THE BATTLE OF QUESTION MARKS:

Louis-Marciano Fight Most Important in Years

NEW YORK—The answers to a great many questions in the heavyweight division will be answered tonight (Friday), beginning 10:12 o'clock in Madison Square Garden when Joe Louis, Detroit's once-mighty Brown Bomber, and Rocky Marciano clash in 15 rounds, or less, in the most important bauble without a title at stake in many years.

This is a battle of question marks between Louis and Marciano and should settle the important points of how good is Marciano and whether or not Louis can make that long climb back.

It is a tussle between the old and new. It is a struggle between experience supposedly on the wane against brash confidence of youth and punching power on the way up. This is "it" for both fighters and it could be the swan song for Louis if he loses.

Louis Seems Ready

It will be a fit Louis, probably in the best condition of his valiant comeback campaign, who will be facing Marciano.

There will be a personal reason as well as the must for victory in this bout for Joe. He never wanted to fight Marciano and finally took the fight. He not only must win but wants to win it by a knockout.

There are some who have seen Louis training for this fight who say that he has never looked as good or as vicious. They say he seems to have regained those vaunted combination punches and if he has, it will be an exceedingly tough evening for the short-armed Marciano.

At Past 10th Time

Louis says he will weigh between 199 and 211 for this fight. It marks his 10th appearance in the ring since he returned to action last September 27, 1950, to fight Ezzard Charles. He lost in that attempt to become the first heavyweight champion to regain the crown. He weighed a sluggish, sloppy 218 that night.

He has won all eight of his bouts since, beating along the line Omo-Ho Agramonte, twice, Cesar Brion, twice, Andy Walker, Freddie Beshore, Lee Savold and Jimmy Bivins. He lapped Walker, Beshore and Savold. He weighed 205½ against Bivins in his last on August 15th. Louis has won 68 of 70 fights, scoring 55 knockouts on the way.

Marciano, 27-years old, will have an edge in 10 years against the 37-year-old Louis but he will have his youth and his speed balanced by years of experience. He also will be spotting Louis some nine inches in reach and three inches in height. It will become a matter of punch and that question remains to be answered.

Past Performances Out

Off the records, Marciano must be considered a tremendous puncher. He remains undefeated in 37 pro bouts, scoring 32 knockouts. He has met two opponents with top names in Roland La Starza and Rex Layne. He defeated La Starza in a split ten, having La Starza on the floor, and he knocked out Layne in 6. Both Marciano and recorded four-round knows over Beshore, the only common opponent they have met.

Once they step in the ring, however, past performances are meaningless measures. Marciano hits hard with either hand. He has had six fights this year, winning five by knockout, his last being the Knyo of Beshore on August 27, in Boston. He weighed 187¼ for that. He expects to weigh 185 for Louis.

At 22% top, some 25,000 persons are expected to pay between $150,000 and $200,000 to witness this key fight in the heavyweight class.

Tough Test for M'Allister Monday

Jimmy McAllister begins a second try at getting a ring comeback Monday night at the Coliseum when he tackles Basil Marie of Philadelphia in the 10th round headliner of the Squires A.C. mauling menu.

The former local featherweight contender already had one comeback campaign well under way, but it ran into an open switch when Jimmy essayed to drop smacks with hard-punching Baby Ortiz several weeks ago.

McAllister's hopes took a temporary tumble when the fast-moving Ortiz consistently beat him to the punch and stopped him in eight rounds. Until that time, Jimmy was moving right along on a three-bout winning streak following his return to action after more than a year's layoff because of his broken arm.

Jimmy had scored technical knockouts over Jorge Valentino and Jimmy Nicholson and won a decisive verdict from Jesus Corcoor before running afoul of the tough-fighting Ortiz.

Marie Undefeated Here

McAllister is setting his sights ambitiously high in this second edition of his comeback. Although not as powerful a puncher. Marie stands pretty much on a par with Ortiz as a rugged opponent for Jimmy.

