ENTERTAINMENT HISTORY IN MAKING:

'Biggest Show of '51' at Coliseum Monday Night

Entertainment history will be made at the Coliseum Monday evening when "The Biggest Show of '51" is presented with Nat (King) Cole, Sarah Vaughan and Duke Ellington co-starred, beginning at 8:30.

Right now Cole and his Trio and Miss Vaughan are the two hottest stars in show business.

Cole's smashing hit records have made him the most potential selling crooner available, while Miss Vaughan has repeatedly broken booking records during her fairly young career.

Tops Best Sellers

Right now her recording of "Vanity" is number one with the fans, topping record sales throughout the nation.

Just the name of Ellington is synonymous with American music. For 24 years he has reigned as the greatest name in American music circles, and always produces a top standard of performance with his world famous orchestra.

Interspersed with the musical program will be the top entertainment acts of the day with the incomparable humor of Timmie ("Oh Yeah!") Rogers; mirthful dancing and singing by Patterson and Jackson, whose combined weights tip the scales at 650 pounds.

Pee Rates In Lineup

Others are Peg Leg Bates, world' greatest monoped dancer, who always inspires audiences with his unusual dancing ability; Stump and Stumpy (James Cross and Harold Cromer), comedy team, who have appeared on dozens of television shows, and the stars of Broadway's "Beggar's Holiday," the famous Marie Bryant dance group.

Bears Oppose Hornet Eleven

Opening Grid Clash at Stadium Saturday

Having finished three weeks of intense training with only minor injuries, Morgan State College will launch the 1951 football season Saturday, Sept. 29, against Delaware State College at Hughes Stadium on the college campus.

The new edition of the Bears will feature several newcomers. Among the freshmen expected to show well is Don Patterson, fullback from Sparrows Point, Md., who has made excellent progress in the punting department and is regarded as the No. 1 aide to Coach Captain Johnny Triplett, the regular kicker.

Lauchy Jordan, a transfer player from Bloomfield State College, appears a sure shot at center.

The strength of the invading Hornets is a matter of conjecture, for the Delawareans are working under a new coach and little is known of the experience of his players. Nevertheless the opening fray will serve as a test of the Bears' power.

Fowler Hen Cops 150-Mile Race

The 150-mile Maryland Homing Pigeon Club race from Covesville, Va., to Baltimore, was won Sunday by Bill Fowler in a little over four hours and 14 minutes.

The Fowler hen, liberated along with the field at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning, checked in at her loft at 1:44:52, to grab first place honors.

The rest of the entries finished in the following order (with clock timings):

J. Covell—1:56.21; J. Covell — 1:58.11; H. Clark — 1:59.23; W. W. Johnson—2:09.31; M. Scott — 2:08.21; N. Campbell—2:20.35; L. Gross—2:35.34; G. Fowler—3:42.48; A. White—2:46.43.

Unreported: J. Thornton.

CAMPY EJECTED:

Dodgers Lose to Braves; Lead Giants by Half Game

BOSTON — The staggering Brooklyn Dodgers lost a beetle 4-3 game to the Boston Braves here Thursday, and in the process allowed their league lead to dwindle to a half game over the idle New York Giants.

Played before a sparse gathering of 2,066 fans, the game was marked by the ejection of Roy Campanella, Dodger catcher, and an after-game rhubarb in which Jackie Robinson was accused by a policeman of kicking a panel out of the door of the umpire's room.

Campy was ejected in the eighth inning when the Braves scored the winning run on a close play at the plate. Campy, straddling the plate, took a throw from Jackie Robinson to put the tag on Bob Addis.

Dispute Rages

Umpire Frank Dascoli called Addis safe and when Campy protested the later was thumbed out of the game. Also thumbed out was Dodger Coach Cookie Lavagetto, and a few minutes later the entire Dodger bench was cleared of players by the umpire.

The run gave the Braves a 4-3 lead and the Dodgers failed to score in the ninth. After the game tempers grew hot and newspapermen were barred from the dressing room for 20 minutes.

Dascoli said he ejected Campy because the catcher threw his glove on the ground. "That calls for an automatic ejection," Dascoli added.

Must Win Three

The Dodgers move to Shibe Park in Philadelphia for a three-game series with the Phillies, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, while the Giants play the Braves two games Saturday and Sunday. The Dodgers must win all three to win the flag.

