Baltimore's 231st Transportation Truck Battalion Gets Rousing Send-Off to Camp

Troops of the 231st Transportation Truck Battalion, Maryland's first National Guard unit called to active duty, lean eagerly from train windows to get that last look, touch or kiss before the train pulls out, taking them to training camp and possibly to war. Some of the relatives followed the 10-car train as it pulled out of the Pennsylvania Station produce terminal yards.

Schools to Be More Crowded

school year is over, was expressed.

Plenty Grade School Teachers

Despite the overflow of pupils in the elementary grades, there is no teacher shortage in that group.

Because of transfers and Army inductions, there is a shortage in secondary school teachers and special substitutes will be used until vacancies can be properly filled, the superintendent pointed out.

Special substitutes will hold the positions left by teachers entering military service.

No Shifts at Dunbar

According to Houston R. Jackson, principal, Dunbar High School is expecting 458 new pupils from elementary schools and 120 from parochial and out-of-State institutions.

With the new building completed, the 3,000 Dunbar pupils will attend classes in one shift this term.

The principal asks that pupils, except the new 7B's, report to their old home rooms at 8:30 a.m. on Wednesday to meet their old home room teachers.

All new 7B pupils will report to the cafeteria. All pupils who have not registered will meet the counselors in Room 106.

New Faculty Additions

New faculty additions at Dunbar will be:

Commercial: Mrs. Irene Carter and Miss Phyliss Wallace; English, Mesdames Consuella Saunders, Ardella Keith and Thelma Cox; vocational guidance, Mrs. Ethel Hucles; home economics, Mrs. Gladys Reed; Industrial arts, Durgie Lawson, Cephas Rawlings and Dudley Henry; mathematics, Waverly Hendricks; music—Mrs. Lucille Marcus and Miss Zenoria Williams; science, Mrs. Ruby Taylor; physical education, Miss Alma Taylor; art Walthall Berry.

Of the 32 portable classrooms expected to be utilized throughout the city, four will be at Samuel Coleridge Taylor; three, at School No. 113; four at School No. 112-A; and four at the Cherry Hill Elementary School.

Extra-Size Classrooms

The classrooms, all built on concrete foundations, measure 24 by 38 ft., which is one foot wider and four feet longer than regular classrooms.

They have hardwood floors, flourescent lights, standard walls and ceilings. They will be heated from gas furnaces (hot air fan system) not connected with the central heating system.

Two Men Accused in Narcotics Case

Charged with possession of 19 marijuana cigarettes, two men were held under $500 bail each for grand jury action, Tuesday, in Northwestern police court.

The pair, Freddie Brown, 25, of the 2100 block Walbrook Ave., and Alfred Weber, 26, of the 400 block Robert St., were arrested by Officers Jacob Simonson and Kenneth Vaught who said a package with 17 cigarettes was found on the ground behind the men.

A moment earlier, Officer Vaught said, Weber dropped a package which was found to contain another two cigarettes, and Brown was found to be carrying two more.

Man Held in $1000 Bail on Lottery Count

A 43-year-old man was held in $1000 bail for grand jury action on Wednesday, after a hearing on a lottery charge in Northeastern police court.

He is Clarence Robinson of the 1200 block E. Fayette St. A lottery charge against Paul Brent, 48, of the 1400 block School St. was dismissed.

Both arrests were made by a vice squad led by Sgt. Wade Poole.

Making Sure Everything's Ship-Shape

Send-Off Given 231st

sought desperately to prevent civilians from joining the formations to bid their soldiers farewell.

No Thrill to Seasoned Men

Most of the GI's, being new soldiers, were smiling and thrilled at his new adventure. The officers and battle-seasoned non-coms, however, bore more serious expressions.

A large part of the send-off crowd consisted of small children who clung tightly to their khaki-clad father until the final "all in" was given.

Commander Given 'Big Hug'

Five-year-old Patricia Green, daughter of the battalion's commanding officer, smiled broadly for photographers as she gave her father "a big hug" just before the train moved out.