The Philadelphian, one of the fanciest boxers local fans have seen recently, hasn't lost yet in the Baltimore ring and turned in a cooling surprise effort last month when he upset this city's hottest ticket prospect, Elmer Barksdale, by taking a split decision.

Motorcycle Polo Game Set for Melrose Park

The Jersey Ranger Motorcycle Club of Perth Amboy will hold a Motorcycle Polo Game at the Melrose Ball Park, at the foot of the Edison Bridge in Sayerville-Township, just off Route 35, Sunday, at 1:30 p.m.

Hold Louis 7-5 Over Marciano

NEW YORK(NNPA)—Joe Louis in quest of the world heavyweight title which he held for eleven and a half years, is a 7-to-5 favorite over Rocky Marciano, undefeated 27-year-old boxer from Brockton, Mass. in their postponed 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Expect 15,000 Fans

Shifted indoors to the Garden when the New York Giants' late-season drive made the Polo Grounds unavailable, the Louis-Marciano bout, at $25 ringside, figures to play to more than 15,000 fans who will pay perhaps $175,000 at the gate.

The bout will be put on both home television and radio.

Sidetracked by the unexpected debrousement of Ezzard Charles by Jersey Joe Walcott last July, in his campaign to become the first heavyweight champion to regain the title, Louis is banking on his vast experience, his superior strength, his edge in reach and the remnants of his boxing skill and punching power to defeat Marciano who also possesses a punch, is determined, rugged, and 10 years Joe's junior.

Since Louis, in his first bout as retired champion, was soundly beaten by Charles 12 months ago, he has won eight straight, beating Cesar Brion and Omelio Agramonte (twice each), Freddie Beshore, Andy Walker, Lee Savold and Jimmy Bivins, a collection of ring stiffs, mediocrities, or old men.

Marciano has won all his 37 pro rights, 32 of them by knockouts, capped by his sixth-round knockout of Rex Layne last July. Only two of his opponents have been "name" fighters—Roland LaStarza, from whom he won a split-decision, and Layne. He admittedly can hit but it is doubted that he has had enough topflight experience to cope with Louis.

Highlight of a recent "Tee Vee Waamboree," telecast was the visit of Don Barksdale, new Bullet basketball star. Don talked with Nick Camareda and, since it was "Western" day on the Waamboree, wore his ten-gallon hat. Barksdale will be featured on WAAM immediately after each Bullet game with a special interview-type program.

Cicero Judge Frees 49 Charged in Riot

CHICAGO—Forty-nine men, who had been under arrest for participation in the riots in July were freed Friday in Cicero Police Court.

A total of 59 men faced judgment on charges of unlawful assembly at the scene of the bloody demonstration to prevent a colored family from moving into a Cicero apartment house.

Nine were fined $10 each and one was fined $25. Those released were declared innocent when sheriff's special investigators identify them. A total of 118 rioters had been seized in July.

Morgan-A. & T. Clash May Provide Season's Thrill

Everything known and unknown in football history is likely to happen tomorrow (Saturday) at Hughes Stadium, when the A. and T. Aggies invade the Morgan Bears' lair.

This hole to be the State's greatest grid tilt this season when the whistle is pulled at 2:00 p.m., sending the powerful A. and T. machine against the smarting Bears, who were knocked from the ranks of the undefeated last Saturday.

Aggies Squirming

Coach Bill Bell's Thunderbolts are squirming too, because of being held to a 7-7 tie last week by the Florida A. and M. Rattlers. But the Aggies are undefeated for the season.

Lady Luck flirted with Coach Eddie Hurt's Bears in the National Classic at Griffith Stadium in Washington, but deserted them just as a tie seemed in their grasp.

Tit-for-tat

Prior to Saturday, Morgan had gone undefeated since 1948, when pushed over by the Aggies, 6-0. The Bears, however, retaliated in 1949, and whipped the Aggies.

It was a different story last year when the fickle goddess could not make up her mind as to which team to smile upon as the two star-studded teams battled to a scoreless deadlock.

The Aggies will be gunning to hand the Bears their second defeat, while Morgan, remembering the humiliation of its 30-13 defeat by West Virginia State, doesn't want its chances at the CIAA title jeopardized any further.

