MYSTERY-DRAMA AT MET

"THRILLS, CHILLS and suspense are embodied in "Shadow on the Wall," new MGM mystery-drama starring Ann Sothern, Zachary Scott and little Gigi Perreau at the Met screen. It is the story of a murder and its strange solution, revolving around the person of a small girl.

The film engenders suspense in the characterization of a little child whose mind becomes unhinged in the shock of witnessing a crime. The attempt of the murderess to put the child out of the way, and the efforts of a psychiatrist to restore her memory, gives the story its emotional validity and dramatic wallop.

FAMILY DRAMA AT REGENT

"WITH ANN BLYTH, Farley Granger and Joan Evans in the stellar roles, Samuel Goldwyn's "Our Very Own, now at the Regent, presents an appealing story of American family life.

The heroine is the oldest of three girls in a happy family, a high school senior who has no idea that she, unlike her "sisters," is adopted. She learns the truth in a startling way, and her dismayed reactions at the news leads to emotional situations, some of which effect her "steady date."

HEDY LAMARR AT HARLEM

"LADY WITHOUT PASSPORT" teams glamourous Hedy LaMarr (that "Delilah Girl) and John Mcdiak in an adventure-filled love story set against the tropical setting of Cuba and the Florida Everglades, now playing the Harlem.

The plot theme revolves about a smuggling ring which preys on the hopes and fears of aliens anxious to become Americans but lacking the necessary visa permits.

Their plight, both during illegal transportation into the U. S. and after arrival, provides the adventurous background for the romance between Miss Lamarr and Mcdiak.

Little Star at Regent

Gigi Perreau, eight-year-old star, who is a vital witness in a murder case in "Shadow on the Wall," now playing the Regent Theatre. Left the troops on their flanks ex-

Powelton Signs Pearl Bailey

PHILADELPHIA

Pearl Bailey, who will begin an engagement at Powelton Cafe on a Labor Day, was ushered to Hollywood and a long term motion picture contract through rave notices in the Broadway show, "St. Louis Woman" and her best selling Columbia recordings.

Always one of Columbia's top recording artists, Pearl Bailey scored a hit with the waxings of her two songs from the show "A Woman's Perogative" and "Legalize My Name."

"Fifteen Years," "Tired," "That's Good Enough For Me," "Roll, Roll, Roll" and "Get It Off Your Mind" are some of the other discs that have brought Bailey to the top as a stylist.

Pearl's vocalizing of "Huckleback" with 'Hot Lips' Page, on the Harmony label (a subsidiary of Columbia Records), is one of her best successes as is her "Baby, It's Cold outside," also with Page.

Mary Elizabeth Hotel Owner Dies in Fla.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—Dr. W. B. Sawyer, owner of the Mary Elizabeth Hotel in Miami, was buried here on Wednesday beside his mother.

Previously, services had been held in Miami, with leading business and fraternal leaders paying their last tribute.

Returning to this city for the interment, one automobile in the cortege was struck by another vehicle, causing injuries to Dr. Sawyer's sister, Mrs. Gussie Keel, and several other persons.

Johnny Neal Victor Over Philly Amateur

WILMINGTON, Del.—Johnny Neal, local 175-pounder, outpointed Philadelphia's Calvin Wilson in the window bout of an amateur boxing show here last Tuesday night.

Another Philadelphian, Fred Fuller, flattened Wilmington's Leo Jones in the first round of one of the show's two abbreviated 160-pound bouts. Chester's Willie Woodland technically knocked out Joe Schefferson, of this city, in the second round of the other.

Musicians Talk Shop at Luncheon Session

Musicians talk shop during luncheon at Baltimore's Sharp St. Methouist Church where they attended the 27th annual convention which closed its six-day session Friday. Left to right: Theodore Charles Stone, board member and director of publicity, Chicago; Clarence Hayden Wright, national president, St. Louis, and Mrs. Nora Douglas Holt, board member, who founded the National Association of Negro Musicians, Inc., in her Chicago home in 1919.

