NOTHING

BUT MADE-TO-MEASURE CLOTHES.

No ready-made, consequently, no stock to carry; no large upkeep, and, consequently, we are making clothes to order. Fit, quality and workmanship fully guaranteed. Same quality for less money than you can buy ready-mades. The large line comprising 500 styles of all wool suitings for Spring and Summer is ready for inspection—$12.60 the suit, gradually leading up to the finest imported fabrics. Ask some of the large number we clothed last year about this service and the price.

Respectfully,

Health Officer in Town.

Mr. Tulman, of the State Board of Health, has been in the town for the past several days investigating the health conditions of the town. He came here at the suggestion of the State Board of Health, which, we understand, is sending its representatives to other towns in the State on similar missions. Mr. Tulman has made an exhaustive investigation of conditions surrounding the town's drinking water system, and he states that a deplorable condition exists around the premises on the hill at the end of Cross street, as well as through the ravine. The officer is clothed with authority from the State Board of Health to enforce a remedy for existing dangers, and we understand that he will take immediate steps to remedy existing menacing conditions, and to have the ditch in the ravine, which he states drains the surface for a great distance, either bricked up or piped so as to prevent the contamination of the drinking water. We shall ask Mr. Tulman to prepare an article setting forth existing conditions for publication next week. Mr. Tulman met a number of prominent ladies and gentlemen interested in the health of the town at the Voshell House last evening and he went thoroughly into conditions as he finds them. The citizens had the pleasure to meet Mr. Tulman's wife, who is as much interested in the work of her husband as he is himself.

Little Girl's Perilous Position.

Little Miss Theodosea Chapman, the interesting two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Walter Chapman, of Washington avenue, went up in her playroom in the attic alone on Wednesday afternoon to play with her blocks. The third story window overlooking the bay window veranda was left open by Mrs. Chapman just the height of an ordinary book. The little girl climbed through the small opening without causing the window to fall, and got out on the veranda, which is some 25 feet from the ground. The little girl evidentlly realized her perilous position, for when she saw where she was she began to call "Mama, Mama." Her mother heard her little one's cries, and upon going to the playroom she found the child on the veranda. Horrified at the dangerous position of the little girl, Mrs. Chapman maintained her composure and going quietly to the window she raised it and caught the little one in her arms and brought her to safety. How the little girl could have gotten through such a small openining in the window is a marvel, and why she did not lose her balance and fall to the ground with possibly fatal injury is a mystery. The mother was horrified when she saw where Theodosea was.

While enroute to Kennedyville from his farm in Turner's Creek yesterday morning, Mrs. Stahr, housekeeper for Mr. William Price, was thrown from the carriage by the carriage getting in a dangerous rut in the road, and landed in the muddy road between the two wheels. Mr. Price's good reinsmanship prevented Mrs. Stahr from being seribusly hurt. This is a most dangerous place in the public road, and should have been mended long ago.
