Smart Cocktail Lounge at Phil's

This is the smart cocktail lounge in the recently renovated Phil's at Mount and Mosher Sts., which held its grand opening this week.

Gateway to Gayway

By GEORGE D. TYLER

The current order of Elks proclamation, issued by Dr. J. Finley Wilson, carries a reminder to all lodges to remember the boys called to service. They are to be put on a non-paying status until they receive their discharge. Virginia (Jennie) Wheeler has returned to SAM'S after vacationing in York, Pa., her former home town. Greetings to the gang from Estella Young, the "human tornado," who is busy entertaining the folks out Cleveland way.

With Ruby Dixon, manager of the FROLIC, in tour, Friday nite found us dropping in at CLUB 13, where Em Cee Earl O'Mara and (Wilbur (Phil) Phillips and his 4 Links are currently appearing. A xylophonist is the newest addition to the combo.

Elmer (Horse) Simpson, prexy of musicians' local, 543, can find his son and a lively combo satisfying the patrons at Shaffer's RAINBOW lounge and tavern, where service is dished out by Tootie Carter. Ed Bartee, one of the shrewdest local bartenders, has come up with a new drink tagged the "Hilltop Special" which is said to be a bombshell. The HILLTOP sponsors a 3 to 7 cocktail session each Sunday with Lady Marshall and her Melody Mates playing for dancing.

East at Eddie's

EDDIE'S musical bar, 1118½ Pennsylvania Ave., has returned to the fold with music being offered Friday thru Sunday, plus a Monday matinee, with the east side favorites Stanford East and his Sophisticates of Swing. The combo includes: East, trumpet; Aaron Stewart, drums; Vincent Delaney, piano, and Aaron Gross, sax. Noble Johnson who at one time headed his own combo, is manager. Ray Chambers, recording artist, is doing his piano turn nitely at the Fireside.

Once again GAMBY'S is featuring Stanley Rawls and his impersonations heading a revusical that is very entertaining. The show opens with a gal with plenty of personality, Candy Smith, who pleases with her every rendition, and closes with Dot Jennings, a member of the old school, when mics were unheard of. Yatilda Dix, the striptease shaker, appeared in a couple of lovely costumes of the French era and her routines were quite different from those we have been seeing here. A couple of new kids, the Zu-Bops, came up with some quaint dance antics, breaking up the show.

Dig Emmanuel at 1017

Joe Berry, one time prop of the famous BERRY'S, down South Baltimore way, has a combination grocery and confectionery store near Sam's on Preston St.

For that Sunday afternoon relaxing period drop in at CLUB 1017 and dig Emmanuel at the organ. Isadore Samuelson rushed his frau off to NYC for a three-day rest and says to the boys: "Don't worry, I'll be back Thursday."

Much improved since its last appearance here, Doles Dickens's combo has mounted the musical bar at the COMEDY. The gang has made several D.C. showings, summered in Atlantic City and cut several ear-pleasing discs. Add to this the superb playing and singing of Flink Johnson and you are in for an enjoyable evening. PHIL'S is just about ready for the getaway, so dorp in this week end.

Bertha Dyer Becomes Bride

At a quiet ceremony Wednesday, Mrs. Bertha Dyer, of 522 N. Calhoun St., became the bride of Joseph Green.

The Rev. Theodore Jackson, pastor of Gillis Memorial Church, officiated with the mother of Mrs. Dyer giving the bride away.

The bride is a veteran waitress of the Frolic Cafe staff.

Many presents and telegrams were received from friends including William Johnson, the David Greitzers, Hansel and Vashti, John Patton and Ruth and Helen Portland.

A reception followed at the home with the following in attendance:

Misses Louise Dyer, Bernice Wood and Martha Hubbard; Mrs. Jennie Code and Messrs. Rudolph Dixon, Benny Bishop, William Janis and George D. Tyler.

GIVEN BRONZE STAR

TOYKO, Japan (NNPA — Pfc. James Baief of St. Louis, a 24th Infantry Regiment member, has been awarded a Bronze Star.

Currently Playing Comedy Club

The Doles Dickens Quintet is currently in the midst of a successful return engagement at the Comedy Club with a new repertoire of songs.

Cutting Hot Rhythm in Rainbow Room

Andre Simmons' Musicaires, currently featured nightly at Shaffer's Rainbow Room, 1302 Pennsylvania Ave., are well-known for their hot rhythm and crowd-pleasing pop and novelty tunes. Left to right, David Williams, piano-vocals; Simmons, sax; Harold White, drums, and Elwood Adams, bass fiddle.

SHOCK OF THE WEEK—The sudden death of William (Ike) Brown, one of this town's most highly respected salesmen in the local auto industry's distributing circles. . . . Not so much of a shock, rather a travesty—the fatal shooting of an alleged card player by a "trigger-happy" cop in the lower Pennsylvania Avenue section, his second of the year. . . . This section could stand an open investigation because of its many traumatics, arrests and convictions for prostitution, gambling dens, dope havens and general corruption, bootlegging, holdups and miscreancers. Who runs the lower end of Pennsylvania Ave.?

