Unbeaten Aggies Set for Stadium Contest

25,000 Expected to See Air Battle Between Rivals; Irvin Honor Guest

WASHINGTON

The stage is set for another dramatic football festival in Griffith Stadium, Saturday night, when unbeaten A. and T. College faces the challenge of the upcoming Virginia State Trojans in the tenth Jubilee Capital Classic.

Coach Bill Bell's Aggies, all-winning in the CIAA and tied by formidable Florida A. and M., are cast in the role of favorites for color classic honors over the Trojans, soon as a dangerous foe.

The Carolinians must whip the Virginians if they are to maintain their dominance of the 1951 conference race, and Coach Sylvester (Sal) Hall is determined to make this—his first presentation of a college club on a Washington field—a victorious one. Thus, the stage is set for a big and tuck gridiron battle.

Air Battle Expected

The Trojans, who have been the victims of three close calls in six games, have speed and a tricky combination of pass plays which could wreck the Aggie's hopes. Under Hall, former Cardozo High School mentor, the Virginians have amassed 133 points in six games, highest scoring record in the CIAA.

Most of the Trojans' touchdowns have been collected through the air, and wide open football is in prospect for the anticipated crowd of 25,000 fans.

On the ground the Trojans are expected to have difficulty moving against Bell's hefty forward wall which averages around 229 pounds, with Big Bill Boyers, 252 - pound tackle from Milwaukee, Wis., as the sparkplug.

Line Unscored On

The Aggies have a vulnerable spot, however, in their air defense which has yielded all of the 19 points given up to the opposition this season, and it is this supposed weakness at which Coach Hall obviously intends to thrust the main Trojan attack. The Aggies have scored 96 points against five foes.

Charlie Thompson, 6 - foot-1, of Charlottsville, Va., and Floyd Keene, 5-foot-11 from Pittsburgh, Pa., are a pair of ends which the Trojans depend on to make the air attack click. Lawrence Emmanuel of Norfolk, Va., will provide musington's own diminutive Leo Miles, ex-Cardozo standout, probably will do most of the passing.

Both teams will be angling for their first victory in the Capital Classic. The Aggies lost to Tennessee State, 9-6, last year, and Va. State dropped a game to W. Va. State in the 1948 event.

Irvin Honor Guest

One of the highlights see the Armistice Day Eve show will be the appearance of Monte Irvin, New York Giants' World Series hero, who will be guest of honor. Irvin, who will arrive in Washington Friday evening, will crown the "Miss Capital Classic" during the elaborate half-time ceremony.

Three bands, the two college bands plus the illuminated Booker T. Washington High School Band will provide music, while the queen, Miss Carolyn Nita Hammond, escorted by a bevy of beauties, is crowned.

H.U. Closes Home Slate with Delaware

WASHINGTON

Strutting a three-game win streak, its longest this season, Howard University will encounter its easiest opposition in undermanned Delaware, Saturday, Nov. 10, at 2 p.m., on the Bisons' field.

The contest marking the Bisons' 1951 final home appearance is an important tilt for Coach Eddie Jackson whose team was given little chance to crack the first division this season.

A win over Delaware will assure the Bisons of a first division berth with a 5-3 record. The only remaining tilt of questionable doubt of the Bisons' outcome is the Thanksgiving Day tussle in Philadelphia with Lincoln University.

Consistent in 1st Division

Jackson's grid teams have landed in the first division every year since 1945 when the Bisons posted a 4-4 mark, and plunged to the second division in his second year on the hilltop.

On basis of comparative team records, Howard with a 4-3 record is being rated as much as a four touchdown favorite over the luckless Hornets who have won only one of six contests.

The Hornets, undergoing a shuffle in coaches in a recent upheaval at the school, turned up with only nine lettermen under newly appointed coach, William Jones, ex-Morgan star.

Veteran Coach Bob White was ousted in a faculty shakeup in late summer, and with him went most of the talent for the 1951 team.

Under a new coach called in at short notice and short on grid material, Delaware is experiencing one of its worst years.

