Tomato Prices.

We hear that packers who use Beck's wharf as a shipping point are offering the growers of that vicinity 12 cents per basket or $7.20 a ton for tomatoes. None, we understand, are contracting at that price. Last year these growers got $8.40. We also hear that there is a chance that the growers in other parts of the county will be offered 14 cents per basket which is equivalent to $8 40 per ton. But there is still an element of very great uncertainty about the tomato market. On this account an important meeting of the farmers has been called by Rev. S. S. Hepburn, master of the Still Pond Grange, for Saturday, March 21st, at 2 P. M., in the Still Pond grange hall to discuss the growing of tomatoes and sweet corn. Every farmer, whether living in Still Pond section or not, is urged to attend the meeting and give the benefit of his knowledge.

Our Merchants' Interests.

Read the big Wednesday offerings in H. F. Jefferson & Bro.'s big adv. on page 8. Something real good.

The firm of Kilburn & Bramble went out of existence this week. The fine business will be conducted in the future by Mr. Kilburn, Mr. Bramble still being connected, however, with the implement feature of the business. Mr. Kilburn will continue the big reduction sale two weeks longer. He will pay 38 cents a dozen for duck eggs on Wednesday, and 2 cents above market quotations for hen eggs on Wednesday, his special day. Go see him and get something good.

Don't suffer with your eyes. Go to Julian T. Power, graduate optometrist, Millington, and have your eyes examined and glasses made to order.

Calf-Life will cure your calves of the scours. Write to the White Foot Remedy Co., Centreville, for particulars.

We call the attention of our poultry men to the advertisement of the Summit Poultry Farm. Paul Holsinger & Son, of Ridgely. This is one of the most celebrated White Leghorn farms in the country, and they are among the best laying strains of the Leghorn breed to be found anywhere. No fowl known can beat the White Leghorn as winter layers when properly cared for, and Mr. Holsinger has developed a laying strain which should command ready sale.

B. S. Sutton, the hustling Black's merchant, is offering the remainder of his winter goods regardless of cost, and announces his spring sales. Wednesdays are his special bargain days. See what he offers for Wednesday. Special price for eggs that day.

J. Waters Russell will pay highest market price for railroad cross ties delivered at Chestertown or Worton. See adv. on front page.

The Krit automobile has made a great hit in the 1914 sales. They are one of the best and most durable machines on the market for the price. See Mr. Wm. E. Moody, Chestertown, or Mr. Julian T. Power, Millington.

Say, Mr. Merchant, the wholesale egg market advanced 3 cents a dozen on account of the blizzard. Why don't you tell the country people to bring their eggs in and you will give them market quotations?

Special prices on PANTS this week at Brown Bros.' big store. Good goods at a bargain. Expert tailor from Haas Tailoring Company March 19, 20 and 21. 400 fine samples.

Now is the time to begin to think about fencing your farm. Lofland & Culp have the fence that stands the test for strength and durability. They also have the celebrated Wiard Plow—"king of the field, and the best in use." See their adv. on page 1 and then see them.

Read Abe Cohen's adv. on page 1—an encyclopedia of facts as to big bargains at low prices. Read it. It will pay you.

If you want eggs for setting from pure bred White Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds, Gold Nugget strain of Buff Rocks, etc., consult the poultry advertisements on the editorial page of the TRANSCRIPT. These breeds are the very best layers known. None better, few their equal. Now is the time to book your orders for eggs or for young stock this summer.

There are several reasons why you should call to see Vansant & Newsome Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, March 19, 20 and 21. Mr. Chas. Gebhart will be with them on those days to conduct their spring tailoring opening of the splendid made-to-measure line of clothing of the Hopkins Tailoring Co., Baltimore. While the line is known as a "popular priced" one it is surely the kind in which a dollar buys a full dollar's worth. All orders placed with them for Hopkins clothing during March will entitle you to from 25,000 to 50,000 extra votes on the piano to be given away April 1, in addition to the 10 votes for every 1 cent of your purchase. Better try and meet Mr. Gebhart and thus "kill two birds with one stone."

CHEAP SEEDS PROVE A BAD BARGAIN

Cents Saved and Dollars Lost In Buying Poor Quality Seed.

