GROW SOUND APPLES; NOT WORMY ONES.

Destroy the Codling Moth and Insure Sound Fruit.

T. B. SYMONS.
Maryland Agricultural College.

The Codling Moth is the insect which makes your apples wormy and unfit for storage. This pest can be so efficiently controlled that it is utter folly for the fruit grower to fail to take the precautions necessary to insure 90 per cent. sound fruit.

The eggs of the Codling Moth are laid on the twigs early in the spring. As soon as these hatch, the young larvae crawl to the blossom clusters, and enter the calyx end of the little apple. Poison introduced into the blossoms at this time will destroy most of these larvae before they have a chance to injure the fruit. This can be done by spraying the trees with the following mixture when the petals have nearly all fallen:

Mixture No. 1.
Concentrated Lime Sulphur, 1 gallon.
Water, 40 gallons.
Arsenate of Lead, 2 to 3 pounds.

Mixture No. 2 (Bordeaux).
Copper Sulphate, 4 pounds.
Lime (Burned), 5 pounds.
Water, 50 gallons.
Arsenate of Lead, 2 to 3 pounds.

Either mixture will do the work required. Mixture No. 2 showing better results with later sprayings. These materials should be thoroughly mixed and applied first as the petals fall and again, ten days later, before the calyx closes up. It is sometimes necessary to spray again about the first of July to catch the second brood which may have escaped the early spray.

Plans Summer Session For Rural Teachers.

Agricultural College Will Give Course In Teaching Agriculture In Country Schools.

With our rapidly increasing population, the demand for more food stuffs is increasing daily, while the new land we can bring under cultivation is comparatively small in area. We must learn to use what we have to better advantage. The public school with its country teacher, trained in agriculture and home making, will do much toward improving our methods.

To prepare teachers in such work, the Agricultural College has provided a six weeks' summer course, beginning June 22nd. Instruction will be given in Elementary Agriculture, Domestic Science and Art, Industrial Handiwork, methods of Teaching, History of Maryland, State and National Constitutions, Chemistry, Botany, Zoology, and Entomology that will give them an opportunity for practical, first hand study of subjects that deal directly with country life. This season of the year is the most favorable for such study at the Agricultural College as the College Farm with its gardens, orchards, field crops and fertilizer crops is at its best.

Any teacher or prospective teacher who enrolls for this work will have living expenses only to meet with every chance for outdoor life and enjoyment as well as study. This puts a rare opportunity for preparing for increased community usefulness within the reach of every rural teacher in the State.

HUMUS PUTS LIFE IN THE SOIL

Helps Store Plant Food and Water. The Key To Better Crops.

W. E. HANGER.
Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station.

We should be planning for the improvement of our poorer soils and the keeping of our better fields in high productive condition. Nothing will help more in this improvement than filling the soil with humus or organic matter by the use of manure, turning under green crops, or growing a heavy sod.

Let us see what this humus or organic matter will do for the soil. Humus improves the physical condition of the soil. It makes it lighter or puts what we call "life" into it. This makes it easier to work. Humus acts like a sponge in holding soil water, storing a great deal of it and letting the balance run off very slowly. Humus also makes a warmer soil since soils containing it are darker in color and warmer just as a dark suit of clothes is warmer to wear than a lighter colored one.

This humus or organic matter also furnishes food for the soil bacteria. These bacteria are what break up plant food so it can be used by the crop. They thrive best in soils having plenty of this organic matter. The hard bare spots on which nothing will grow that we sometimes find in fields lack humus and bacterial life. The decaying bacteria in the humus also build up the nitrogen supply in the soil.

Besides storing up plant foods, the humus by making this bacterial life possible, causes soil acids to form. These in turn free the plant food locked up in the soil so that the crops use it. Since humus is so much needed in the soil, we are safe in saying that before we can expect much of a crop of any kind from unproductive land, we must provide organic matter either in the form of stable manure or green manure crops.

Few States have greater agricultural possibilities with our long seasons, fine climate, abundant rainfall, varied soils adaptable to such a variety of products, as well as proximity to the best markets in the world.

No agriculture can rise higher than the measure of the men who till the land. Hence, the vital necessity of specially trained men, in this progressive age, who shall be able to master these problems.

WHEN YOU ARE NERVOUS

you have the first symptom of a run-down system, and nervous people too often conceal their aches and pains and suffer in silence, while, if neglected, this condition often foreruns more serious trouble.

If those so afflicted would stop taking medicine containing alcohol or drugs which menace the foundations of health, and just take the pure, strengthening nourishment in Scott's Emulsion, it would create new blood to pulsate through the organs, refresh their bodies and build up the whole nervous system. It is rich, sustaining nourishment, free from wines, alcohols or drugs. Shun substitutes.