The battalion consists of the following companies: a headquarters company commanded by Capt. Lester C. Hudgins; 726th Truck Company commanded by Capt. Bedford T. Bentley; 165th Truck Co. commanded by Capt. James H. Gillam; and the 147th Truck Company commanded by Capt. Melvin H. Cade.

A Rocket Ship to the Moon

Men of the 231st Transportation Truck Battalion of the Maryland National Guard, are getting set to leave Baltimore Wednesday, for service at Camp Edwards, Mass. These members of the unit's administrative personnel department are Recruit Richard Dawson; Chief Warrant Officer John S. Holt, personnel administrator, (standing); Sgt. Paul Baytop, assistant personnel officer; M Sgt. Thomas Randall, personnel sergeant; and Recruits Addison Williams and Ernest Bland.

South Balto. Notes

The Congenial Savings Club met, Wednesday, at the home of Mrs. Roselee Bradley, 423 Aisquith St. and planned a bus excursion to Coney Island for Labor Day.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Mattie Jefferson, 528 W. Barre St. Mrs. Elizabeth Lee is president, and Miss Annie Chester, vice-president.

A local unit of the National Council for Negro Women met recently at the residence of Mrs. Sarah J. Bundy in Cherry Hill.

Addressed by Mrs. Welcome

Mrs. Verda Welcome, Baltimore regional director of the NCNW, was guest speaker. She suggested that the group sponsor a grand mother popularity contest in the Cherry Hill area on Sept. 24.

Plans were also made for a membership drive to be handed by Mrs. Emma Keys. Mrs. Annie B. Chapman is chairman if the popularity contest.

Officers are Mrs. Bundy, president; Mrs. Jennie Butler, vice-president; Mrs. Airetta Ames, recording secretary; Mrs. Dorothy Thaxton, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Chapman, assistant; Mrs. Keys, parliamentarian, and Mrs. Nannie Gibbs, chaplain.

Grandmothers entered in the contest are Mesdames Ruth Webster, Eva Bond, Hazel Lewis, Emma Keys and Mrs. Nannie Gibbs.

Singing Group on Vacation

The Baltimore Singers and the Baltimore Chorale had their final rehearsals this week and are now on vacation until Sept. 17.

Gerald Burks Wilson, conductor of the singing organizations, will spend his vacation on Saltern, Va., visiting relatives and friends.

G. Bernard Young is business manager for the groups; Randolph Tate, president and G. W. E. Hill, publicity chairman.

Mrs. Lenore Spence, Southside beautician, will spend next week in Philadelphia visiting Mrs. Ann Garland of 637 n. 40th St.

Mrs. Lillian Coles, another Southside beautician, will spend the week end in Conway, N. C., where she will attend her father's funeral.

The Church Aide Society of Star of Bethlehem AME Church will sponsor a week-end garden party at 2613 Puget St., the residence of Mrs. Tribily Wicks, Sept. 1 and 2.

Seafood Supper Planned

Mrs. Wicks is chairman of the society, Mrs. Charlotte Hill, secretary. The Rev. W. R. Chew is pastor of the church.

The Youth Group of Star of Bethlehem Church is sponsoring a seafood supper, Saturday, at the home of Mrs. Walter Hill, 2617 Forester Ave. Proceeds will be for benefit of the fall church rally.

The sponsoring committee includes Mrs. Mamie Hill, chairman, Mesdames Ernestine Christian and Grace H. Hines, and Roland Christian.

The New First Baptist Church of Mount Winans observed its second anniversary Sunday. Mrs. Celestine Rose was chairman of the program. The Rev. H. S. Moore is pastor.

Southside Personality

Cpl. Melvin Mason, now serving his second three-year hitch in the Army, is this week's personality choice.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mason of 616 W. Barre St. Corporal Mason enjoys serving in the Army and at one time was stationed in Japan.