C. P. SMITH.
Maryland Agricultural College.

You will soon be buying clover seed for spring sowing. Be sure you know its quality before you buy. A year ago last summer a farmer named Jones visited seed dealers in his town to compare the quality and prices of timothy seed. He found prices ranging from $2.50 to $3.25 a bushel. The $2.50 seed looked good enough to him, so satisfied that he was making a big saving at getting it for 75 cents below the highest grade, he bought it. The same week, his neighbor, Thomas, telephoned to two of the same dealers Jones had visited and from one of them bought 10 bushels of the best grade he could find at $3.25 a bushel, which the State Seed Testing Laboratory at College Park had found 99 per cent. pure and germinating 96 seeds out of 100.

When the crops from these different seeds were harvested and taken to market, Friend Jones' hay had so much sheep sorrel and other weeds in it that it brought only $10 a ton, while Thomas' crop sold for $13. At $2.50 a bushel Jones paid little more than 5½ cents a pound for his seed, and sowing it at 15 pounds per acre, his seed cost him 83 cents. Thomas' seed cost him per acre $1.08 or 25 cents more than Jones. Jones cut 1½ tons per acre, which sold for $15. Thomas raised 2 tons per acre which netted him $26. To save 25 cents on his seed, Jones missed the chance to make $11. Did bargain seed pay?

Chicken Coops Should Be Built Now

Winter a Good Time To Work Up Odd Pieces Of Lumber Into Chicken Shelters.

ROY H. WAITE.
Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station.

Later in the spring you will find yourself badly in need of colony coops for your growing chickens. Get your men folks to put some together for you now. Such little houses come in handy for several purposes, as well as making nice shelters for chickens after they have been brooder weaned. They are made six feet long, three feet wide, three feet high in front, and two feet high in rear. An opening is left both front and back and covered with wire. These openings are on a level with the two roosts used and allow warm air to be driven out during summer weather.

A HANDY COOP.

During colder seasons, the rear opening can be closed by means of a hinged door or a board can be nailed over it. The floor, to make cleaning easier, is simply a 3 by 6 platform, on which the house rests. The house can be cleaned from the front door or the whole top tilted back out of the way during the process. The roof is covered with common roofing material. The house will hold 25 to 30 half grown chicks.

List of material:
1 piece 2 in. by 4 in. by 10 ft.
2 pieces 2 in. by 2 in. by 10 ft.
1 piece 2 in. by 2 in. by 12 ft.
2 pieces 1 in. by 3 in. by 12 ft.
7 pieces drop siding 12 ft. long, 65 sq. ft. flooring, 14 foot lengths of roofing, nails, hinges, paint, etc.

Water is Great Plant Feeder

Carries Other Plant Foods To Plants But Too Much Gives Them Wet Feet.

W. E. HANGER.
Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station.

Can we have too much water in the soil for good crops? We surely can! Too much water destroys the "life" of the soil. The bacteria that make this "life" need not only water but air and warmth as well. When the water table is high they cannot do their work. The soil is cold and plants do not grow well in it. We can remedy this trouble by tile draining. This will probably cost $20 to $25 an acre. This may sound rather high at first, but when we know that land drainage often makes all the difference between a very poor crop and a good one, we see that the cost of tiling will be made up many times over in a few years. Such tiling if laid rightly will last a lifetime, and always insure your crops against "wet feet" or a poor crop in a wet season.

How deep, how far apart, and what size of tile to use depends on your farm and its location. It is not wise to use less than three-inch tile for most fields. A three-inch tile will carry away twice as much as a two-inch tile and costs but little more. Tile should be placed from 2½ to 4 ft. deep according to the water table and the lay of the land. Water in your land properly handled and controlled is the most valuable crop feeder you can have. Take care of it.

DON'T DELAY

Some Chestertown People Have Learned That Neglect is Dangerous.

The slightest symptom of kidney trouble is far too serious to be overlooked. It's the small, neglected trouble that so often leads to serious kidney ailments. That pain in the "small" of your back; that urinary irregularity; those headaches and dizzy spells; that weak, weary, worn-out feeling, may be nature's warning of kidney weakness. Why risk your life by neglecting these symptoms? Reach the cause of the trouble while there yet is time—begin treating your kidneys at once with a tried and proven kidney remedy. No need to experiment—Doan's Kidney Pills have been successfully used in thousands of cases of kidney trouble for over 50 years. Doan's Kidney Pills are used and recommended throughout the civilized world. Endorsed at home. Read Chestertown testimony.

Mrs. I. M. Blyman, High St., Chestertown, Md., says: "One of our family had backache and other symptoms of weak kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally procured from Toulson's Drug Store and they gave relief."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents, Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