Guest Soloist

Miss Eloise Dunn of New Orleans, is participating in the annual convention of the National Association of Negro Musicians, meeting in Baltimore, and was guest soloist at Grace Presbyterian Church while here.

noon. His anthem "They That Sow in Tears, Shall Reap in Joy" was sung for the first time by Miss Gloria Harris of Detroit, a scholarship winner.

Monday night was Local Branch Night, and the program participants were members of the Baltimore Music Guild.

Guild Chorus Heard

The Guild Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Lonia Jackson, rendered, "Gratitude To Do With Zeal," by Bach and "America, the Beautiful," by Woods.

Miss Beatrice A. Mayor, violinist, accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Rusk Franklin, selected "Melodie," by Gluck-Kreisler, and "Sernade," by Toselli—Fradkin, as her contribution to the program.

Seechi's, "Lungi Dal Caro Bene," was sung by William C. Brown, in a deep, rich baritone voice. He was accompanied on the piano by W. Sherman Smith.

The highlight of the program was the rendition of "Rhapsody in D Minor," by Federer, with Mesdames Gwendolyn Lassiter and Katrine White at pianos.

Audience Enthalled

A small, but appreciative, audience received the group and were generous with their ovations.

Mrs. Edna Kess Mitchell, leading Baltimore soprano, sang "Honor, Honor," arranged by Hall Johnson, and "Care Selve," by Handel. Music Teacher Florence C. Carter played Schubert's "Impromptu in A Flat" on the piano.

Delegate, 5, Performs

The national junior division and student program concert was held on Tuesday afternoon, with participants from 5 to 13 years of age, who rendered selections both from the old masters and newer composers.

Benelle Giles, 5, of New York, the youngest participant and delegate, displayed no alarm at the piano in front of the huge crowd as she played, "Spiritoso Allegro Opus 38, No. 1," by Clementi.

National Branch Night was celebrated on Wednesday, with Nora Douglas Holt presiding.

Philadelphia Group Featured

Philadelphia was represented by the Spurlock Choir, under the direction of Lessie Spurlock and accompanied by Louise Hollis. Mary F. Demby, soprano, also sang.

"The Thomas Composers Study Group," under the direction of Blanche K. Thomas and Fred Thomas, baritone, came from New York.

Beautiful Coletta Warren, whose equally beautiful voice was heard in "Caro Nome," from Verdi's "Rigoletto," represented Washington. In a lighter vein she rendered "Lucy's Aria—The Telephone," by Menotti.

Blind Violinist Plays

Alphonso Butler, blind violinist of Baltimore, played "Third Varie—On a Theme by Bellini—Opus 89 No. 3," by Charles Dancla. He was accompanied by Mrs. Gwendolyn Lassiter.

Miss Jeanne Alma Jackson, contralto, who was scheduled for the scholarship contest Sunday night, but was unable to appear because her piane was grounded, represented Los Angeles.

Certificates Awarded

During the new talent contest winners' program Wednesday night the national board awarded certificates for meritorious service in the field of music to the community to the following members of the Baltimore Music Guild:

Mesdames Alma Thomas, Margaret R. Franklin, Katrine White, Veola Colemhn, Carrie Carcill, Georgia Chambliss, Frances Watkins, Goldie Green, Mildred Bryant, Abia Jackson.

A. Jack Thomas, Luther Mitchell, W. Sherman Smith and Charles Parker.

Medals Given Trio

Bronze medals were awarded Mesdames Veola Coleman, Margaret R. Fraklin and A. Jack Tho-

Collection Interrupts Baltimore Chorale at Convention Here

The only unpleasant incident at the annual convention of the National Association of Negro Musicians occurred Wednesday night when the Baltimore Chorale was interrupted during its program for a collection.

Clarence H. Wilson, national president, told the AFRO: "I take full responsibility for the incident. But no insult was intended, it was just a matter of crying to expedite matters."

J. Wesley Jones, executive secretary of the association who lifted the collection, declared: "I was quite embarrassed, but I thought the group had finished singing. I know they were so sing only three numbers and they had sung four."

