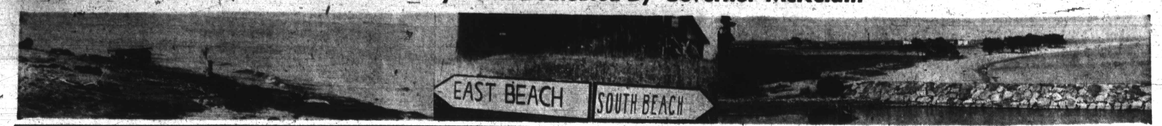
Pride Of Sandy Point Dedicated By Governor McKeldin



The above photographs of Maryland's latest segregation fad, Sandy Point State Park, is shown as it looked recently during dedication ceremonies by Governor McKeldin and high state officials. Shown at left is the East beach provided for colored patrons; center, signs designating the two separate but "equal" areas; and at right, the South beach. The above features were made possible through the collection of state taxes.

GOVERNOR REFUSES TO ACT:

NAACP May Take State Park Issue To Court

At a meeting in his Baltimore office, last Friday, Governor Theodore R. McKeldin denied requests of an NAACP committee to abolish jim-crow facilities at the Sandy Point State Park.

Instead, the Chief Executive referred the Committee to the recently organized Interracial commission.

The NAACP has been joined in its fight against the segregated park by all Masons in the State.

On Tuesday, Dr. Willard Allen, Grand Master of Maryland's Masons, asserted that the Masons will stand solidly behind the AFRO and the NAACP in condemning the beach facilities.

As early as February of this year, Mrs. Lillie M. Jackson, NAACP president, addressed a letter to Gov. McKeldin asking him to halt construction of separate facilities at the Park.

In his reply to Mrs. Jackson's letter, McKeldin disclaimed any knowledge of the jim-crow facilities. In closing, however, he said: "Under the circumstances, you will understand that I am not in a position to deal with the matter as I might if it were in my jurisdiction."

The governor also referred Mrs. Jackson to Sydney Peverly, chairman of the State Department of Forests and Parks.

In a reply to a letter dispatched him by the NAACP, dated April 9, Mr. Peverly stated: "No designation had as yet been made regarding the use of the areas by of white or colored visitors to the Park."

At the meeting last Friday, Governor McKeldin was asked by Bowen Jackson, why he doesn't recommend an end to the segregated beach.

McKeldin replied: "That would be going over the heads of my duly appointed State agency."

In connection with the Interracial Commission, the Governor indicated that that group has already called Mr. Peverly, and another State Park official, before them on the issue.

"They took no action," said McKeldin. "But, maybe, they will take action if the matter is properly presented to them."

Further in the discussion, the Governor asked what the situation was in regard to swimming pools in Baltimore.

Attorney Linwood Koger, Jr., pointed out that the pools were separate, but that the aim of the Fort Smallwood case, and the present appeal for your intervention is to prevent the extension and perpetuation of jim-crow."

Gov. McKeldin then stated: "You have some friends who feel that you are proceeding too fast, and that what you do may retard your progress, rather than help it."

The discussion then veered to the segregated set-up of the public schools. During this discussion, McKeldin said: "Eight colored millionaires in Atlanta, Ga., think of that!"

Just before the conference concluded, the Governor suggested that the NAACP make a test case of the Sandy Point Park case and let the courts decide the issue.

The members of the NAACP committee present at the conference included: The Rev. Harrison G. Bryant, Dr. Earl Jackson, Bowen K. Jackson, and Attorneys Juanita Mitchell and Linwood Koger, Jr.

Also, Dr. J. E. T. Camper, who was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Jean Camper, and Attorney Jack Greenberg, National NAACP legal staff member.

The local office of the NAACP has hinted that a test case on the Sandy Point Park issue may be initiated this week.

Soldiers Get 'Red Hot' Over Hot Dogs

When they asked a waitress for "hot dogs," and got the cold shoulder instead, two Fort Meade soldiers got "red hot," Tuesday.

Private Allen Wainwright, 20, 100 block Exeter St., and Alexander Sivels, 20, 1900 block Pulaski St., went into a lunch room across from Camden station, sat down, and asked the waitress for two hot dogs.

When Myrtle Lang, the waitress, refused to serve them, the soldiers started to "wreck the joint." Miss Lang testified that one of the men grabbed her.

Disorderly Conduct Charges

The soldiers were hauled before Magistrate Avrum K. Rifman in Southern Police Court, the next morning, on disorderly conduct charges.

After hearing the waitress's complaint, Magistrate Rifman observed: "These men are fighting for first class world conditions. I don't see why they have to come home and be offered nothing out second class citizenship.

"Case dismissed," thundered the magistrate.

L. B. Gamby In Hospital

Littleton B. Gamby, local night club owner, is reported much improved at Fort Howard Hospital where he has been confined for one week.

His wife told the AFRO that Mr. Gamby suffered an illness close to a nervous breakdown, and was very sick at home for two weeks before he was carried to Fort Howard.

Mrs. Gamby added, however, that now her husband is "much better" and resting "very comfortably." She pointed out that he had been working very hard before he was stricken.

FINED FOR DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Scotia Womack of the 2700 block Claflin Court was fined $25 for disorderly conduct early Tuesday morning. She was committed to jail in default of payment.

June Departs But Cupid Holds Own In Baltimore

with Lula Jones Garrett

Most of the news on the local front, this week, is still of weddings and engagements, including the following interesting items in the mail.

Thomas Killion Jenkins (he's the son of the junior J. Logan Jenkinses) and Rosalee Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. Russel Dorsey's daughter, have set the 27th of this month for their trek to the altar.

