Old Year, Sans Fanfare, Bows Out With Muted Fun

with Lula Jones Garrett

Old Man Fifty-One took his leave with far less fanfare among the top drawer crowd than usual this year.

Maybe it was because the host guests of the Monumental City was more or less tuckered out from the week of high jinks in connection with the AKA Boule.

KAPPAS HOST

Though some scores of fraters and sorors peered through champagne glasses at the Alcoa to see the New Year in under a pink glow.

Twas the "Champagne Sip" given by Kappa Alpha Psi honoring AKAs, and topping just about everything that was happening in town that night. Paleonarch Vincent Tubbs hovered about the fountain from which the wine poured throughout the night, seeing that no glasses were emptied.

Paul Pulsmarch E. B. Umphries guided guests to high trays of hors d'oeuvres. There were music and dancing and colorful hats to lend a festive air.

MURPHYS' GUESTS

In another part of town (Morgan Park) the Carl Murphys had their daughters and son-in-law in for prayer and super augmented by Dr. and Mrs. Louis Harmon, the Ernest Humbles of Washington, the Bill Alexanders, and Lloyd Hurst, Brooklyn, N.Y. attorney. Later the guest group (including the Edward Smiths and Bob Mathieses) went on to the Chesapeake Club, where they were guests of the Frank Phillipses during the remainder of the night.

FORTES' PARTY

Dr. and Mrs. A. U. Forte entertained following the AKA holiday dance at breakfast at their home.

About were the William Gibsons, Walter Grays, Lynde Jordans, Clyde Pattersons; Florence Dennis, Helena Hall, Betty Williams, Donald Hargrove, and Harry Carpenter.

The Carroll Hynsons and Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson of Annapoli, were there. So were Jane Parker of Savannah, Ga. and William Hall and C. McGill of Washington.

VISITOR FETED

Mrs. Helen Stephen, of Indianapoli, Ind., mother-in-law and mother (respectively) of Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Harris Jr., was the guest in whose honor the latter gave their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Harris Sr., entertained on Saturday.

The affair, a buffet dinner, was at the Chesapeake Club, and had a bevy of assisting hostesses including Mesdames Nicki Randolph, Elise Clarke, Ellsworth Rhetta and Bernadine Harrison.

Guests included:

Mesdames Elsie Wongus, Juanita Kelson, Julia McDonald, Edna F. Browne, Vecha Dorsey, Mamie Carey, Alice B. Smith, Aurelia Stanley,

Mesdames Florence Gloster, Betty Gloster, Elizabeth Henderson, Harriet Waite, Augusta Terrence, Rachel Hatcher, Jerry Talbott,

Mesdames Hattie Howard, Florine Camper, Pauline Watts, Edna Barksdale, Anita Thomas, Mamie Kunz, Pauline McGuinn, Pauline Wharton; Miss Anita Williams,

Mrs. L. B. Milton of Atlanta, Ga., Mrs. William Long of Pittsburgh and Mrs Josephine Talbott of Washington

SMITHS ENTERTAIN

Sampling their good luck dishes, along with dinner at the Norman Smiths on New Year's Eve were the Alexander Browns, Florelle Wileys, Isadore Dickens, Harvey Rices, William Wallaces; and Veronica Campher and Juanita Young.

The party was at the Smiths' newly acquired Baker Street home, which was all aglow for the holidays. There were cards and spring, etc.

MARK BIRTHDAYS

Florelle and LaVerne Wiley had a birthday party at their McCulloh Street home, all done up in a merry package of sippables, three-course menu, games and dancing in the swank club room.

About for the festivities were: Messrs. and Mesdames Lawton Brooks, Randolph Levi, George Taliferro, John Spencer, William Wallace, Edward Thomas, and Alexander Brown; and Norman Smith.

ANNUAL PARTY

The week before, small "Skipper" Gibson (son of the Bill Gibsons) held his annual (?) Christmas party, being assisted by equally small Marie Phillips in the role of hostess.

And believe you, Marie was perfectly conscious of the role, too, all done up in pink pique, with a hooped skirt, pink hankie in her pocket and emerald bracelet on her arm.

