Debutante Daughters Honorees At Reception

(June) the stork is expected to make a four-point landing.

George Murphy, Sr. is vacationing in Atlantic City. Mrs. Fan Fax Ring left on Saturday for San Francisco, Calif., but not ere a group of friends staged a surprise bon voyage party for her. At the affair were Mesdames Mollie Taliferro, Fionnie Wright, Kelly Jackson, Annie Caulk and Laura Wheatley.

Mrs. King, along with her brother, the Rev. Charles Briggs, will attend the general conference of the Methodist Church.

PEREGRINATORS

George I. Bryan and William M. H. Birche Jr. were in Philly, last week, where they were guests of Rayman Johnson, thence to New York for a visit with the George I. Bryan Jr.

Dr. and Mrs. Dudley Lee's son, Dudley Jr., returned to Goshen, N.Y., this week, where he is a student at the Salesian School. He spent the spring vacation here, coming particularly to see his baby sister christened and to be present at the attending party.

Off to Brooklyn, N.Y., Thursday, went George Rosedom, attorney, and Mrs. Rosedom and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woodland Jr. to attend the formal dance of that city's chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, at that city's swank jest spot, Maksie's Town and Country Club.

Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Campbell had as week-end guests, Dr. and Mrs. Horace Smalls of Denton, Md. The visitors were here for the Me-De-So's Debutante Ball. And recently guests of Miss Mary Louise Allen (YWCA staff) were her father, Dr. C. Lincoln Allen and aunt and cousin, Mrs. Charles B. Howard and Charles W. Howard.

DATE DATA

Come tonight (Friday) and the Signas will be chef food at the formal dance in Morgan Refectory. Most of the Deltas are off to Maryland State College where they are sponsoring a jobs opportunity conference.

The Baltimore Gay Northeasterners have a party rigged up for their Washington contemporaries at the home of Mrs. Marjorie Jenkins, Morgan State College Campus tonight (Friday).

On Saturday, Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity's "Education for Citizenship" program is set for WFBR at 7:30, when Dr. William Lemmel, superintendent of Baltimore schools, and Furman Templeton, executive secretary of the Baltimore Urban League, will be cited.

On the same evening, the town will go a-caharting with the Postal Employees at the Star Arena.

The next afternoon (Sunday) the Liaison Club will share a cock-

Me-De-Sos Explain How They Select Debutantes

with Lula Jones Garrett

Some 600 guests saw 15 young women presented to society in Baltimore, Friday night, under the sponsorship of the Me-De-So Club's members.

And aside from having some questions answered through the evening, enjoyed a fine cotillion, saw some fine clothes, and had a spot of fine dancing afterwards.

Top question, the basis upon which the young women who are presented are selected, was answered by Dr. Albert I. Forest, who explained that neither family background nor financial status was of consideration.

The requirement, said he, was that they be possessed of the characteristics that go to make fine womanhood, that they be at least 17 years of age. The last requirement, by the way, was what took cute Marcia Chapman off of this year's list.

The girls came from a varied section, as for instance, the Dorsey sisters, Grace and Ovella, who are preparing for teaching at Coppin Teachers College; brilliant Sandra Kipps, who had a startling offer of scholarships to choose from, who took Vassar; Jean Wilson of Howard University, Jeanne Randall of Woodbine, Md., Kathryn Cooburne of Bowie, and a couple from Philadelphia, Emma Pitts and Joan Harris.

There was really a show of fine clothes: no finer of which was an exquisite embroidered and plain banded frock worn by Me-De-So Wife Jeannette Christian. The Fath original, an all-over beaded navy lace worn by Mrs. Bernice Monroe, executive director of the affair; and the gold nylon net swathed and peplum-ed affair designed by Mary Pitts of Morgan Home Economics Department, worn by the debutante queen, Post-Deb Jean Henderson.

There was a lot of work behind the scenes, including some six weeks of training, during which the debutantes were coached in all the graces, from how to hold a hand to what color of nail polish to wear.

There was a lot of work on the scene, including the last-touches added by Me-De-So Wife Jimmy LaForest.

After the presentation, guests lingered to sip punch, nibble a canape, dance until a small hour.

