In Balto. Churches

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the Washington Methodist Conference held its third annual week-end conference at Storer College, Harper's Ferry, Aug. 25-27.

Represented at this conference were 45 delegates from 11 churches of the Washington Conference. There were also visitors from various churches in the city. The theme of the session was "The Power Of Prayer".

The session was opened with Mrs. Henrietta Douglass, conference treasurer, as guest speaker. Others on the program were Mrs. Wallace M. Streeter, vice-president of the Baltimore Conference WSCS; who talked on "The Power Of Prayer"; and Mrs. Maude Williams, West Baltimore District secretary.

Increased Budget Asked

Emphasis was placed on prompt financial reports and the appeal for an increased budget by Mrs. Edna J. Howard, North Baltimore District secretary; and Mrs. Callie Nelson, Washington District secretary.

Highlights of the session was skit a "How The Guild Dollar Is Spent," presented by the Guilders, under the leadership of Mrs. Gladys Baird, president of East Hoffman St. Guild, Baltimore. Films were shown under the leadership of Mrs. Juanita Hill, conference secretary.

An impressive sunrise service was held on Sunday morning, with Mrs. Maude Williams as the leader.