Other small fry about were Larry and Brownyn Case, Cheryl and Stanley Frazier, E. Gray Lloyd Jr., Alma Thompson, Sheets Holden and Philadhea Hall.

G. G.'s MEET

Mrs. Augusta Chissell entertained the G. G. Club on New Year's Eve at her Druid Hill Avenue home

A session of cards was sandwiched between eggnog and supper. Guest was Mrs. Viola Lynch who spent the holidays as guest of Miss Dukye Woode.

Also about were Mesdames Gladys Sheppard, Harriet White, Catherine Adams, Marion Johnson, Mattie Connor, and Mae Campbell.

POT-POURRI

Guess who is tickled pink? Small Harriet Lee (daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Dudley Lee) because her baby sister, Helen Ruth, arrived on her (Harriet's) birthday, December 28. The new young lady weighs 7 pounds, 5 oz. The Clarence (Juanita) Mitchells have another son a New Year baby who bowed in at their residence, Tuesday morning, just missing his mother's birthday by a day. He has been named George Davis Mitchell from his paternal uncle. The baby, weighing 8 pounds, 12 oz., is the Mitchells' third all sons.

And Jack and Darleen Aiston added their New Year bit to new citizenry by becoming parents of a daughter at Provident Hospital on New Year's morning.

KIDDIES FETED

The Maters, a recently organized club of young mothers held forth at a Christmas Party for the children at the Whitmore Avenue home of Bernice Parker.

The small guest spent the afternoon pinning whiskers on Santa, listening to records and stories and giving and receiving gifts. Then they trooped down to the club cellar where a table loaded with moulded green trees ringed with cottage-cheese snow and cookies, and a huge bowl of egg-nog awaited them.

Children about were Ricky Carter, Eugene and Billy Taylor, Douglass Parker, Sharon Boulden, Leslie Graham, Carla Glover, Terrence Bright, Albert, Ronald, and Herbert Lawson and Mary Weston.

Members of the club are Frances Ralph Graham, Mary Carter, Jean Taylor, Bernice Parker, Willa Boulden, Ruby Glover, Elois Bright, Naomi Lawson and Ruby Mills Taylor.

Jane Weston a Canadian house guest of Frances Graham came and fetched her little Mary.

Wrights Hosts

Following the Kappas' champagne sip, Rea and David Wright held forth at a gay breakfast, with Joyce and Laudi Sawyer of Washington, Ben and Adele Foreman, Enoch Mason and Jane Parker of Savannah, Ga. and Ed and Liz Williams about.

Williamses Entertain

And added to the post-dance cocktailers was that of the Edward Williamses, who had as guests, Maude and Sam Williams, Marshall Bright, Cleo and Park Diggs, Wilhelmina Garner (Dr. Garner is still in from that recent illness) Enoch Mason and Jane Parker of Savannah.

Mrs. Josie G. Smith (she's stepmother of Jet Smith, high school, English) has almost completely recovered from a virus infection which has had her confined at home since November. Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Hurst have returned from Mt. Vernon, N.Y., where they holidayed with their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Fair.

She'll Do What She Likes!
MRS. RUBY JONES
"The best resolution for the New Year"—says Mrs. Ruby Jones of 1220 East Eager Street—"is not to make any resolution at all. I'm just going on as usual — doing everything I like to do!
"For instance, I like to shop at HENDIN'S. I don't make any New Year's resolution to keep on shopping at HENDIN'S. It's already a habit with me—because in my opinion, HENDIN'S has the smartest clothes in town!"
Some day, you too, will visit HENDIN'S for the first time—and once you've tried on some of the stunning Hollywood Fashions that are available only at HENDIN'S in Baltimore—you won't need to make any resolutions to come back. You'll be just like Mrs. Jones—and you'll keep on shopping regularly at HENDIN'S because it's something you just love to do.