MRS. CHISSELL HOSTESS

On Sunday afternoon, Mrs. R. Garland Chissell entertained at a buffet supper at her home at which Mrs. Marian Downs, recently returned from Italy, was honoree.

In fact, 10 of the guests had visited foreign countries, including France, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, England, Israel, Liberia, Peru, Russia and Mexico.

Guests, who heard Mrs. Downs sing several arias and joined in a discussion during the evening, were:

Dr. Irene Diggs, Mrs. Carol Blanton Diggs, Mrs. Martin Jenkins, Mrs. Carl Murphy, Mrs. Houston Jackson, Mrs. Clarence Mitchell, Mrs. Alice Arrington.

Mrs. Arthur Paine, Mrs. Robert Young, Mrs. William Watts, Mrs. Isabel Clark, Mrs. Laura Wheatley, Mrs. Robert Proctor.

BEACH PARTY SCORES

Members of "The Ten" club ended the holiday celebration with a rushing-the-season dance, which they decided, last year, to make annual.

Bright beach umbrellas, yellow sand, gally-colored plastic balls, painted conrals and individual picnic baskets gave Biddle Hall an atmosphere of Miami Beach.

Also adding to this setting was the attire worn by club members and guests, and what a variety of beach togs there were!

The president and secretary of the club (Mary Bevans and Sadie Jenkins) were close rivals in yellow and navy peddle-pushers, and matching tee shirts. Reba Brooks, business manager, danced about in apron-front sharkskin shorts and blue jersey top.

In belted black-striped shorts of cotton jersey, topped with Black silk tee shirt was Florence Dennis, who made an attractive contrast to the yellow and lime terry cloth shorts and halters of Carrie Stotts and Dorothy Foster.

Backless shiny frocks were much in the limelight, too. In aqua and pink were Angela Wilson and Minnie Dorsey, while Betty Williams displayed a white waffle-weave pique. Smart in slacks with matching tops were Sadie M. Douglass and Leona Jackson. Delores Ashby added a tennis note in blue denim culottes, halter and cap.

Among some 250 guests who attended were Evelyn Foster of New York City, Annette Williams of Chester, Pa., Maurice Butler of Norfolk, Va., Mr. and Mrs. George Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hatton, and William Hall of Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Green of Glen Burnie, Md., Gail Brooks of Seat Pleasant, Md. and Mr. and Mrs. James Chambers of Halethrope, Md.

MRS. DeSHIELDS ENTERTAINS

Miss Ruth Hall and her cousin, Miss Louise Brooks, were the guests in whose honor Mrs. Lawrence DeShields gave a surprise party at her place at Annapolis Junction, Howard County, Sunday.

The honorees, both of Baltimore, were joined by scores of other Baltimoreans, including:

Mr. and Mrs. William Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Chesley, Mr. and Mrs. George Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Thomas, Roy Carter, Ralph Thomas, Harry Miles,

Frank Smarta, Herbert Johnson, William Thomas, Paul Warren, Wesley Petti, Misses Ruth Booker, Helen Lamb, Justine Pendergrass, Harriet Gibson, Bernice Wilson.

Misses Viola Hall, Alverta Mitchell, Justine Christmas, Mary Johnson, Elizabeth Beverly, Ruth Randall, Marquette Hamlet: and Guy Braxton.

From other cities came Miss Alma Smith, Gus Allen and Mr. and Mrs. S. Allen of New York; Charles Graves, Dave Warren, Miss Helen Schuyler, Miss Lavarne Fortune, Miss Vernette Fredericks of Washington and Mr. and Mrs. James Gray of Philadelphia.

PALS FETED

Just when we were about to believe that men could no more keep secrets than they thought (not that I believed) women could except when asleep, the husbands of "The Pal" upset the apple cart.

They (the husbands) were tighter than clams about the party they planned for their wives a Friday ago, revealing only that there was to be a date at a particular time.

When the wives, dressed in their prettiest frocks, arrived at the home of Milton Allen, attorney, for cocktails, they were taken to the YWCA where the dining room had been reserved and a banquet table spread.

The gentlemen had even composed an original song, had garnered Vurnell Lockwood as MC and he in turn had dug up fitting poetry, and each had garnered a charming little silver key which was presented to the girl of his dreams. Keys bore the name of the club.

