reasons could be advanced but these are comprehensive and convincing. An institution that does these things is a good one and worthy of public support.

A Smart Pigeon.

A carrier pigeon flew in the window of the office of Mr. C. E. McFrederick, in the Postoffice building in Havre de Grace, on the morning of the 9th ult., and Mr. T. Stanley Vanneman, clerk in Mr. McFrederick's office, fed and cared for the bird for a few hours. Mr. Vanneman wrote a note requesting the owner to notify him of the bird's arrival home, and wrapped the paper tightly to the bird's leg. The pigeon was then liberated, and on Thursday Mr. Vanneman received a letter, with the original note attached, from Milton Pond, of Topeka, Kansas, stating that the bird reached its home in the above named city at 9 o'clock on the morning of September 28. The distance from Havre de Grace to Topeka, via air line, is about 1,100 miles.

Lowers World Record.

Uhlan, the world's champion trotter, owned by C. K. G. Billings, Thursday lowered the world's record for a mile to 1.54¼. Uhlan set the previous record at 1.58 last year. Uhlan was hitched to a running mate.

The champion was driven by Charles Tanner, and was favored with a perfect track and beautiful weather conditions. Trotting in magnificent form, he made the quarters in .28¼, .57½, 1.26¼ 1.54¼. Horse and driver received an ovation at the finish when the crowd realized that a new world's record had been made.

Best-Hated of Farm Tasks

ON the spreaderless farm the thought of the great heaps of manure piling up constantly in barn yards, stables, and stalls, is a gloomy one. Those piles mean much disagreeable and hard work. It must all be loaded on high wagons. It must be raked off in piles in the fields. Then every forkful must be shaken apart and spread.

Compare that old-fashioned method with the I H C spreader way. You pitch the manure into the spreader box, only waist high, drive out and—the machine does all the rest. And it spreads evenly and far less wastefully.

I H C Manure Spreaders are farm necessities. The man who uses one will get the price of it back in increased crops before its newness has worn off.

Every detail and feature counts. They do best work always and stand every strain for years. They are made in all styles and sizes, for small farms and large, low and high machines, frames of braced and trussed steel. Uphill or down, or on the level, the apron drive assures even spreading, and the covering of corners is assured by rear axle differentials. In all styles the rear axle is placed so that it carries near three-fourths of the load. This, with the wide-rimmed wheels with Z-shaped lugs, makes for plenty of tractive power. Winding of the beater is prevented by large diameter and the beater teeth are long, strong and chisel pointed.

The I H C spreader lines will interest you. See them at the local dealer's. Get catalogues from him, or write us.
