Ask More Guards At Crownsville

The hiring of additional attendants and a separate building to house the criminally insane was recommended, this week, by an investigating the high rate of escapes at Arundel County Committee escapes at the Crownsville State Hospital.

The committee's recommendations were almost a blanket repeat Dr Jacob Morgasstern in a recent petition of measures suggested by statement to the AFRO.

Nathan L. Disney, director of the Department of Public Works, made public the Committee's suggestions. According to Mr. Smith, extra precautionary measures against more escapes are being taken.

Latest reports indicate that 36 patients have escaped from Crownsville since January of this year.

Have You Seen Her?

The Missing Persons Bureau is searching for Mrs. Lottie McClain, 23, 152 Reedbird Ave., Cherry Hill. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of the mother of four children should contact Policewoman Cornelia Smith, Southwestern Police district.

4 Boys Held For Attack On Another Boy

Four youths are being held without bail on a charge of unnaturally assaulting a 16-year-old boy, Tuesday night.

Held on sodomy charges are John Miles, 18, 9 N. Mount St., Elmer Long, 1 N. Vincent St., Daniel Mitchell, 5 N. Bruce St., and Ray Jenkins, 24 N. Vincent St., all 17-years-old.

The youth who was abused told police he was walking on Fayette St., shortly after 11:30 p.m., when Miles accosted him and made several "dirty remarks."

Taken To Lot

Miles allegedly grabbed the youth by the arm and forced him to go to a vacant lot in the 100 block Vincent St.

When they reached the lot, the four boys forcibly assaulted him, the complainant said.

After the attack, the boy called police who took him to University Hospital for an examination and treatment.

The suspects were later arrested on a description furnished by the attack victim.

Three Dazed By New Heat Wave

As the mercury climbed above 90 degrees for the fourth straight day, three persons were admitted to Provident Hospital for treatment of heat prostration Wednesday.

One of them was a 3-year-old boy, Terry Lennor, of the 1500 block Belmor Ct., who was brought to the hospital early in the day.

A Mt. Royal hotel employee, Mrs. Sadie Bryant of the 2500 block Pennsylvania Ave., collapsed while at work Wednesday morning and was still under treatment Wednesday afternoon.

The third heat victim was Alexander Harley, a 32 - year - old service station worker, who suffered heat exhaustion while working at the corner of Fulton Ave. and Franklin St.

Man Charge With Taking $500 Ring

Wanderlust, and the presence of a $500 diamond ring in a hospital office, contributed to the arrest of a 40-year-old Northeast Baltimore man Monday.

The victim of what he described as "circumstances" — Henry McAllister, of the 1700 block Latrobe St., was arrested and charged with stealing a ring and fountain pen belonging to Dr. Alda Duckworth.

The physician, a staff member at Johns Hopkins, accused McAllister of taking the articles from his office on June 26.

The Wandering Kind

McAllister, who has a reputation of wandering in and out of buildings in the Hopkins community, according to police, admitted taking the ring and pen.

The $500 ring he stated, was sold to an unidentified man on Pennsylvania Ave., for $3. He was unable to recall what happened to the fountain pen.

In a hearing at Northeastern Monday, bail for McAllister was set at $2,500 pending jury action.

Bell System Helps to Bring Political Conventions to Millions of People

FURNISHES:

Coaxial and radio-relay networks that reach 99% of TV sets

Networks that link twelve hundred radio stations

Teletype Service that speeds news to newspapers

Great strides have been made since a political convention was first televised in 1940. There was only a single channel then — from Philadelphia to New York.

In 1948, the Philadelphia convention was carried by television to seven cities in the East.

This year, Bell System coaxial cable and radio-relay networks bring both the Republican and Democratic conventions within reach of 99% of the nation's TV sets. Step by step, the Bell System has provided the transmission facilities required by the industry and the public.

In addition to these television facilities, the Bell System also provides the Long Distance lines that carry radio programs to every section of the country.

To enable the nation's newspapers and radio stations to report convention activities, the Bell System has installed batteries of high-speed Teletypewriters in the convention building and at the hotel headquarters in Chicago. Teletypewriter circuits carry the news all over the nation. Pictures are flashed from coast-to-coast by the Bell System's Telephotographic service.

We in the telephone company are glad to have provided the coaxial cable and radio-relay networks that help to make it possible. They carry TV programs from city to city, across the country.

Step by step, north, south, east and west, the telephone company has lengthened its television networks to meet the needs of the industry and the public.

Miss Ballou' Bostonia On California Honeymoon

with Lula Jones Garrett

Naomi Balleu, formerly of Lexington (she's the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Balleu of the Kentucky city) and William K. Callender spoke their vows in St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Monday, leaving later for Philadelphia, thence to California.

Father Donald L. Girfield officiated at the ceremony.

Miss Balleu was a mighty fetching bride in slate blue suit, white accessories, and orchids pinned to her shoulder. She was attended by Larua Lipscomb, and Mr. Callender had Lawrence Middleton as best man.

The new Mrs. Callender is a graduate of Kentucky State College and has been holding down a post as a case worker in the department of public welfare, this city. She plans to do graduate work at UCLA school of social work in the fall.

