The Chautauqua Guarantors Approve of These Entertainments.

The winter Chautauqua series of entertainments begin on Saturday, Nov. 15th. The first one is "The Ethel Batting Co.," at Firemen's Hall, which consists of Ethel Batting, entertainer, and Helen Reed, harpist. The Hagerstown morning Herald says: The exquisite playing of Miss Reed on the harp called forth repeated encores. Wherever she has appeared Miss Reed has won the most hearty praise from both press and public. She is conceded to be the most successful woman harpist now before the public. Miss Ethel Batting is also a general favorite. She delighted her audience with her stories monologues and an irresistable humor characterize her work.

The Washington Post says: "Miss Ethel Batting, the Monologuist, is an artist and one worth going a long distance to hear. Her wit, humor and imitations are refined and she delighted and entertained her audience. Those who want to hear a genuine artist should not fail to see and hear Miss Batting. Everyone should have the pleasure and profit of attending these four high-class entertainments given solely to continue the Chautauqua spirit during the winter. You can only secure season tickets this week for the small sum of one dollar. All tickets after Saturday, November 15, will be thirty-five cents each. On sale at Stam's Drug Store.

Grange Notes.

Ceres day was celebrated at Fairlee Grange last Wednesday evening. Mrs. Frank Crow, Ceres of the grange, had charge of the program, and the decorations were beautiful, and consisted of corn and many things made from corn. It was, indeed, well done. The Garner, edited by Mrs. E. A. Corey, was replete with wisdom and pleasantry, and read in an acceptable manner. The grange choir sang several good selections. Solos by Miss Kattie Kendall, Mrs. Geo. Hatcherson and Mr. Frank Crow, were features of the meeting; also an original reading by Mr. Stockton Startt. Mrs. Walter Fletcher gave a selection in German dialect and pleased everyone, as did the recitation by little Mildred Fletcher. Mrs. Anderson read "Heap High the Golden Corn."

An interesting and well-attended meeting of the Pomona Grange was held in Kennedyville Grange Hall on Thursday. Among the many interesting discussions was one concerning the inauguration of a Summer Agricultural Chautauqua. This proposition should meet with the hearty indorsement of all grangers, as it is in line with all progressive movements, and will furnish a most excellent opportunity for our grangers to hear questions of vital importance discussed.

Pomona Items.

Mr. Louis F. Newsome, while gunning with friends, was accidentally shot in the knees, but proved not to be very serious, but is unable to walk at this writing.

Diptheria in a mild form is reported among the colored inhabitants near Mr. George Hadaway's store. The colored school is closed, also the white school taught by Miss Myra Wheat.

Revival services are still in progress at Bond M. E. Church and have had several conversions this week. The pastor has been assisted by Capt. A. A. Price. Services Sunday as follows: Sunday school, 9.30 A. M.; preaching by Capt. A. A. Price 10.45 A. M. and 7.45 P. M. Services at Mowbray 2.45 P. M., conducted by Capt. Price.

With his hunting hound guarding his baby and howling mournfully, Chas. E. Clough, a farmer, was found dead on Tuesday in a thicket near Barclay, Queen Annes county. He had accidentally shot and killed himself. The 7-year-old son of the deceased passed along the road only a few yards from where his father was lying. The lad saw the dog, but paid no attention to him. When the father failed to return at night, the wife, who was the last to see him alive, became hysterical, and in the morning the son led her to the spot where he had seen the dog. There the body was found, and the faithful dog resisted the efforts to lift the body and bear it home.

Capt. John Kirwan, of the Tolchester Company's steamer Susquehanna rescued eight men from a burning launch in the Susquehanna river at sunrise on Tuesday morning. The fire in the launch was caused by the "backfiring" of the engine. The rescue was made just in the nick of time, as the fire had nearly reached the men who were huddled together in a small space in the stern of the launch. Capt. Kirwan has rescued at leased 36 lives in his career as a Cheaspeake Bay mariner.

What is considered a record ear of corn was exhibited at Newark, Del., last week. It was 14 inches long, weighed two pounds and eight ounces and contained 1100 grains of corn that measured one quart and a half pint. The ear came from the Drennam farm at Greenleaf, Pa., and was brought to Newark by John Poole, an engineer on the New York and Pomeroy Railroad.
