Dets. Butler, Johnson Break Burglary Ring

Wave of painstaking investigation by Detective Sgt. James Butler and Detective Lloyd Johnson, resulted, this week, in the smash of a well-organized burglary ring which, for more than a year, had looted homes in Northwest Baltimore of television sets, gas ranges, washing machines, and other electrical appliances.

Charged with burglarizing 27 homes are: Joseph Butler, 24, 1509 block N. Carey St., Alvin Thomas, 22, 2400 block Stockton St., and Herbert Raywood, 21, 1300 block Smithson St.

At a hearing before Magistrate John Berry in Northwestern Police Court, Tuesday, police had to then, at least, continue de'ay'ed hearings to allow the small mob of conspirators in the burglary cases to remain free.

Recovered Stolen Watch

Testimony revealed that a watch stolen from Detective Johnson, of a stolen watch recovered in a Baltimore St. pawnshop, led to the arrest of Joseph Butler. Questioning of the man resulted in the arrest of Thomas and Raywood.

From two houses in the 2400 block of Stockton St. the detectives loaded two patrol wagons with sewing machines, floor model radios, a large quantity of clothing, and the other expensive appliances.

Sgt. Butler said the men would visit the homes, while they were unoccupied, and clear the ventilate door. Entrance would then be forced, undetected, through the front door.

Used Home-Made Wagon

The suspects used a home-made wagon to haul their loot away. Because of their brazen method of operation, neighbors of the victims would think the thieves had a legitimate purpose for removing the goods.

As Magistrate Berry laboriously initiated the many charges against the defendants, Raywood pleaded guilty to each charge. The other men, Butler and Thomas, entered not guilty pleas.

Sgt. Butler also explained that Raywood had been very co-operative with the detectives in their investigation, and like a "good soldier" was trying to assume all the guilt.

Magistrate Berry held the three men in $500 bail for each case, making a total of $13,000 bail for each man. Most of the stolen goods has been recovered, and returned to the owners.

Mother of Convicted GI Attempted to Kill Self

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — Because her son, 20-year-old Sgt. Lawrence Walker was sentenced to life imprisonment on a murder-rape charge, Mrs. Lillian Onque attempted suicide with an over-dose of sleeping pills the evening after the New Jersey GI was pronounced guilty. Mrs. Onque was rushed to the Temple Hospital in Los Angeles where emergency action saved her life.

Sergeant Walker was found guilty, despite testimony by a ballistics expert that the bullets which killed Doris and Richard Cook, the young white couple Walker was accused of murdering, could not have come from his gun. Mrs. Marguerite Chance, lone colored person on the jury which convicted Walker, has charged anti-Negro bias on the part of her fellow jurors.

Bishop Tucker's Court Miracle Due on Monday

Bishop Paul Tucker will get his chance, Monday, to work the miracle he promised to work in order to win an acquittal on larceny after trust charges.

The retired evangelist is scheduled to stand trial on the charges, Monday, before Judge Ralph Warnken. He is accused of misappropriating $3,950 from a woman member of his flock.

After the charge was filed, the bishop told his congregation during one 3am service that he would "work a miracle" in the courtroom and win an acquittal.

He said, "They are trying to put me in the penitentiary. All they can do could'nt put me behind bars."

While they are uptown telling him, I'm downtown telling two."

Complainant in the case is Mrs. Mamie Ford of 819 N. Bentalou St. who said that the money represented funds she planned to use toward the purchase of her home.

The bishop contended, however, that he used the money to buy furniture because he and Mrs. Ford planned to be married.

Man Sentenced to 15 Years for Cab Holdups

Sylvester Byrd, 27, was sentenced Tuesday to 15 years in the penitentiary for two taxicab holdups which netted a little over $5.

In the same cases, Joseph Harris, 28, of the 900 block Durham St. won a 10-year suspended sentence and probation for five years because it was slad that he did not actively participate in the holdups.

Judge Ralph Warnken sentenced Byrd of the 1700 block McKean Ave., who was convicted in the two cases of robbery staged late May 15 and early the next morning.

Dope Raps Hold 3 After Jazz Fete

The jazz concert attended by more than 6,500 jazz enthusiasts at the Coliseum Wednesday night has resulted in the arrest of three youths on narcotics charges.

Plainclothes patrolmen David Hubbard and Rudolph Wilkins went to the Monroe St. hall on a routine check of such affairs. On entering the restroom, the police officers said, the smell of marijuana was "overpowering."

One cool-suited white youth, John Rosse, 17, 2100 block W. Fayette St., offered Hubbard a reefer and said, "Come on, daddy, take a drag."

The plainclothes officer said he obligingly took the proffered cigarette and turning to two colored youths standing nearby, took a reefer cigarette from Merryman Bond, 19, 2800 block Round Rd.

Another Awaits "Turn"

Standing alongside Bond and waiting for his "turn" to smoke the cigarette, according to officer Hubbard, was Donald Rusk, 19, 600 block Roundview Rd.

They took the youths from the crowded restroom to their parked police car, according to the officers, and when they reached detective headquarters, search of Rosse revealed another reefer on his person.

In Northwestern police court Friday, Magistrate John Berry continued the case for a further hearing. Rusk is being held as a State's witness.

Charges against Rosse have not been filed pending further investigation.