Bears Mentors Busy

The Bear mentors have been busy during the past week working to smooth out the defects in offensive blocking and passing in order to be ready for the Bellringers from down Carolina way.

Seven bands are scheduled to performed at the half-time during which "Miss Homecoming" will be crowned.

Eastwood A. C. Opens Practice

The Easterwood Progressive Athletic Club begins another campaign tonight (Friday) when it begins practice tonight at Douglass High School.

Easterwood which didn't field a team last season due to its denial of court facilities last season, finds more than 20 eager candidates awaiting the first practice. Some of the top notch players in the city will be battling it out for the next five weeks, trying to make the kelly-green and gold interracial squad.

The past week saw Easterwood enter the DPR Monumental League and Manager Joe Mosley has plans to enter the Industrial League as well.

Nightly Practice

Practice sessions will be held each Friday night from 7 to 10 p.m. at Douglass, which will be the home court, and plans are being made to bring the leading amateur clubs from along the Eastern Seaboard throughout the coming season.

Philip Boyer, Easterwood mentor said "From the squad Manager Mosley has gotten together, I feel that Easterwood will field a good club this season. We've got plenty of height and speed and some veterans from our squad of two years ago. With this combination we should give any team a real tussle."

The list of squad candidates is as follows:

George Fonseca, George Favs, Charles Sterwart, Charles Robinson, Carroll Gibson, Al Hirsh, Bernard Scott, Carroll Edwards, Clarence Ford, Donald Abrahams, John Robinson;

James Randall, William Thompson, Melvin Duncan, Clarence Hawkins, Sandy Martin, George Prettlow, Vernon Watts, Coolidge Sneed, and Carlton Dixon.

Washington Caps Revived; May Be Mixed Five Again

WASHINGTON

The Washington Caps, recently accepted as a member of the American Association, a junior pro basketball circuit, may be a mixed crew again this fall.

Dumped out of the powerful National Basketball Association after folding last year, the Caps failed in their bid to rejoin the league shortly afterwards.

A reliable informant discloses that the Caps have approached William (Sugar) Cain, ex-Morgan College luminary; Frank Booth, ex-Howard University cage captain; and Kermit Taylor, the latter a 6-foot 5-inch center who starred in the District Recreation Department League in 1950.

Caps Mixed in 1950

The Caps, a mixed team last year with Earl Lloyd, ex-West Virginia State ace center; and Harold Hunter of North Carolina who played only temporarily before getting the ax, are certain to be an interracial bunch this fall.

The Caps' officials have entered a working agreement with the Baltimore Bullets, once their arch rivals while in the NBA.

The Bullets had five fan players on their roster, and it is definite all won't be retained.

Bullets Kept Two

According to earlier stories, the Bullets kept only Dave Minor, and Don Barksdale, the fabulous duo obtained from the Oakland Bitners.

The other three, George Moore, ex-Lincoln University standout; Harold Hunter, and George Crowe, ex-San Jose State cager, may be obtained by the Caps paralleling the agreement.

The American Association includes such teams as Scranton and Hershey, Pa.; Yonkers, N.Y.; Atlantic City, N.J.; and York, Pa.

Co-Captains of Central State

Adam Scott* (left), 240-pound end, of Armstrong High School, Washington, D.C., and Frank Perry, 180-pound center, of Wayne High School, Lockland, Ohio, co-captains of the Central State Marauders, will see service when the Staters tangle with the Morgan Bears here Saturday, Nov. 3, at Hughes Stadium, in a charity game sponsored by the Frontiers Club.

Morgan-Central Rivalry Hangs on Homecoming

If Morgan and Central State defeat their "Homecoming Day" rivals, this week end, both teams will enter the big November 3 Charity Classic, with identical records.

Both teams have conquered three rivals, while tasting defeat once.

Last year in the Frontiers Club first sponsored game, Morgan nosed out the Ohio entry, 14 to 12.