The ceremony will be held in Emmanuel Christian Community Church at four in the afternoon.

Hammond J. Briscoe Jr., of the faculty of the Druid Junior High School, and Norma Lee Stafford, Bowie State College student, have been Mr. and Mrs. since June 15.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. Briscoe, principal of School No. 123, and Mrs. Briscoe, and she the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stafford of Cambridge, Md. The newlyweds are ensconced in the Melville Apartments at Catonsville.

MISS LYLE BRIDE

Danna Marguerite Lyle chose a lovely setting—the lawn of the home of her parents on Montebello Terrace, Morgan Park, for her marriage on Sunday, to Clarence W. Brown of Havre de Grace, Md.

She chose a lovely ensemble, too—ice blue nylon net over satin, the shoulder-length veil caught from a tiny circlet of ice-blue flowers, all blue accessories and a bridal bouquet of white roses.

Given in marriage by her father, Mr. Daniel R. Lyle Sr., she was attended by her sister, Bertly.

The latter accessorized her gown of yellow French crepe with a wide crowning yellow hat, yellow shoes and gloves, and an old-fashioned bouquet of yellow roses.

Carl Brown, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The ceremony was read by the Rev. J. Leroy Mason, pastor of Sharon Baptist Church. Miss Gwendolyn Nicholas, pianist, and Miss Norma Jean Tinsley, soloist, provided the music.

More than 150 guests attended the wedding and ceremony, including the Brown, Scott and Travis families of Havre de Grace, Miss Frances Dabney of Philadelphia, Mrs. Laverta Gresham and a Miss Washington of Washington.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Lyle was gowned in turquoise blue crepe print, with black accessories. She added an orchid. The mother of the bridegroom wore pale blue crepe, white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Brown is on the faculty of School No. 129. Her husband is a government employee at Aberdeen.

DAVIS-HALL RITUAL

Miss Juanita S. Hall and Leroy B. Davis, of this city, were married at the home of her parents, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar D. Hall, in Washington, Saturday. The Rev. Mr. Hall officiated.

The bride, wearing a turquoise nylon street-length dress of sheer nylon with matching taffeta slip, and a corsage of white orchids and baby's breath, was attended by Mrs. Richard Blackwell.

Mrs. Blackwell was gowned in rose nylon and her corsage was of red roses. Mr. Blackwell served as best man for Mr. Davis.

The bride is a social security clerk, here, and the bridegroom is employed at Edgewood Arsenal.

MISS BOWLEND

Miss Ethel B. McQueen, daughter of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Toblas McQueen, of Severna Park, was married to Hayward Burrell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Burrell Sr. of Washington, Sunday.

The ceremony took place at the Capital at the St. Phillip Baptist Church, with the Rev. Wilbert Cole officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore blush pink net, with finger-tip veil of Chantilly lace which fell from a cap of lace surrounded by seed pearls. She carried white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Juanita McCargo was matron of honor, and bridesmaids included Misses Esther Rooks of Brooklyn, Md., Jerine Cofrey of Atlantic City; Glenora Busby of Cherry Hill; Gladys Ford of Washington and Beulah Gray of this city.

The attendants wore pastel net frocks and carried old-fashioned bouquets.

Carl Burrell was best man. Ushers included Eugene Allen, Stanley Ferguson, James Stevenson and Orby Conrad of Washington; John McQueen of Severna Park and Elvert Hudson and Melton Lee of this city.

A reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Flossie Reed of Brentwood, and attended by 300 guests. From their bridal trip to Detroit, the newlyweds will be at home in Brentwood.

MRS. SHAW HOSTESS

Mrs. A. P. Shaw invited a few friends to her home, 828 N. Carrollton Avenue last Saturday evening, to meet Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Murdock, and the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Rakestraw, all of Los Angeles, Calif.

The Rev. Mr. Rakestraw is pastor of Wesley Methodist Church, one of the largest congregations and the leading church among Methodists on the West Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Murdock, long time friends of Bishop and Mrs. Shaw, came east to attend the banquet and testimonial given the retiring Bishop of the Baltimore Area and his wife, at the Jurisdictional Conference in Philadelphia, last week.

Before returning to their home Mr. and Mrs. Murdock will visit Boston, New York, Washington, Pittsburgh and Chicago.

POT-POURRI

Add to new club aggregations Terpsichoreans.

Set up at the home of Anne Sneason on last Thursday, members named Edmonia Robinson, president; Doris Jackson, secretary; Dorothy Greene, treasurer; and Mati Robinson, business manager.

Basically social, they also plan some civic work. Other members are Margaret Matthews, Bernice Tubbs, Catherine Corbin and Agnes Yates.

Rumor has it that a young Thomas Avenue schoolmarm is wearing a solitaire from a town letter-carrier and that an old beau, a schoolman, is fit to be tied.

Frank B. Carter, who gave his age as 55 and his home as Baltimore, journeyed to Richmond, Va., last week, for a marriage license to wed Elizabeth Broady, a Richmond lass.

Tucked in Johns Hopkins Hospital, this week, is Grace Matthews, she heads the House of Style Beauty Salon). Capt. Hugh Matthew, of the Air Force, flew from Randolph Field, Texas, to be with her.

Charles L. Morris and Esther P. Duvall, town teacher, garnered a marriage license, here, last week. Ditto Vernon Gaskins (Civil Service) and Schoolmarm Ramona Schuyler and Washington schoolmaster Joseph Jackson and this town's Margaret Holt.
