...OLLINS, T.D.BOWERS
EDITORS.

THE commissions for the newly-elect- county commissioners and sheriff have arrived, and they will take the oath of office on Tuesday.

PRESIDENT WILSON has let it be known that there will be no New Year's reception at the White House, and Washington society is "taking on" as much as they did about the absence of the inaugural ball. It is foolish to exact that the President of the United States shall stand up and shake hands with 7,000 people who are on dress parade before the Executive. We don't blame the President in the least for wanting a rest from such useless functions.

WHISKY AT ALMSHOUSE.

The Kent New in its issue of last Saturday made this forceful statement:

"In another column is found the Auditors Report. Among the items noted is that of $518.48 for labor, poultry, oysters, whisky and cigars in almshouse report. We would like to ask if this liquor was used for patients or was it a part of the menu served at the big dinner. If the latter, then we think it is time for such items to be stricken from the list."

The TRANSCRIPT heartily endorses the above statement, regardless of the motive that may have prompted its insertion. The use of whisky at the almshouse for any other than medicinal purposes is a custom for which the present board of trustees or the present superintendent is in no wise responsible. It had come to be a fixed custom because of its institution and continuance by the boards of trustees that were not friendly to the Anti-Organization faction, and so far as we have been able to observe nothing was ever said about the use of whisky at the almshouse dinners from the source from which the above statement emanated, so long as those boards were friendly. Be that as it may, the TRANSCRIPT in hearty accord with the sentiment expressed by the News, and we ... present board of trustees t... it that not a penny of the tax-... money is used to purchase whisky for the almshouse for any other than strictly medicinal purposes. The custom of having whisky at almshouse dinners should never have been established; but that is no excuse whatever for its continuance, and the present board will do a magnanimous thing at its next monthly meeting in December if they will "cut out" the use of whisky at the county home for any other than medicinal purposes, and we are not so sure that it would not be a most excellent idea to "cut out" the big dinners also, in the interest of the taxpayers.

THE Dry Farming Congress, held at Tulsa, Okla., from October 22 to 31, from the speeches of the illustrious agriculturists who were there, to the long rows of soil ... an in... against ... methods. ... a man who ... eral farming ... otas, dry farm- ... ss than apply- ... uffers from lack of ... hich produce the best ... pplied to land enjoying ... in.

... a nation-wide lesson on good ... It proved that the successful ... of good farming were the good ... of successful farming. The ... eer settlers on practically desert ... d were left to demonstrate by practical results what farm journals, government schools, and the service bureaus of the big machine companies have tried to teach, that the fundamentals of farming are deeper plowing, better cultivation, more animal fertilizer, and better seed selection. It was claimed by those who had experimented for years that in breaking up the sod it is more profitable to turn it under from 10 to 12 inches than from 4 to 8, which is the popular depth. By actual experiment between two acres in the same field, land treated by deep tillage yielded $100 more in produce in 10 years than a similar acre plowed only 6 inches. In another case in bringing out the value of humus as a factor in increasing the water holding power of soils, it was found that in 100 ... of ordinary sandy soil there were 19 pounds of water, while on the other hand, the same amount of garden soil, well filled with humus, contained 753 pounds of water, or nearly three times as much. By deep plowing before the rains, followed by good cultivation to save the stored water, the amount of water, available for plants can be increased nearly fifty per cent. With such an increase there should never, even in the driest sections, be such a scarcity of water as to cause a loss of the crop. The best insurance against drouth next summer is deep plowing this winter and early spring. Turn the land, if possible, to a depth of at least eight inches, and then follow this plowing ... some implement in each furrow ... ill stir the soil at least another six inches. With such preparation ... fore the rains come, such soil ... and will absorb enough water ... a crop next summer.

NUPTIAL EVENTS.

STOLLENWERCK—HYNSON.

The marriage of Miss Carolene Marsh Hynson, daughter of the late Richard Dunn Hynson and of Mrs. Hynson, of Chestertown, and Mr. Edward Carroll Stollenwerck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Gustavus Stollenwerck, of Baltimore, took place Saturday evening at 7.30 o'clock in Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal Church, Chestertown, and was followed by a large reception at the residence of Mrs. Hynson. The ceremony was performed by Bishop Murray, of Baltimore, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Martin, rector of Emmanuel Church, Chestertown. The church was beautifully decorated with palms and chrysanthemums, and was thronged with relatives and friends of the popular couple. Mr. Guy Stollenwerck was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Mr. Charles Henry Tilghman, of Pittsburgh, formerly of Baltimore; Mr. Frank Key Murray, Mr. Frederick C. Lee, Mr. Seymour Merrick, Mr. George M. Gillet, Jr., Dr. Corbin Street and Dr. Eveleth Bridgman, all of Baltimore, and Mr. Thomas Massey, of Chestertown. Miss Helen Hynson, sister of the bride, and Miss Alice Stollenwerck, sister of the bridegroom, were the bridesmaids; Miss Alice Hynson was the flower girl and Mrs. William B. Usilton, was the matron of honor. They wore gowns of pink satin, draped with tulle and lace, and carried bouquets of pink chrysanthemums and pink carnations. Little Misses Mary Rogers Hynson, and Henrietta Hoopes, of Wilmington, were ribbon girls, and wore white lingerie, trimmed with pink ribbons, and carried pink chrysanthemums.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother. She wore a gown of white brocaded satin, with panniers of old family lace, and tulle veil fastened with orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride's roses.

