Our Merchants' Interest.

Read M. Kramer's half page advertisement on page 7, and see what he is offering this week in his big selling-out sale in Rock Hall. Fine chance to get big bargains and sell your eggs for 42 cents a dozen.

Black's wise merchant, B. S. Sutton, is making a specialty of salt this week. But you get any quantity of other big bargains there, and he is paying highest market price for eggs again this week.

Read Medders' & Co's. full page advertisement on page 8. He has "Stove News" for you this week, but you will find several columns of other interesting "News". Read it. It will pay you, and you will gain money by it.

Clarence Thompson, Rock Hall's exclusive shoe man, has an attractive advertisement on page 1. Mr. Thompson's shoes' fame has reached all over the county and they have a splendid reputation for comfort, wear and durability. A pair of shoes will make a splendid Christmas present.

If you are needing a new suit or overcoat for Thanksgiving, Brown Bros. can fix you up in the latest models of standard makes. Brown Bros. carry the same make of clothes that are the leaders in the Hub, and several other big stores in the city. So why go to Baltimore for a suit when Brown Bros. can fix you up in a nobby Kuppenheimer suit or overcoat?

We call the attention of our readers to the big advertisement of W. R. Brice & Co., one of the oldest and most reliable poultry houses in Philadelphia. This firm enjoys an immense trade on account of its reliability, and they ask for a share of the patronage from Kent and Queen Anne counties. They quote you the highest market prices on all kinds of poultry and eggs. Give them a trial. The firm's representative, Mr. H. W. Davis, has been in the county during the week looking after the firm's interests, and he has been cordially received, and has met with success.

Does it Pay to Advertise?

If any one had declared four years ago that the time would come when a retail merchant would insert an 8 PAGE advertisement one time in order to attract business, he would have been considered foolish. Yet that is exactly what Brager, one of Baltimore's big department store proprietors did in the last Sunday issue of the Baltimore American. And he did it in order to get more business. The great city merchants have realized the fact that in these times of high prices, the people are studying their interests and are learning through the newspaper advertisement when to any advantage. The people have been educated to buy where they can buy to best advantage, and they have learned this through newspaper advertising. The shrewd merchant has noted this change in the attitude of the purchasing public, and he is using the newspaper to tell the people what he has to sell and how much he will take for it. Do you suppose Brager would invest his money in an 8 PAGE advertisement in a large city paper, if he did not believe it would pay him? Mr. Brager's venture is the best argument in the world against the merchant who says advertising don't pay.
