Miss PARA L. MULDROW

You don't have to be a "fashion expert" to appreciate the fact that the outstanding Hollywood Fashions featured at HENDIN'S — are all together different from styles shown in any other store.

A single glance at HENDIN'S beautiful window displays—tells it to you instantly! At least, such is the opinion of Miss Para L. Muldrow of 223 N. Calhoun Street.

"You see so many clothes in so many store windows" says Miss Muldrow,— and somehow they all seem alike! But when you come to HENDIN'S—you just have to stop and admire everything you see. The styles are so lovely—they make your heart skip a beat! I do believe that HENDIN'S have the most beautiful fashion window displays in Baltimore."

Lovely Miss Muldrow is so right! But the "fashions" in Hendin's HENDIN'S windows are only a very few samples of the many exclusive and original creations inside the store. Come in, and top on a many a you like. Without a member—you pay no more for these finer fashions—and you can

FACULTY PARTY

On Tuesday, the principal, Mrs. Roberta Henderson, and faculty of School No 32 had a lovely party and outing at Mrs. Byrd's in Catonsville.

For relaxation there were pinochle, bonanza, and group singing.

Gifts were presented to Dr. Miles W. Connor and Mrs. Ethel Day for services at School No. 132.

Leonna Terrell received a graduatign gift, Mrs. Henderson, a bon voyage gift for her trip to Europe in June, Margaret Freeland, a bridal gift; and Marjorie Proutt, a gift.

Those who enjoyed the party were: Dr. Connor, Ethel Day, Roberta Henderson, Leonna Terrell, Margaret Freeland, Marguerite Smith, Ruth Lee, Rosaland Lee.

Vernice Matthews, Elizabeth Allen, Walter Ganft, James McDonald, Doris Smith, Florence Mae Cornish, Bernice Smith, Evelyn Fears, Minnie Dorsey Carpenter, Lucille Burns, Doris Gambrill, and Bettye Lyles.

MRS. LEE FETED

Dowell's Restaurant was the scene of a gala affair when the faculty and building employees of School No. 127 got together for a send-off for their principal, Mrs. Lena K. Lee, who is being transferred to another school.

The clever talent on the faculty presented odes and songs depicting their principal's career at School No. 127, and showing the growth of the school. Mrs. Naomi Julius, representing the group presented an exquisite piece of luggage to Mrs. Lee for her trip to Havana.

In accepting the gift, Mrs. Lee recalled the outstanding contributions which those who work at School 127 had made to the community, the spiritual values which had been inculcated into the lives of the children, the development of the educational process, and the high degree of professional development evident in the teachers.

She urged them to be guided only by their great love for little children, telling them that as long as they truly loved children and served them selfenly they could never go far afield.

Members of the faculty and building employees staff include: Mrs. Lillian Draper, Mrs. Naomi Julius, Mrs. Iner Blackstone, Mrs. Doris Daisy, Mr. Garnett Coyles, Miss Hazel Butler, Mrs. Nancy Mills, Mrs. Rose Person, Miss E. Louise Jackson, Miss Deborah Price, Miss Hattie Tilghman, Mrs. Gladys Lewis, and Mrs. Catherine Lyles, and Mrs. Catherine Winston.

Invited to add to the inspiration of the occasion were Mr. Robert R. Lee, husband of the honoree, Clifton S. Murray, principal of School No. 117, and longtime friend of the honoree; and Mrs. Hurt, and patron of the school.

POT-POURRI

Hetorine Adams, tucked in Provident Hospital, was considerably better, this week. Joining her in that hospital was Maxine Lewis. And an unexpected jolt from an automobile floored Phyllis Allen, Wednesday. The accident occurred as she stepped towards a street car at Pennsylvania and North. Also among the hospitalized is Emma Gaskins and Bright, who underwent surgery at Johns Hopkins

Mr. and Mrs. Arnett J. Brown, of Westwood Avenue, announced this week, the engagement of their daughter, Elaine Rebecca, to Hugh Rowland Page.

The wedding has been set for June 21. . . will take place in Sharon Baptist Church at 4 p.m.

Add to new citizens a son for the Charles (Eugenia Williams) Colliers; a daughter for the Henry (Evelyn Nixon) Wests.

Among visitors in the city, this week, was Miss Mildred Overby of Indianapolis, Ind., who has been studying in New York City. She was guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hill.

PEREGRINATORS

Mrs. Alvin Waters and her son, Alvin Jr., left for New York, Wednesday, to see Mr. Waters take a master of arts degree in education from New York University. He's on the faculty of School No. 109. Mr. and Mrs. Logan Jenkins (Adah) attended the graduation of their daughter, Rebekah, from the New School for Social Research in New York. Miss Jenkins received a bachelor of arts degree in social science.

Following the reception at the school the party was joined at supper by Logan 3rd., Mrs. Elizabeth Burnell and Myron Neisloss, all of New York.

Two other Baltimoreans who graduated from the New School were Marian Cabnet and Harold Littledale.

Mrs. Edward Wheatley was in Washington, this week, to attend the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Todd Duncan for Averell Harriman, democratic candidate for the presidency, and Mrs. Harriman. That bit of politico chimed in cutely with another incident, this week, when Mrs. Wheatley, packing away, ran across a valuable and interesting document . . .