Mrs. Hynson, mother of the bride, wore a lovely gown of black panne velvet, the bodice of which was white covered with black lace and net and trimmed in pearls and rhine stones. Mrs. Stollenwreck, mother of the groom, wore a handsome gown of old gold brocaded satin trimmed in ecru lace, with threads of gold intertwined.

The occasion was graced by the presence of the venerable grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Carolene L. Hynson.

After the reception, which was in charge of Caterer Johnson, the bride and bride-groom left in a motor car for Wilmington, Del., and later for New York, Boston, and Atlantic City. On their return to Baltimore they will occupy an apartment at the Cathedral Apartments. The presents, more than three hundred in number, were among the handsomest ever seen in Chestertown, and consisted of silver, cut glass, pressed glass, rare china, rich linen, solid mahogany furniture, etc. Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Stollenwerck, Mr. and Mrs. Griswold and son, Mr. Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Scipion Corlez, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hynson, Bishop and Mrs. John G. Murray, Miss Agnes Fookes, Miss Lucy Branham, Miss Helen Griffith, Miss Terebe Westcott, Mr. Gordon Gilpin, Mr. Walker, all of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Hoopes and daughter, of Wilmington, Del.; Mr. Thomas Bartlett, Easton, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fletcher Rolph, Centreville; Miss May Robertson, Ridley Park, Pa.; Miss Olivia Murray, West River, and Miss Sommerill, Philadelphia.

...INHART—NICHOLSON.

A ... pretty though quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Nicholson, on Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Daisy, became the bride of Mr. Carey W. Reinhart, a prominent young farmer, of near Fairlee. The spacious parlor, sitting room and hall of the house were beautifully decorated with large white and yellow chrysanthemums, roses, potted plants and evergreens, and the soft rays of lighted candles gave an added charm to an appropriate wedding scene. Promptly at the appointed hour, to the strains of the Lohengrin's wedding march, rendered by Mrs. Powell, of Baltimore, a relative of the groom, the bride and groom entered the parlor, and stood before a bank of palms and potted plants, where, in the presence of only the immediate families and a few close friends, the ceremony was performed very impressively by Rev. H. P. Jester, pastor of St. James M. P. Church. There were no attendants. The bride was becomingly attired in a handsome suit of blue doueytene cloth, with large black velvet hat and white gloves. She carried a shower bouquet of lillies of the valley. The groom wore the conventional black. Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Reinhart left by automobile for Tolchester amidst a shower of rice and old shoes, for a wedding trip to Washington and other points of interest. The bride received many useful and valuable presents, among them being a substantial check from her father. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends on the farm of the groom's mother, near Fairlee.

GREENWOOD—STEVENS.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Johnson Stevens, daughter of the late Richard H. Stevens and Mrs. Stevens, of 2726 St. Paul street, Baltimore, to Mr. Samuel H. Greenwood, of Saginaw, Mich., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Greenwood, of Chestertown, took place Wednesday at 11 o'clock at the Pro-Cathedral University Parkway. The ceremony was performed by Bishop John Gardner Murray, in the presence of the members of the two families only. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Elbridge Webster Stevens, and Miss Mary Louise Stevens was her sister's maid of honor. The best man was Mr. F. Plowden Jenkins, of New York. The bride and groom left immediately after the ceremony for a Northern trip, after which they will live at 1739 Michigan avenue, Saginaw, Mich. The groom's many friends in Kent extend congratulations and best wishes.

RIGGS—LUSBY.

A wedding of great interest to residents of Cecil and Kent counties was solemnized at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Z. Porter Lusby, at Cecilton, Md. The bride was Miss Emma Vessey Lusby and the groom was J. Frank Biggs, of Middletown. Rev. Wm. Coale, rector of St. Stephen's parish, performed the ceremony in the presence of a small company of relatives. Mr Biggs was attended by Richard S. Rodney, of New Castle, who acted as best man, and there was a ring-bearer, Master Eldridge Wills Lusby, a nephew of the bride. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, S. Wills Lusby, of Cecilton. Evergreens and potted plants tastefully decorated the house. A gown of white crepe de chine made en train, and trimmed with point d'Venice lace and pearls, was worn by the bride, and her veil was a family heirloom. Her bouquet was of white violets and lillies of the valley. Immediately after the ceremony the reception followed, and after the wedding breakfast had been served Mr. and Mrs. Biggs left in an automobile for their wedding journey south, and they will reside in Middletown on their return.

FLEMING—SOLLOWAY.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday, November 19th, when Mr. Joseph Valentine Fleming and Miss Florence Emilie Solloway, both of Philadelphia, were married by Rev. Mr. Horst in the Beacon Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia. The bride was dressed in ivory white silk crepe meteor, trimmed in shadow and duchesse lace, and carried white chrysanthemums. She was attended by Miss Edith Harbeson, of Philadelphia, who was gowned in pink crepe de chine and carried pink chrysanthemums. The groom was attended by Mr. Jas. Townsend Strahan, of Camden, N. J. After a wedding breakfast was served, Mr. and Mrs. Fleming left for a trip to Atlantic City and other points of interest. The bride, who was formerly a Kent county girl and a sister of Miss Ethel Solloway, has been the guest of honor at many social functions recently, and girl friends gave her a linen shower. After their return they will reside at 2731 W. Lehigh avenue, Philadelphia.

Mr. Asa K. Urie, of Rock Hall, and Miss Louise C. Reihl, of Skinner's Neck, were married at Wesley Chapel parsonage on Saturday evening by the pastor, Rev. A. B. Dupuy.
