Churchmen Buy Credit Charter to Aid Borrowers

"To avoid the exploitation of our people by the usurious money lenders" was the reason stated by the Rev. Wilbur Waters for the recent purchase of a Federal Credit Union Charter by the Men's Advisory Board of Emmanuel Christian Community Church.

Without using any of the church funds, the men accumulated the money for the charter through an individual savings plan, according to the Rev. Mr. Waters, pastor of the church at W. Lanvale St. and N. Carrollton Ave.

The Federal Credit Union Charter is the latest forward advance made by the Men's Advisory Council in support of the church goal "to serve Christ by serving mankind."

Set Up 4 Years Ago

Established four years ago to activate the men in the church, the Council has been particularly effective in aiding Emmanuel's youth program.

More than 200 children were brought into the Sunday School as the result of a neighborhood survey directed towards people without a church affiliation.

The bulk of the increased Sunday School membership was obtained by the children themselves. An underprivileged lad, who had just joined the Sunday School himself, was responsible for the enrollment of 29 others.

Youthful Superintendent

A novel aspect of the Sunday School's recent up youth is that a 20-year-old student at Coppin Teachers College, James Campbell, is the superintendent for the past three years.

Under the direction of John E. Hill, Jr., president, the Council recently launched an audio-visual program by purchasing a movie projector. A series of films with biblical subjects have been shown. Plans have been made by the Council, according to the Rev. Mr. Waters, to obtain a site within a eight-block radius of the church for the purpose of building a playground.

VIRGINIA LEADER BURIED:
30-Minute Rites Held for Dr. Leon A. Reid
RICHMOND
Hundreds of persons surrounded the grave in Woodland Cemetery Thursday morning as brief, informal burial rites were conducted for Dr. Leon A. Reid, dentist, civic and political leader.
There was no formal funeral sermon, but a brief eulogy was delivered by Dr. W. L. Ransome, pastor of First Baptist Church and president of the Richmond Civic Council, civic-political organization of which Dr. Reid was vice-president.
Following Dr. Ransome's talk, which lasted approximately 10 minutes, the Rev. Aston Hamilton, rector of St. Philip PE Church, gave the closing remarks and pronounced the benediction as friends and admirers continued to arrive at the cemetery.
Half-Hour Rites Set Record
The brief services, from the time the funeral procession left the Reid home at 110 E. Leigh St. until the close of the rites by Dr. Hamilton, consumed less than 30 minutes. The record-breaking funeral—from a time standpoint—was handled by C. P. Hayes, funeral director.
Dr. Reid, who had been in ill health for some time, had spent approximately two months in Freedman's Hospital in Washington prior to returning to his home here several weeks ago. He had shown signs of improvement, but succumbed on Tuesday, Aug. 29.
His wife, the former Miss Minnie Ferguson, who survives him, had been his nurse, attendant and comforter throughout the long months of his illness. He had been sitting up in his room occasionally for several days and had died so on the day of his death.
Born in Portsmouth, Dr. Reid, 57, was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William M. Reid. He was educated in the public schools there, including Corey Memorial Institute, and at Howard University. He had been practicing here since 1915. He married Miss Ferguson the same year.
Survivors, in addition to his wife, are one daughter, the former Alice Reid, wife of Dr. W. C. Calloway, surgeon; Leon A. Jr., dentist who was associated with his father; and Ferguson, a physician, and a brother, Thomas H. Reid, Portsmouth attorney.
Four grandchildren and other relatives also survive.
In addition to his civic and political activities, Dr. Reid, a free thinker, also was active in business and fraternal circles. He was a heavy stockholder and board member in the Consolidated Bank and Trust Company and a member of the board of the Binga Community Center, and of Asteria Beneficial Club and William Lodge of Elks.
Only last winter, he was cited as the Richmond AFRO's 1949 Honor Roll for his "unselfishness in taking time out from his lucrative practice to give unstinted leadership to civic causes—have affected the status of our citizens not only in Richmond but throughout Virginia."
"Not only has he given liberally of his time and energy, but of his financial means to these and other causes. He was one of the prime movers and financial backers in the drive which increased the number of registered voters in the State from approximately 30,000 to 60,000."

Mother, 22, Drowns in Patapsco River

A 22-year-old mother of two children was drowned Sunday while bathing in the Patapsco River in Fairfield.

Mrs. Irene Green of 642 W. Conway St., was pronounced dead at 3 p.m. after she was dragged from the water by David Chessedora of the 800 block S. Fremont Ave. police said.

Patrolman Joseph W. Hargedon reported that he was told that Mrs. Green, bathing in the river, suddenly disappeared. Chessedora, it was said, got her out of the water about 10 or 15 minutes later.

Artificial respiration efforts by the city ambulance crew proved futile.

The body was claimed from the morgue by the victim's mother, Mrs. Alice Smith of the 600 block Cornell St.

'Book Thrown' at Man Who Outdistanced Co

A 31-year-old resident ran afoul of the law, Monday, when he allegedly put his automobile in gear and raced away from a police officer attempting to cite him for a traffic violation.

A race up the McCulloh St. "speedway" between a radio car and a late-model sedan was won by Edgar Dykes of the 1500 block Richland Ave. The sports watch will accrue to the victor, however, are far from enticing.

During the course of the race Officer Joseph Levin reports that Dykes ran through a red light, surpassed speed limits and drove recklessly.

Traffic Charges Piled Up

He will answer to these charges in Traffic Court, in addition to charges of obstructing traffic and failing to obey an officer's command.

The latter charges, Officer Levin revealed, also assailed in Mr. Dykes—being charged with attempting to run over the police man and being disorderly.

Magistrate Thomas L. Fitzpatrick sitting in Northwestern police court, Tuesday, dismissed the run-down charge, after Roy S. Bond, attorney for Mr. Dykes, insisted that his client had driven off and made no attempt to swerve and hit Officer Levin.

Mr. Dykes was fined $25 on the disorderly count.
