Chestertown Lady Buys Ground Rents.—Through the offices of Pierre C. Dugan & Nephew, of Baltimore, Mrs. Eva Topping, of Chestertown, has purchased from the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland two ground rents of $65, issuing out of 2102 and 2104 West Saratoga street.

Public Meeting.—Every one in the town and county who is interested in the establishment of an Emergency Hospital and Old People's Home in Chestertown is urged to attend a public meeting to be held in the Lyceum Theatre next Tuesday afternoon, February 3, at 2 o'clock, for the purpose of discussing plans for the erection of the building and other important matters. There should be a large attendance, for the movement is something which appeals to every one.

Strip Removed From Bridge Floor.—Resident Engineer Applegarth this week removed the board strip from the bridge floor. Mr. Applegarth examined the boards under the strip and found that they were decaying, and he regarded the strip as a danger to traffic. He believes, he says, that the bridge is wide enough to do without the strip, and does not know of any other bridge in the State the width of Chester bridge which has such a strip. In the interest of traffic and for the safety of travel he caused to strip to be removed.

Modern Woodmen Meeting.—Mr. William McCaffrey, State Deputy, of Washington, D. C., will visit the local Camp, 8745, Friday, Feb. 13th, and make an adderss on the work of the order. Every member of the order is urged to be present to meet Mr. McCaffrey and hear him speak. A delegate will be elected to the State convention which meets in Hagerstown May 6th. This delegate will assist in the election of a delegate to the National convention in Toledo, Ohio, in June, and it is here that the monthly rate question will be discussed. See how important it is to be present?

Robbed of Whiskey.—Clifton Spry, Walter Hickman, of Chesterville, and Thomas Blanchfield, of Millington, were held up by Lloyd Caulk and Irvin Brown, two colored men, near Townsend, and at pistol point were robbed of one quart of whiskey. Spry and Hickman got several severe cracks on the head and face with a piece of fence rail. The perpetrators of the outrage were arrested and taken before 'Squire John D. Carter, who held them on bail for next term of court. The colored folks in the vicinity of Townsend, Smyrna and Middletown are giving the authorities a great deal of trouble. Bad whiskey is at the top and bottom of it all.

Buys Farm.—Mr. William A. Pote, one of Kennedyville's most prominent merchants, has purchased of Mr. Jos. S. Trew, his farm of 100 acres in Morgnec section. Price private.

Paid Insurance Policy.—The clerk of the Modern Woodmen paid to Mrs. Rhoda Wink this week the $1000 policy which her late husband, Wm. F. Wink, carried in the order. This is $10,000 which the order has paid to beneficiaries in the last five years.

Messrs. Vansant & Newsome have a unique advertisment of Fits Dri Foot waterproofing polish, in the shape of a man polishing his shoes, which is so natural that one of the above firm's customers is said to have spoken to it.

There was an important meeting of the merchants of the town in Firemen's Hall last night. The object of the meeting was to form an effective Merchant's Association and to institute plans to improve trade conditions.

If you ask us how we enjoyed the Boston Lyrics in Firemen's Hall on Thursday evening, our quick reply is—charmed and delighted. The entertainment was one of the finest ever given in the town, and there was a splendid audience.

H. F. Jefferson & Bro. have caught the spirit of modern advertising for the purpose of attracting trade, by the inauguration of an attractive special sale. This is not a sale of odds and ends, but a special sale on dress goods, suits, coats and shoes, that should commend itself to everyone. More of such sales of this kind will build up town trade rapidly.

Mr. Wm. B. Willis, Kent county's bronze turkey breeder, has sold all of his stock advertised in the TRANSCRIPT. He has kept 12 beauties for breeding purposes, and will purchase a new male bird for spring breeding. Mr. Willis contemplates entering the show ring next year with his fine birds. He cleared $500 on his flock this year, besides the 12 handsome stock birds.

Tempest Dramatic Company.

The J. I. Tempest Dramatic Company, which is showing at the theatre this week, is one of the very best stock companys it has been our lot to see for some time. Their plays are all of the kind which call for a strong order of dramatic ability, and that they are able to meet the requirements is shown by the crowds that have attended this week. Jennie Tempest the leading lady is an actress of rare ability, with a most charming stage presence which completely captivated the audience upon her first appearance, and the splendid portrayal of the various difficult roles assumed by this little lady has won for her a lasting place in the affections of the Barneshore theatregoers. The supporting company is a strong and well-balanced one. The Play for to-night is MADAME "D" and it is safe to say that they will have one of the largest crowds ever in the house. Miss Little Robinson Crusoe, for the matinee and The Price of Gold for the night makes a well balanced bill for the week and will leave our people satisfied that the Tempest Stock Co. is one of the very best on the road to-day, and well worthy the patronage and hearty support of any city they may visit.—Barnesboro Pa., news.

The Tempest Company will play at the Lyceum Theathre one week beginning Monday Feb. 2. See advertisment on first page.

OUR DEATH RECORD.

MRS. MARIA COREY.

Lydia Maria Gleason was a native of Dublin, N. H., where she was known as a teacher in the public schools until her marriage to John W. Corey, whose early life was spent in the same town. After a fews year's residence in the State of Delaware, they removed to the farm near Melitota, Kent county, Md., where they lived to celebrate their golden wedding, and which since his death has been her home. Falling a victim to ill health for a period of years, she became a student of nature's laws for the preservation of health, and their relation to the obligation for a long and useful life. Thus by practical use of knowledge gained she attained an unusual length of days in remarkable activity. With her restoration to health she gave herself largely for the welfare of others, freely entering into any good cause for its uplift. Two children by adoption filled the place of lost ones in the home and heart. The broad lines of the "Christian" church were her chosen ones for her faith and works, though she was wont to say, "They are all my churches". Those within the scope of her personal influence were made to feel its truth. In the early seventies, at the beginning of a grange movement, she became a charter member and proved a valuable part of the future success. The launching of the first copy of the "Garner" was the outcome of her thought and work. It still survives a fitting memorial. For many years she was a faithful officer in the State Grange and until recently maintained an interest in her home grange, as her familiar face there has often attested. The possibilities of the Women's Christian Temperance Union appealed most strongly to her for active work of woman for humanity. For many years she was its zealous leader in the company, while filling an official position in the State Organization. Just how heavy were the burdens in temperance work and how unselfish she bore them is but known by the many loyal helpers that rallied to her support and learned to love and trust her. Just what has been or may yet be the harvest can only be known by Him who maketh the scattered seed to sleep in darkness, gaining life and strength to bring forth abundant fruit. With the same faith that gave character to her life, it is ours to count many stars in her crown for deeds of love and sacrifice. To recall some of them is to the writer a loving service.

She leaves a son, Mr. Edward A. Corey, and a daughter, Mrs. Harry P. Jones, both foster children, adopted in early life. Funeral services were held from her late residence on Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock, conducted by Rev. S. S. Hepburn. Interment was made in St. Paul'sc emetery. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. John P. Nicholson, A. M. Kendall, W. E. Keyser, Samuel G. Lee, Jesse H. Usilton and Harry C. Willis. Undertaker Charles L. Dodd had charge of funeral arrangements.

MRS. SARAH EMALINE CARTER.

Mrs. Sarah Emaline Carter, aged 87 years, widow of Col. Richard C. Carter, of Caroline county, died at her home in Denton on Thursday of last week. Mrs. Carter was a daughter of Thomas and Eunice Slaughter, and was born in Delaware. She spent the greater part of her life in Caroline county. Mrs. Carter was also an aunt of Mrs. Wm. E Jarrell of this town, and had frequently been a guest here. Funeral services were held on Saturday.
