Shipping by Mail at Hutzler's Baltimore.

Whatever the woman writes for is selected by a woman! And this one is especially trained to select merchandise with peculiar aptness, to read between the letter's sentence the personality of its writer and her probable preference; it is not exaggeration to say that her knowledge, gained from daily experience, is superior to that of the writer herself, an advantage which her city-sister is without! Perhaps the most important qualification of a store which supports a mail-order section is reliability. Selections may be carefully made, delivery of the promptest; but if there is not back of that store a KNOWN reputation for dependability—The Hutzler store is in personal touch with the fashion authorities of New York and Paris, as well as the best of English houses; and its materials, trimmings, and all merchandise is received by its customers with the satisfying knowledge of their authority. The most important point to The Hutzler Stors is customer satisfaction.

The Youth's Compaion In 1914.

Seven college presidents and a number of college instructors, including ex-President Taft, will contribute to the Youth's Companion during 1914.

Then there is Gene Stratten, whose stories of Indiana woods and swamps have made her famous, and Kate Douglas Wiggin, who never wrote a dull line in her life, and Burton Harrison, who remembers when conversation was really an art as practiced in Washington and in the manor houses of Virginia. And this is just a beginning of the list.

If you know The Companion, you have a pretty clear ideas of what is in store for next year's readers. If you do not know, ask us to send you sample copies —for instance, those containing the opening chapters of Arthur Stanwood Pier's fine serial—"His Father's Son." Full Announcement for 1914 will be sent with the sample copies.