Gerald Burks Wilson, director of the Baltimore Chorale, asserted: "I was asked to present a 15-minute program, but we were not told about the change in program until five minutes before concert time. As artists we were not accorded due courtesy."

Concords and Discords

By W. LLEWELLYN WILSON

Music plays an important part in modern worship, in all types and forms of religious ceremonies.

For many centuries it has been an integral portion of liturgical and rituals in churches of various denominations.

Some of the music in churches are designed to enlarge the spiritual concepts in order that the spirit might be free to meditate on God. Other church music is designed to stir the physical portion of man's being to a high pitch of emotional excitement.

Signs of Belief

Among believers of the latter type, very often, some worshippers believe that violent, bodily rhythm reaction is the true and only measuring rod for real service to the Triune Creator.

Since it is the inherent right of any person to worship God as he sees fit, it is not befitting to criticize one as to his individual worship to his creator.

However, in latter years, there has developed a type of musical program, a barbaric form, which smacks of the type of music which was practiced by the followers of Baal, an ancient heathen god, whose devotees vainly sought his help by much loud and savage yelling.

Condemnation Failed

On one occasion, Baal's followers attempted to destroy an ancient prophet, Elijah, by loud and barbaric invectives, but the attempt failed.

These latter day "Saints," who have descended upon many of our urban communities attract many followers and these religious leaders, in many instances, flourish as a green bay tree for a reason.

Perhaps, in these days, such leaders have found it "profitable" to combine the methods of Baal in their service to the true and living God.

We have no quarrel with those who worship such a loud voice. Let us hope that their sincerity for God-like action in life is commensurate with their religious fervor.

KISSES GRAND SECRETARY:

Arizona Girl Wins Elks' Beauty Contest

BY STAFF CORRESPONDENT

CHICAGO — A sixteen-year-old charmer from Phoenix, Ariz., Betty Lou Conley, took down the $500 first prize in the annual bathing beauty contest, midweek feature of the Elk's convention here, Wednesday night.

Second prize of $100 went to Miss Ruby Grant of Xenia, O., while the $50 third prize was awarded Miss Geraldine Archie of Milwaukee.

The three winners were survivors of a three hour parade by 13 contestants, hailing from 11 different States of the union.

Everyone Satisfied

And although the long deliberation on the part of the judges plainly irked the jam-packed Great Lakes hall, the decision when finally announced was greeted with wild applause and cheering.

When she heard the announcement, Miss Conley broke into a broad grin, threw her arms around the neck of Grand Lodge Secretary James E. Kelley, and embraced him as tears welled up in her eyes.

Tosses Kisses to Spectators

When she had recovered her composure, the pretty winner tossed kisses to the audience, and put on her most infectious smile for the host of news photographers who stormed the platform.

Misses Grant and Archie, bearing their disappointment calmly, waited patiently for their bouquets then posed with the winner and Elk officials for pictures.

A graduate of Lincoln High School, Kansas City, Mo., last year, Miss Conley won the Arizona State beauty contest to qualify for the Grand Lodge event here.

A Delicate Lass

Five feet three inches tall, she weighs 102 pounds and possesses tremendous personality.

Miss Grant, built along slender lines is five feet, seven inches tall, weighs 112 pounds and is 19 years of age.

Third place winner, Miss Archie, five feet four, weighs 110 pounds and is 20 years old.

Others in Contest

Participating in the contest in addition to the three money winners were the following:

Miss Eleanor Willings of Port Arthur, Tex., Miss Geraldine Dukes of Flint, Mich.; Miss June Scott of Pittsburgh, Miss Hosetta Johnson of East Orange, N.J.; Mrs. Thurna Newsom of Detroit.

Miss Willa Hubert of Nashville, W. Va., Miss Bernice Richardson of Miss Daisy Craig of Chicago, Miss Chicago, and Miss Frances Gaines Serena Strothers of Williamson, of Waycross, Ga.