Chicago Headquarters, Campus Houses Among Purchasing Plans

Asks Moore Investigation, Dr. Apenfels New Member, Scholarship to Dr. Jones

The more than 600 delegates, meeting in the 31st annual boule of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, here, last week, voted to purchase national headquarters in Chicago, build sorority houses at Kansas University and the University of Indiana, support the American Council on Human Rights and aid the research project in child development at Freedmen's Hospital, Washington.

Protest Murder

The body stopped its business session on Saturday morning to send telegrams of protest against the brutal killing of Harry T. Moore and the fatal injury of Mrs. Moore in the Florida bombing.

The messages to President Truman, Gov. Fuller Warren and J. Howard McGrath of the State Department, Washington, said:

"Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, representing 15,000 members, urges immediate and full investigation of the undemocratic and brutal killing of American citizens including the most recent murder of Harry T. Moore and the serious injury to his wife. We urge a just prosecution of the guilty parties by our government.

"In the midst of the world struggle for peace and brotherhood it is both shocking and disheartening that we should be guilty of such atrocities and violations of human rights."

$2,000 to Freedmen's

The organization voted $2,000 to the child development research program at Freedmen's Hospital as a part of the nation-wide health service rendered by the sorority.

In commenting on the establishing of sorority houses, Supreme Basileus Laura Lovelace said that though the housing program of the sorority is in its infancy, houses for college and university students will be purchased as needs are indicated. AKA houses will serve as tools of democratic living where all races may fraternize and grow in appreciation and understanding, she said.

Scholarship to Dr. Jones

Dr. Glenn Jones of the Morgan State College faculty, was awarded a fellowship for foreign study, next year.

Other business included the voting and acceptance of an honorary membership to Dr. Josephine E. Apenfels of the Department of Human Relations at New York University, and an author of note.

Dr. Apenfels joins several noted women in this relationship with Alpha Kappa Alpha, including Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Miss Marian Anderson and Madam Pandit of India.

Mrs. Lovelace Re-elected

Mrs. Laura Lovelace, of Cincinnati, Ohio, was re-elected to the post of supreme basileus without opposition. Also unopposed for the post of supreme tamiochus was Mrs. Irma F. Clark of Chicago, Ill.

Newly elected officers are:

Miss Norma Carter, of the University of Indiana, Bloomington, Ind., second anti-basileus; Mrs. Mary Soshee, Muskogee, Okla., Mid-Western regional director; Miss Eugene Long, Austin, Texas, South Central regional director; and Mrs. Fannette Morris, Detroit, Mich., Great Lakes regional director.

World Travelers Heard

The daily luncheons were highlighted by talks by world travelers on the general theme "Our Freedom Through World Freedom."

They included:

Mrs. Alice Arrington, Baltimore, executive director of the Madison Avenue Branch YWCA, recently returned from Switzerland, on "We View Europe;" Soror Merze Tate, Howard University faculty, "India in Transition;" Soror Margaret D. Bowen, Atlanta, Ga., "Our Share in Africa's Problems."

Next to Cleveland

The 1952 boule will be held in Cleveland, Ohio, where the Alpha Greek letter societies will convent at the same time. They include Delta Sigma Theta, Zeta Phi Beta sororities, and Alpha Phi Alpha, Phi Beta Sigma and Kappa Alpha Psi fraternities.

The Baltimore boule was hosted by Epsilon Omega and Alpha Delta chapters, headed by Soror Mildred Seaborne and Ruthe Davis, respectively.

The planning committee chairmen included Sorors Agnes Patterson, Verniece W. Reynolds, Mabel L. Frisby, Lilla Barnum, Beatrice Butler, Mildred Seaborne, Edna O. Gray, Florence Dennis, Delliphine Warrington and Louise Shirley Moody, Gertrude Urquhart, Sergeant.

GROSS — Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin J. Gross of 2323 Windsor Ave. are spending their 25th anniversary visiting friends in NYC.

AKA Sorors Have Fun At Open Formal Dansant

The new Hurt Gymnasium on Morgan State College's campus was literally bulging at the seams when the host of Alpha Kappa sorors and their guests gathered there for the open formal dance sponsored by Epsilon Omega chapter last Thursday evening. This was only one of the many gay boule affairs.
