JORDAN DREAMS

NEW YORK (CNS) — Louis Jordan, the man who dreams up some of the most novel ideas in showbusiness, had all Broadway buzzing at his Bop City opening when he and the boys appeared on stage wearing their exclusively-designed new "Bop City suits." Known for their fabulous outfits, this time the Jordan crew outdid themselves. They were donned in mint green trousers with sleeveless jackets to match and shantung long-sleeved shirts of tan, spiked with huge black polka dots.

This clothes business always been a major one to Jordan. He loves loud, mad colors, prints and flowers, the more glaring the better. He was wearing silk print shorts which could match the best of the Miami Beach crowd, 10 years ago.

He was the first to combine lavender and aqua in harmonizing colors. And it takes a rare taste and flair in artistry to find something new and different and yet, compliment all the boys in the band.

For street wear, he thinks nothing of a tailor made red print shirt which he says-are given to "all us fellers who can scrape together $20." This goes with a $200 suit, made to cleverly hide an approaching life begins at 40 spread around the middle and a pair of alligator shoes which even Billy Eckstine (an alligator shoe fanatic) would envy.

'First Run' Films of the Week in Review

DESTINATION MOON — THRILL EPIC, AT MET

The Technicolor drama, "Destination Moon," currently at the Met, tells of man's first successful trip in a rocket ship to the moon. The first interplanetary voyage was made in 46 hours traveling at the rate of seven miles per second.

Cast of the film includes John Archer, Warner Anderson, Tom Powers, Dick Wesson and Erin O'Brien Moore.

The film is full of awesome and puzzling effects as it discloses mankind's greatest adventure, while some scientists maintain that the conquest of the moon may become essential to America's future.

SCOPE OF 'BLACK ROSE' MAKES IT GREAT MOVIE

Sweep and style that bedazzle the eye and stagger the imagination distinguish the Regent Theatre's current attraction, "The Black Rose," as one of the screen's all-time greats.

It's a lusty adventure story that takes a bowman and a scholar to far off lands in the service of a conqueror. The top stars are Tyrone Power, Orson Wells and Cecile Aubry.

Power plays the role of the adventurous young scholar; Welles plays the fierce Mongol conqueror; Bayan, while Miss Aubrey is the Black Rose. Two years and $700,000 were spent by 20th Century-Fox to make the film.

'FLAME AND THE ARROW' NOW PLAYING ROYAL

"The Flame and the Arrow," long-heralded and awaited, is currently playing the Royal along with "Perfect Strangers."

Starring Burt Lancaster and Virginia Mayo, "Flame and the Arrow," filmed in Technicolor, is a story of medieval Italy revolving around the historical episode when the mountain men of Lombardy rose up under the daring leadership of Dardo and fought the Hessians, who were seeking to ruin their country.

Against such a background, the story projects the romance which takes place between the leader of the rugged Lombardians and the Royal Anne of Hesse.

LENA HORNE IN 'DUCHESS OF IDAHO' AT HARLEM

There is such a wealth of entertainment value in "Duchess of Idaho" at the Harlem that it is difficult to sort the wheat from the chaff. But, you can bet that ranks high singing the infectious "Baby, Come Out of the Clouds."

This film has just about everything the movie-goer can ask for. There are Van Johnson, Esther Williams, Eleanor Powell, John Lund, and other top stars among the glittering array of talent.

It's the story of a girl who sets out to capture a man, not for herself, but her best friend. The second feature, "Raiders of the Desert," co-stars Turhan Bey and lovely Maria Montez.

Concords and Discords

By W. LLEWELLYN WILSON

Among local boys who have made enviable records as pianists in the field of popular entertainment are Howard Church and his brother.

These young musicians, before launching forth as professional performers, first prepared themselves by thoroughly studying their chosen instrument.

They further augmented their musical education through the study of harmony, counterpoint and other kindred theoretical branches.

Many of our local musicians are highly gifted in the ability to write original arrangements of popular songs which they sell to top-ranking bands. Some even compose and arrange original melodies which they use in their programs.

Rivers Chambers, a talented and versatile musician, has achieved eminent success in this area as a developer of popular dance and entertainment musicians.

The late William (Buddy) Miller was one of our most gifted arrangers of popular music. Mr. Miller was a pupil of his father, William Miller Sr., and young Miller's sister, Almira, a local organist, and a teacher of music in the Baltimore public school system.

Many of the ranking bands still playing professionally here, are at present using selections which were arranged for orchestra by the late young Mr. Miller.

September brings the return of the public school activities. Within the past two years there has been quite an expansion of the school music program.

In our high schools, the music staffs has been enlarged and classes added. On a part-time basis, full-time instrumental teachers have been appointed. Bands have been developed and it has been planned this year to develop string classes on a larger scale in order that orchestral ensembles might be fully established.