Poor Record for Hornets

The Hornets dropped their first four games, Morgan, 45-6; Cheyney, 3-0; Smith, 24-7; Lincoln, 34-0; whipped St. Paul, 14-0 and bowed to Maryland State, 18-6 last week-end.

Coach Jones is counting on the play of Center Johnny Bundy, Tackle Andy McCleary and Ends Bill Jones and Bob Hunter to give the Hornets at least an impressive showing.

The only backs with experience of more than one season are Robert Ramsey and Clarence Harris.

At Howard, Jackson's biggest problem is to check the apparent overconfidence of his charges after being under stiff pressure for most of their games this season.

It has not been forgotten that in 1946 when Howard entered its game with Delaware a big favorite, but never got started effectively, and emerged on the short end of a 18-7 score.

Pleasant Moments in sports by Bob Considine

"MICK THE MILLER"—WORLD'S GREATEST GREYHOUND

IN AND AROUND COUNTY WICLOW, Ireland, folks are still talking about "Mick the Miller," greatest greyhound that ever lived. After whipping all comers in Wicklow and neighboring counties, "Mick's" owner took him to London—where he romped home in the English Derby in 1929 and burned up the tracks for the next two years, winning purses amounting to more than $50,000. Yes, from the tip of his nose to the tip of his tail, "Mick the Miller" was every inch a champion.

Kid Gavilan Stops Janiro

DETROIT — Kid Gavilan, punching sharper and with more accuracy than he ever had, scored a TKO over Tony Janiro here Wednesday night, in 2:41 of the fourth round of their ten-round non-title fight.

Gavilan, weighing 149¾ pounds to Janiro's 153¾, floored the Youngstown welterweight contender in the first round, and twice in the fourth before Referee Clarence Reem halted the bout.

A crowd of 6,656 paid a gross receipt of $18,959 to see the bout.

Eastwood Five Shows Progress

With two weeks of practice under their belt, the Easterwood Progressive A.C. is beginning to take shape. Coach Philip Boyer has had a very large turnout of candidates and after this week's practice will cut the squad to more playable shape.

Early sessions have shown George Pretlow and Vernon Waits, former Easterwood veterans, displaying keen eyes and plenty of speed. Both of these men have been hitting the hoop with midseason form. Charles Robinson and John Robinson, two newcomers have been outstanding off the backboards, with C. Robinson playing effectively in the pivot.

One of the early surprises has been Clarence Ford, who has come to the fore with a fine display of back court generalship and back court play. Other who are rounding into form are Carroll Gibson, Carroll Edwards, Mel Duncan, Donald Abrams, Carlton Dixson and young Charles Stewart.

With two more weeks before league play begins, Easterwood's coach, said, "I'm very pleased the way the boys have been coming along. We'll be ready when the opening whistle blows."

Easterwood received a big lift in its seasons hopes when Ray King, Easterwood's outstanding player of two years back, was discharged from the Army this past week, and will report for practice this Friday night in the new Dunbar High School gym at 7 p.m.

Barksdale May Face Syracuse

Baltimore's rapidly improving bout to the NBA's eastern division leading Syracuse Nationals at 9 p.m.

Then, two nights later, the Bullets come right back, when on Monday night, Nov. 12, Coach Fred Scolari's hoopsters entertain the great George Mikan-led Minneapolis Lakers on the Coliseum's hardwood.

With a 1-2 log, the Bullets hope to upset the dope and grab a pair of much needed victories to put them right in the thick of the title scramble, if such can be said about the race at this early stage.

A return to the form the locals flashed last Monday night in beating the Philadelphia Warriors (96-90) should go a long way toward aiding the Bullets in gaining this desired goal.

Barksdale suffered an enforced layoff last Monday against the Warriors due to his aching feet.

Westport Race Finals Reset for Saturday

Weather permitting, the stock car racing season in Maryland will come to a close Saturday night at the Westport Stadium with a banquet program featuring a 100 lap championship finale.

Last week, promoter Ed Otto had planned to close out the 1951 year but inclement weather postponed the contemplated finish and deferred same until this Saturday night.