Her bridegroom, a native of Boston, Mass., is a student in the school of engineering at Northeastern University. They will live in Los Angeles.

POT POURRI

The Raymond (Eugenia) Youngs have had their new daughter home since the Fourth. The young lady arrived on May 20; but had to linger in the hospital until she had put on the proper weight.

Dr. and Mrs. R. Garland Chisell, who holidayed at Chatham, Hadden Hall, the Boardwalk, Atlantic City, were home this week.

Off to Ridgeley, Md., last week end went Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Knox and Misses Clara and Marie Johnson for a reunion of the Bailey and Casson families. The founder of the family, Stephen Bailey, was a brother to Frederick Douglass. There was a two-day celebration to mark the seventh gathering of the clan.

Mesdames Aurelia Bush, Katie Hunter, Willard W. Allen and the latter's daughters, Rosalind and Elizabeth, will leave, Friday, for New York. From there they will embark on a cruise to Bermuda and Nassau, Saturday.

Mrs. Gladys Hall Hughes and daughter, Gertrude, are vacationing in Chicago, as guests of Dr. Julia Hall, supervisor of social work at Cook County Hospital.

HOBBYIST PICNIC

The Hobbyists donned pushers and what-have-you, and pushed off to Edgewood Country Club for their day (Sunday) away from the city heat.

'Twas their annual affair to fete their other halves and a guest of their choice.

Aside from putting in yeoman duty at long tables laden with food and drink, they simply took the day easy, with the exception of a little strenous card playing.

About were:

Louise and Bill Turks, Otho and May Pinkett, Marguerite and Powell Sheffy, Thelma Shipley, James Addison, Linwood Koger Sr., Martha Thompson.

Jeanette and Vernon Johnson, Frances and Cliff Mackay, Mary and Francis Richardson, Charlotte and Wesley McNeil, Lavinia and Ed Wilson.

Loretta and Eddie Nottingham, Laura and Christo Waller, Susie Brown, Claude Bruce, Mary and Hubert Sepilman, Edna and Abe Russell, Vivian and William Payne of Washington, Dorothy and Bill Gibson, and a trio of small fry: Patrice Pinkett, Carol Sheffy and Skipper Gibson.

RECREATE AT HIGHLAND

The town's medical crowd took the day out, Sunday, for a dash of swimming, dinner and what-else Waul's Hotel at Highland Beach had to offer.

AROUND CHERRY HILL

The members of the Cherry Hill YW Wives group closed their club activities for the summer with a clever trip - around - Cherry -Hill supper party.

Members and guests gathered at the home of Myrtle Williams for good hot soup, then on to Jean Hitch's abode for a tasty salad. The delicious main course was served at Doris Harvey's house after which the group managed to pull themselves up and trek to Eleanor Ireland's residence for the best home made cake and ice cream ever.

The group, finally reached Dorothy Jones' home and remained for the evening enjoying the cool beverages that were served and dancing.

Members and guests included:

Mesdames Myrtle Williams, Lillian Green, Jean Hitch, Mary Pettus, Dorothy Jones, Dorothy Leggett, Lucille Jones, Doris Harvey, Annie C. Drayton;

Mesdames Evelyn Thompson, Eleanor Ireland, A. Robinson, Isabelle Byrd, Mary Howie, and Alice L. Parks; C. Williams, James Thompson, W. Ireland and B. Drayton.

GUILD ON PARTY

When Mrs. Lula Smith of Govana, entertained St. Peter Coaver Catholic Church's Altar Guild, Saturday, she whisked them 20 miles away to her Colton, Md. summer home . . for beach fun an such food!

On the outing-meeting were Elizabeth and Ernest Barry, Earl and Maria Hammond, Bessie Burns, Virgie Waters, Eleanor Anderson, Julia Johnson, Melba Green, Mary Newton, Lucy Green, Queenie Lane and Gladys Britt, president of the Guild.

Now the guild is discussing buying a beach place for use of its members

MATERS SHOWER ADDITION

The last meeting of The 'Maters' turned out to be a surprise shower in honor of Janarri, the new daughter of John and Eloise Bright

A wide array of gifts were found tied to the ends of yellow and white ribbons that streamed from a be-ruffled yellow and white parasaol

Mary Carter, doubling as hostess and godmother sported a very dashing Japanese jacket of silvered brocade and black satin pants

A darkened room was lighted by a flaming cabbage on a table loaded with festive daintes The shower was a festive affair with the members turning out in their best bibs and tickers.

About were:

Ruth Jacobs, Willa Bouldin, Ruby Glover, Esther Knight Cole, Bernice Parker,

Ina Bryant, Frances Ralph Graham, Mary Carter, Helena Sawyer Bright (a visitor) and Eloise Bright.

VITAL STATISTICS

Two bits of feminine joy joined the local populace recently, when the James (Louise Johnson) Cooks and the Conrad (Lavonne Thompson) Mootoos added daughters to their families.

The little Miss Cook (Brenda Louise) arrived a week back and is the first child. The Mootoo baby, born Thursday morning, joints two other lovely little girls in that family. They are grandchildren of Martha Thompson, town school marmand John Thompson.