RETAILERS OF BEER in many spots jumped the gun on the recent hike in taxes. Many added the one-cent levy the day they read that the additional tax would be added two weeks hence. Now many beer consumers are buying by the case, just to save 14 cents on a case. How's that done? The new tax is 10 cents on the case, 24 bottles. The retailers upped the price one cent more per bottle, 24 in a case, 24 cents.

WHEN MORGAN'S BEARS tangle with Wilberforce's Green Wave in Memorial Stadium on Nov. 4, it will mark the third time that a team, other than white, has played in the big yard. The Baltimore Elites played there twice. The Morgan-Force game is not a commercial affair. Sponsored by the Frontiers Club, five of the city's needly, charitable institutions will profit from the receipts. . . . That's why you should be there at kick-off time!

ART FLETCHER, new addition to the Baltimore Colts, is one of the reasons why more that 14,000 fans stormed the local grid stay-at home fans (radio) would have been happier had the race - conscious announcers let them forget that Art is anything other than a Colts team member. To make the pattern fit, they could acquiant us with the nationality of each player they describe. Such utter nonsense!

WHO'S WHERE AND DOING what — Richard (No Talk) Lipscomb, Johnnt (Deacon) Brown, Stanley Warren, Rebecca and Pinky Coates, Jean Austin, Lillian Thomas, Kingston Pye, Johnny Sparrow's Bow and Arrows, Elsworth Gibson, piano; Phil Harris, bass; Joe Adams, drums; William Ross and Sparrow, sax, all moved from up on the Avenue to Club 511.

DELLA MOORE, barmaid, has switched to the Pride of Baltimore Elks Lodge, down Dolphin St. way, joining Irene (Good Night) Jefferson and Doll Peyton. Dinah Washington's wedding reception a show business affairs . . . Dorothy Lee's Friday nights birthday party drew many gifts and guests. Robert (Tan Feet) Hines, now of Boston, back on a visit.

THINGS YOU DIDN'T know. . . . The Doles Dickens quintet held over a second week at the Comedy Club, to be followed by the Three Flames. Willie Jones, one of our towns finest vocalists, at the Olde Mill. Jessie Bumbray, called the snack master of Winchester St. . . . Jimmie Robinson to conduct the Triangle Club's Legislative Workshop on Friday night, Oct. 27 . . . "No Way Out" opens Saturday, Oct. 28, at the Regent. The present picture program runs until that time.

HERE'S SOMETHING NEW — Floyd O. Adams, an organist, is playing nightly at Gamby's. Of course, that's not news, but the news is — when he moved in to play the organ, he brought his own, a $3,000 Hammond. . . . Gloria Green of 314 Saratoga St., called in to say his music is terrific, technical and tantalizing. Night clubs are becoming organ-minded with Emmanuel Caldwell piping at Club 1017; Zerita Stepteau on the organ (new variation of the organ) at the Olde Mill, and Flink Johnson fingering the keyboards at the Comedy Club, where the organ replaced the soloxes.

TELLING IT FIRST — Baltimore's own Orioles return to the Royal stage next week. Buddy Johnson's orchestra at the Starlite on Oct. 28. . . . John (Big John) Strothers chicken shack, 1100 block, now a gypsy winter quarters. Wee Bea Boone getting a contract bid from one of New York's largest booking agencies.

BILLY ECKSTINE, who played A Wednesday night's concert at the Coliseum with George Shearing, revealed that he had re-signed with the William Morris Agency for five years, signed a picture deal with Metro-Goldwyn - Mayer which will bring him $75,000; will appear in a TV package show built around himself, and will sign a new recording pact in January. He'll draw over $50,000 (minimum) for his concert tour with Shearing. What more could a guy ask?

CHAPLAIN M. C. SWANN, of 542 N. Fulton Ave., the Rev. J. T. Boddie, pastor of Shiloh Baptist Church, his wife, several other ministers and their wives were invited and attended a premiere showing of a somewhat religious film, "Stars in My Crown," at Loew's Century Theatre, 18 W. Lexington St., on Thursday morning along with a number of white ministers and their wives. "We were treated very cordial, without discrimination in seating arrangements, he told this column.

THAT'S ALL FOR NOW, except — Watch for the big Halloween parade along the Avenue, sponsored by the recently organized businessmen's association.

Over 200 Miss 511 Celebration

Club 511, located on Fremont Ave., held its grand opening on Wednesday night during which time more than 200 were turned away because of the overflow crowd throughout the evening.

Special features of the evening in addition to the music by Johnny Sparrow's Bows and Arrows, were the showing of a number of Joe Louis fight pictures and the distribution of noise-makers and souvenirs.

The festivities attracted night club followers from all walks of life with proper order being maintained throughout.

Sparrow's combo introduced a number of the group's latest recordings, including "Michael Cycle," "Serenade to Twins" and "Chuck Wagon Ramble," its latest theme song, among others.