Unaccustomed to defeat, Coach Hurt is driving the Morganites in overtime drills. He is going to make sure they start future games under a full throttle. In their last week's encounter with West Virginia, they could not get up steam until the final period. The clash saved the West Virginians from being tied.

Minor Injuries Reported

Several of Coach Hurt's protegee were shaken up considerably in this encounter, but barring further injury, the squad should be in fine fettle, come November 3.

This year's battle between these football giants will be played at the Hughes Memorial Stadium. The two teams met last year in the Baltimore Municipal Stadium.

A. Jack Thomas, chairman of the entertainment committee for the Frontiers Club, is busy lining up an elaborate between-the-halves show.

"Miss Morgan," "Miss Central State," and "Miss Frontier" will be crowned "Queen of the Day" by Dr. Bernard Harris, president of the Frontiers club.

Other gala events will be presented for the delight of the huge throng expected to attend.

Globetrotters Here Sunday

Baltimore fans will get a real treat Sunday night, Oct. 28, in the Coliseum when the Harlem Globetrotters meet the Philadelphia Spars in the main event while the Toledo Mercurys play the Chicago Majors in the opening game of the four-team doubleheader.

Reece (Goose) Tatum, the world-famous clown of the court; Marques Haynes, world's greatest dribbler, and Bill (Rookie) Brown, the ex-Philadelphian who now makes Hollywood his home since his advent in pictures, will be supported by Pop Gates, ex-New York Renas star; Clarence Wilson from Tenn. State College; Sam Wheeler, Philander Smith in Arkansas; Ermer Robinson of San Deigo State, Bobby Milton from Anderson College, Inds. and a few others.

The 25th season opened officially in Chicago last friday night when the Trotters defeated the U. S. Stars, 68 to 36, before a crowd of 14,805. Following the world series game in 1952, the team is booked in South America, Europe, North Africa, East Coast of Afria, Hawaii, Japan and the Philippines. The 1952 season will end in October.

Lincoln-Howard Game to Star 'Miss Classic'

WASHINGTON

A contest to select "Miss Classic," who will reign as queen of the Lincoln-Howard football game on Thanksgiving, was announced this week.

Young women between the ages of 18 and 25, single and not professional models, are eligible. The selection will be made by the Lincolnites, a club composed of Lincoln men.

Entry blanks and further information may be obtained from the Journalists Associates, 3737 Lancaster Ave., Philadelphia 4, telephone Baring 2-3012.

THE EUROPEAN STORY is told each week by Ollie Stewart in his "Report From Europe" written in Paris.

Air-Minded Bears Top Sportsmen by 13 to 6

The Harlem Bears went to the air to set up two touchdowns and beat the Imperial Sportsmen, 13-6, Sunday at Carroll Park to earn first round honors in the Bureau of Recreation's Monumental Unlimited Football League.

The Bears had to stave off a determined last quarter drive by the Wilton Lounge eleven to assure victory. The game ended with the Sportsmen knocking at the Bears goal line from the five-yard line.

The Spartans A. C. turned back three last quarter drives by Tim Bright's Hillybillys to hold last year's champion to a 7-7 tie at Druid Hill enclosure. This was the third tie for each team in the first round. The Spartans dominated play in the first half, as they have in their other two league game, but lost drive in the second half.

Hillbillys Vs. Bears

This Sunday's scedule pits the Hillbillyz against the Bears at Easterwood Park, 2:00 p.m. and the Sportsmen opposite the Spartans at Carroll Park, 3:00 p.m. in the opening games of the second round.

The Sparrows Point Eagles broke loose in the second half for three touchdowns to trounce the Baltimore Culloh Macs, 24-6, at Druid Hill first place in the Cross City Intermediate League. The win clinched the win clinched the first round title for the Eagles. The Black Cats scored a last period touchdown to tie the Hillocks, 6-6, in another league contest at Carroll Park.

The Black Cats take on the Mt. Culloh Macs this Sunday at 12 noon on Carroll Park No. 2. At the same time the Hillocks will entertain the morning Sparrows Point Eagles in Easterwood Park.