Two losses by the Dodgers and two wins by the Giants would give the Giants the pennant, while a split by the Giants and two losses by the Dodgers would result in a tie.

In case of a tie, the play-off will begin Monday at the Dodgers' field in Brooklyn, with the second and third game, if necessary, at the Polo Grounds.

Crawfords Top Md. All-Stars

Crawford All-Star shattered an eight inning deadlock last Sunday of defeat the Maryland All-Stars by a 11-4 count at Easton, Md.

Going into the frame tied 4-4, the visitors pushed over six runs.

Evans Sparkled

J. Evans sparked the hit parade for the winners with three, Addison, Hill and Watson had two each.

Manager Frank Crawford used three hurler, Whig, Harrison and Tiller, whose combined efforts limited the losers to four hits.

Crawford has issued a challenge to the Milford Yanks for a series of games to determine the championship of Delaware.

Frank Fontain has been eloquently silent to all proposals and challenges, Frank Crawford said.

The Crawford All-Stars engaged the Fort Dupont Giants in a twin bill at Fort Dupont, last Sunday.

Patuxent Rod and Gun Club Wins Main Event

Skeet Club Cites Carson and Scott

Tribute Paid to Leading Officers of Deep Sea Anglers and Hunt Club

WASHINGTON

The Deep Sea Anglers and Hunt Club, Incorporated, of Washington, D.C., honored two pioneer members in a Carson and Scott Day, which attracted an interracial group of some 250 persons, Sunday, Sept. 24, at Clinton, Md.

Tribute was paid to Dr. Simeon L. Carson and Samuel M. Scott, president, and financial secretary and treasurer, respectively, for their contributions in the growth and development of the club.

Both received a trophy and a plaque for their achievements in an impressive ceremony.

Presentations Made

Dr. Frank Saunders of the Falcon Rod and Gun Club Inc., of Baltimore, on behalf of the Deep Sea Anglers and Hunt Club, presented a plaque to Dr. Carson.

Walter B. Sanderson Sr., a retired Metropolitan policeman and member of the DSAHC, recalled his association with Mr. Scott, a retired police detective segreant. He concluded his speech by presenting a plaque to Mr. Scott.

Frank Huseman, representing the Champion Sports Store, whose remarks recalled the "pleasant shoots the white competitors had spent at Clinton, Md.," presented trophies of achievements to both men.

Dr. Carson Cited

Dr. Carson, a graduate of the University of Michigan's School of Medicine in 1903, was honored for "organizing local sportsmen, building treasured traditions for the Deep Sea Anglers Club; personally contributing excellent facilities for club use; establishing respect and honor for the club in competition all over the county; and for the inspiration he has set for youth."

One of the first scatter-gun enthusiasts in the District, Dr. Carson purchased a 26-acre tract at Clinton, Md.; and at his own expense set up a lay-out of four straight traps and a skeet field.

Now recognized as the best and most complete field of its kind in the East, the Clinton, Md. location has been the site of several championship events since he turned it over to the club in 1945.

Served Indians

Dr. Carson came to Washington in 1908 after serving five years as a Government physician to the Indians in South Dakota.

He served as assistant surgeon in Freedmen's Hospital from 1908 to 1918. Also from 1910 to 1918, he was on the courtesy staff of Garfield Hospital in D.C.

From 1919 to 1938, he conducted his own private hospital at 1822 Fourth St., N.W. He closed his hospital, he said, because of strain and overwork.

While conducting his private hospital, he was professor of clinical surgery at Howard University in 1934 and 1935. Since 1938, he has been conducting his own private practice.

Prominent Shooter

He is prominent among scatter-gun shooters of the East and West. He competes in all the Eastern and Western tournaments each year.

On July 15, 1951, he started a run in trap shooting, and on July 26, the run was broken with a record of 119 out of 120 targets.

Mr. Scott, affably called "Sam" and "S. M." is known as the hub around which the club has been molded. He was honored for his industry, his unflagging devotion to the club, and the personal sacrifices he has made in the club's interest.

Cited for 'Know-How'

His "know-how" has brought more publicity to the club than any other individual. In 1940, he represented the Deep Sea Anglers at the Philadelphia meeting to organize the Eastern Skeet and Trapshooting Association. He now has risen to vice-president of the organization.

