Gadabouting in Baltimore

Farewell Party Staged by Departing 231st Unit

By Lula Jones Garrett

(Column this week is written by Miss Odessa Wilson, pinchhitting for Mrs. Garrett, who is ill.)

The officers of the 231st Transportation Truck Battalion held forth with a gala dinner party for their wives and sweethearts last Friday evening in the Blue Room of the York Hotel before their departure to serve with the armed Uncle Sam this week.

After dinner, the floor was cleared for dancing. Added attractions were entertainment from the piano by Capt. Melvin Cade, WOJG Earl W. Jackson and Mrs. Vinessa Porter.

At the close of the evening, the officers formed a circle and sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" which left the gals misty eyed. Not to be outdone, however, the gals quickly perked up and gave out with "I'll Be Loving You Always."

The party then departed for the home of CWO and Mrs. John Holt for more fun which lasted until the wee-wee hours. About were:

Col. and Mrs. Vernon L. Greene, Capt. and Mrs. S. Anthony Porter, Capt. and Mrs. Melvin Cade, Capt. and Mrs. Bedford Bentley, Capt. and Mrs. E. Walter Shervington;

Capt. and Mrs. Harold Arnold, Capt. and Mrs. Lester Hudgins, Lt. and Mrs. Joseph Bracey, Lt. and Mrs. Lewis Bryan, Lt. and Mrs. George P. Dawson, Lt. and Mrs. William A. Harris, Lt. and Mrs. Roland Rogers;

Lt. and Mrs. W. Emerson Brown, Lt. and Mrs. Benjamin Crawford, Lt. Lorenzo Felder, Lt. Nathaniel Young, Lt. and Mrs. Morris Brooks, CWO and Mrs. W. E. Armstead, CWO and Mrs. John Holt, WOJG and Mrs. Earl W. Jackson, WOJG and Mrs. Thomas Owens, Miss Norma Lewis and Miss Orienne Cruthchfield.

MISS THORTON WED

Miss Joyce L. Thornton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh S. Thornton of Chicago, became the bride of Edward N. Wilson Jr. last Saturday at the Trinity Episcopal Church in Iowa City, Iowa.

The new Mrs. Wilson, who had as her attendant, Mrs. Gloria M. Tuggle, is a clerk-typist in the registrar's office at the University of Iowa. The ceremony was performed by Father Harold F. McGee.

Mr. Wilson holds an A.B. degree from the University and plans to work on his master's degree there this fall. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Wilson Sr. of Baltimore. Mr. Wilson, registrar at Morgan State College, was best man for his son.

A bridal dinner followed the ceremony at the Jefferson Hotel in Iowa City. Mrs. Mary W. Law and son, J. Roland Law, were guests from this city.

KEEPS SAME NAME

On the same day, Miss Beatrice Brown, daughter of Harvey Brown of Ridgely, Md., became Mrs. Henry L. Brown. The bridegroom is a native of Boston. Both wore navy blue nuptial outfits. Elder J. W. Henry performed the ceremony at the home of the bride.

Attending were Granville and Cornelius Brown, Hattie W. and William J. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. William Stanford, Mrs. Maggie Holmes, Mrs. Ida Gross and Mrs. Emma W. Ore.

COLD-SHOULDERED BY CABBIES:

Miss Turnes Second Woman Taxi Driver

Baltimore received its second colored woman taxi driver this week when the Public Service Commission issued a permit to 29-year-old Miss Rosie Lee Turnes.

Miss Turnes hails from Louisiana, but has been a resident here for three years. She drove a cab for a year and a half in her home town, Leesville.

A graduate of Leesville High School she has served as cafeteria manager of two establishments and at Camp Polk in Louisiana.

New Known as "Relief Man"

Miss Turnes has filed applications with several cab companies and has been given much encouragement. However, she says she isn't getting the break or encouragement she expected from her own cabbies.

On Sunday, she used the cab of a white GI, who was off for the day. Several other cabbies could have let her take over their cabs when they are off duty, but they seemingly resent her, she said. She is at present what is known as "relief man." She hopes to be assigned to a regular cab soon.

The first female colored taxi driver was Mrs. Mabel Dudley, 27-year-old widow of a World War II veteran, who with the aid of the GI Veterans' Cab Association, had her husband's permit reissued in her name.

Harry Dudley, the GI, had his cab delivered to him four months before his death, in 1947, and was able to drive it only three times. He asked his wife to promise that she would not let the cab get away from her, if anything happened to him.

She kept this promise, but illness prevented her from driving at once. However a GI buddy kept the cab on the street in the name of Dudley.

D.C. Matron Given Baby Shower Here

A baby shower was given for Mrs. Carolyn Buford of Washington last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Bernice Spruill, 1508 Smallwood St. Pink and blue ribbon sandwiches supplemented the decorations.

Attending were:

Misses Aurora Chambers, Helen Hill, Mary Carter, Edith Brown, Vera Flint, French Roberts, Carrie Peal.

Alma Gray, Florence Dennis, Bernice White, Annie Dorsey, Ruth Marshall and Alice Fauntleroy.

IDEAL — The social and charity club met last Tuesday at 728 George St. Plans were completed for their fall supper on Oct. 8 at the Elks Home.

Mrs. Claretta Costello is chairman and Morris Bacon, co-chairman. Louis Costello is club president.