After the dinner the group returned to Mr. Allen's club room, where there were more cocktails hors d'oeuvres, dancing and games.

The Pals and their husband are:

Milton and Martha Allen, Clarence and Jeanette Blount, Bill and Margret Land, Vurnell and Frances Lockwood, John and Alice Murphy.

John and Bee Myers, Otis and Cordelia Oliver, Don and Alma Parker, Raymond and Ruby Taylor, Jimmy and Helen Thomas, Calvin and Annie Thompson, Joe and Esther Wiles and Leonard and Ruth Wilmore.

And, they had guests, Charles Lynch and Carol Newton.

MISS HARRIS HONOREE

Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Harris entertained at a dinner party in honor of their daughter, Anita Elaine, on Friday evening, prior to the latter's debut at the Me-De-So's Ball at Morgan Refectory.

Sharing honors was Miss Alice Bazemore, and other fellow debutantes.

Misses Sarah Bragg, Elain Shoemaker, Joan Harris, Emma Pitts, Joan Wilson, Mercedes Douglas, Ovella and Grace Dorsey and Shirley Lottier.

Guests at the party also included Mrs. Bernice Monroe, co-director; and Miss Joan Henderson, post-deb.

Edith Howard Davidson flew in from Austria, this week. Her husband, Capt. Walter T. Davidson, will be home from that country, next month, and right on his heels

AT THE AFRO HONORS Senator HARRY PHOEBUS

SENATOR HARRY PHOEBUS

SENATOR HARRY PHOEBUS was featured on the 1950 AFRO honor roll for his outstanding work in his home county of Somerset and for the fine job he has done and is doing as a State official. Senator Phoebus received a letter and a plaque from the AFRO in recognition of his outstanding work.

Senator Phoebus fights for the rights of everyone. First elected to the State House of Delegates in 1917, his first bills sought to repeal the jim-crow travel law, equalize teachers' salaries and the schools terms for all children in his county.

Senator Phoebus feels that he has been successful because he firmly believes that "All of us are citizens and are entitled to equal opportunities."

Me-De-Sos Present 15 Debutantes At Annual Ball

Formality and stateliness were the key note of the Me-De-So's debutante presentation ball, Friday, in Morgan State College Refectory.

The hall decor was in the motif of an 18th Century drawing room, with brilliant lights, an abundance of flowers against a background of palms.

Yellow-Blue Decor

The Me-De-So cortege section was completely banked with yellow and blue blooms, a complement to the aisle of flowers which carried out the same color scheme. From this focal point Dr. Charles Woodland, president and Dr. Albert I. Forest, master of ceremonies, steered the presentation.

To the majestic strains of Wagner's "Rienzi Overture," 15 lovely debutantes, in billowing white gowns, and carrying bouquets of yellow and blue roses and iris, went through the paces of making their bows.

Debs Listed

Debutantes presented were Anita Harris; Grace Dorsey, Bettye Hawks, Sandra Koger, Ovella Dorsey, Elaine Shoemaker, Joan Harris, Mercedes Douglas, Jeanne Randall, Sara Bragg, Jean Wilson, Emma Pitts, Kathryn Coulbourne, Virginia Walker and Shirley Lottier.

Miss Henderson Reigns

Post Deb Jean Henderson, attired in gold nylon net, and wearing the gold-trimmed velvet robe, served as queen. A jewel-studded crown topped her cascade of curls, and she led a court of sub-debs, laden with the flower gifts to the debs.

The sub-debs included Silvia Atkins, Faulkner Hughes, Ann Sherington, Bernadette Ellison, Miriam Hughes, Marcia Shapman, Doris Oswald, Alfreda Hughes, Carolyn King and Norma Walker.

Pre-deb Audlyn Higgins and Gayle Spanning were flower girls who led the debutante march and the grand march in which the wives of the sponsors, the parents of the debutants and escorts participated.

Escorts Named

Escorts of the Debs were:

Leonard Moore of Bowie, Md., William Rawlings of Hampton, Va., Ralph Davis of Hartford, Conn., James Ralph, Maxie Worthy, Channing Jackson

Theodore Patterson, Herman Carter, John Allen, Charles Brown, Irving Jenkins, Thomas Savage, and Donald Tarter.