A native Washingtonian, Mr. Scott retired from the Metropolitan Police Department, Aug. 1, 1948, after completing 23 years, six months and a day. His last assignment was in the Bective Bureau for 16 years.

One of Club's Founders

He is one of the founders and organizers of the Deep Sea Anglers and Hunt Club Inc., which started out in 1938 with 10 sports hunters.

He was elected to the post of financial secretary in 1939 after the late Dr. E. Evans resigned, and has held it since. He later was elected treasurer, two positions he still holds.

Dr. Carson presented a cash award of $125 to the mixed team of the Patuxent Rod and Gun Club which won main event, a five-man picket team which had 50 targets at 16 yards.

Makes Cash Awards

E. O. Bailey, vice-president of the Deep Sea Anglers group, presented the cash award of $60 to members of the Eastern Skeet and Trapshooting Association team which edged an all-white team, 219 x 250 to 216 250.

Officials of the ESTA present were W. T. Turner, president, Baltimore, Md.; Dr. E. B. Wetmore, senior vice-president, Morristown, N.J.; and L. L. Winfield, chairman of the championship committee from Coatesville, Pa.

The visiting clubs which did not complete were the Eureka Rod and Gun Club, Mt. Vernon, N.Y.

Mr. R. A. McCoy, the Deep Sea Anglers and Hunt Club field captain, conducted the main and special events. He also headed the winning skeet team.

Results of the main event: 50 targets at 16 yards for the five-man picket team.

Amateur Gridders Prep for Opening

Three football leagues under the jurisdiction of the Division of Amateur Sports of the Bureau of Recreation are shaping up for their opening on October 7.

The Monumental Unlimited League, the city's oldest, has four teams ready and anticipates one or two new entries.

After a year's absence, the one time local champion Harlem Bears are returning to action under the leadership of Floyd Harding. The Bears who won the city championship in 1947 and 1948, are said to be strong this year after a year's absence from the league and will probably be a contender.

Mustangs Return

Preston Harris' Royal Mustangs, sponsored by Tim Bright, are back to defend their city championship title. Coach Harris is expected to have the same speedy backfield and good passing attack that took the Mustangs to the title last year.

South Baltimore's hope, the Imperial Sportsmen and the Spartans A.C. are the other two teams slated for action in this loop. Ike Brown is coaching the Sportsmen. Jerome Fisher heads the Spartans.

The Black Caps, under James Black, and the Northwestern Police Boys Club, under officer William Gardner and Avon Cooper, are awaiting the completion of the Cross City Intermediate League for boys 18 years old and under. Other who anticipate playing in this first year loop include the McCulloh Macs, Jr. Hillocks, Warriors, Jr. Mystics and Jr. Royal Mustangs.

Easter Organizing

The Easterwood Junior League is being organized for boys 16 years old and under. Most of the teams applying are interested in playing their home games at Easterwood Park. These teams include the New Era Cubs, Northwestern Police Boys Club and Jr. McCulloh Macs. The Jr. Clowns from South Baltimore are also expected to join this loop.

Teams interested in playing in leagues under the Division of Amateur Sports should contact Harold Jennifer, Supervisor of Municipal Sports at 1129 N. Calvert Street, Mulberry 5826.

Meetings for coaches, managers, captains and quarterback of all teams are being held at the Bureau of Recreation on Monday nights at 7:30 p.m.

Ex-Panther in Win at Meade

FORT GEORGE MEADE — To climax the first annual Fort George G. Meade Post field meet, Pfc. William H. Wright, running under the colors of the Third Armored Cavalry Regiment, ran away with first place honors in the 880-yard run, the only track event on the exciting twilight program.

Prior to entering service in January, Pfc. Wright held the position of physical education teacher and coach at the Mecklenburg County Training School, South Hill, Va., for 14 months after finishing Virginia State College, Class '49.

As a wearer of the Trojan Orange and Blue from 1945 to 1949, he participated in basketball, track, cross-country and captained the wrestling team in his senior year with two consecutive CIAA championships (.21 lb) behind him.

Presently, the ex-Statesman is assistant to Cpl. Luther H. Johnson, company clerk, Howitzer Company, Third Battalion, Third Armored Cavalry Regiment, while awaiting his application for Officers Candidate School to materialize.

Still a youngster, the 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Wright, Williamsburg, Va. plans to complete his work towards a master's degree in Physical Education at Columbia University and return to the teaching and coaching profession when his tour of service ends.
