The P. E. Convention.

The Forty-sixth annual Convention of the Diocese of Easton will be held in Emmuel Church begining next Tuesday and the indications are that this gathering will be one of more importance to the Diocese than any in recent years. Many matters of Diocesan policy will be considered and disposed of. The Convention will be presided over by Bishop Adams and the Secretary is S. E. Shannahan of Easton.

All of the sessions are open to the public and that of Tuesday evening will be one of special interest. After a short service the annual report of the Bishop is read followed immediately after by the report of the Treasurer of the Board of Diocesan Missions. These two and the reports of the Deans of of Convocations give a complete record of the Diocese for the year and are usually most interesting. There are nearly forty parishes in union with the Diocese and the number of delegates will number about sixty-five. The following is a list of the ministerial and lay delegates, with a list of the homes at which they will be entertained during their stay here. The delegates will receive a cordial welcome to Chestertown and they will be royally entertained:
