Americans Find Paris Fascinating Vacation Spot

These two Washington, D.C. families now in Germany, came to Paris on a shopping spree. They are (L. to R.) Chief Warrant Officer Sterling Holmes, 816 "T" st., n.w., Capt. and Mrs. Sergil L. Cave, 1207 Lamont St. n.w., and Mrs. Holmes. Captain Cave was the first colored doctor stationed at the 97th General Hospital in Frankfurt.

The French capital has plenty of sidewalk tables for tired sightseers. Here are two Easterners waiting for the waiter. At right, Pianist Hazel Harrison, of Howard U. music faculty, and Ruth Allen, teacher at P.S. 125, NYC.

Families from the East and West coasts of the USA recently met in Paris while on vacation. They are, left to right: J. Edward Atkinson, Los Angeles, Calif., Dr. Margaret Reid, Suffolk, Va., Mrs. Atkinson, and Dr. Lonnie Reid. The Reids came in from Germany, where Dr. Reid (Army captain) is stationed. The Atkinsons toured Europe for two months.

After a 7-week tour of seven European countries, these three hardy tourists spend their last week in Paris before sailing for home late in August. At right is Rufus G. Byars, public relations director, District Theatres, Washington, D.C. With him are his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Robinson, Houston, Texas. (All photos by Ollie Stewart)

Beaches Curtail Events

Nearby beach resorts were forced to curtail their activities over Labor Day week-end due to the inclement weather caused by the tail end of the hurricane which hit the city and careened toward the bay. Columbia Beach, Md. was hard hit and the annual Regatta had to be postponed.

Many of the boats were lost during the storm and much damage was caused by rain and wind to the decorations and other preparations for a glorious celebration which had been made by the villagers. However, many visitors had reached the beach before the rains came and made the best of everything and found pleasure indoors.

At Shadyside, the Malvan's Beach Motel was alive with visitors who had arrived before the storm and found all types of amusement despite the rain. A large group of Kappas found everything to their liking over last week end as did many other discriminating people.

Among the guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames Frank D. McKinney, Leonard Randolph and children, Morris Clark, Harold Randolph and daughter, Jack Plant, Lawrence McAbee, David E. Hales, Donald LeLand, Melvin McLean, John Cook, Leroy Cump, Leroy Alexander of West Palm Beach, Fla.; M. Talley, Carl Reid, Richard Malcolm, Robert Clark and Doyle Mitchell;

Mesdames Emory B. Smith, Robert Williams, Virginia Brown, Ethel Brown of Newark, N.J.; George Bennett, Marcellus W. Winston.

Global Jottings

By LOU LUTOUR

Guests of mine during last week's convention of the Legion aires, here, included Hobart Howard, the lovely and talented Cleoia Spotts and the equally charming Laculia Curry, all of St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Macqueline DeShazor of Durham N.C. was in this city during the week.

Mrs. Maude Gadsen has returned from Oklahoma City where she attended the convention of the National Beauty Culture League.

Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Alexander of Orange, N.J. are from a delightful vacation in Panama stopped here.

Friend Noel Jones just returned from Europe and as usual is getting about with his New York friends. When it comes to traveling leave it to Noel.

Atlantic City is running over with people for the Labor Day holiday with most of the Elks remaining behind after their convention. William "B111" Brown Hotel Theresa manager and his family were among the thousands who enjoyed the resort city.

Another place that was overcrowded for the holiday was Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Dailey's delicio Anchorage at Long Branch, N.J. There was dancing and entertainment plus good food for all. Soon that 30-room guest house will prove too small for the Daileys and their guests.

Two Women In Senate Race

DETROIT (ANP)—For the first time, possible in the history of Michigan, two women will oppose each other for a seat in the state senate as the Democratic ticket at the primaries in August. Mrs. Geneva McNeal, was chosen by the Republican County committee to run because the duly nominated candidate has moved out of the district.

In the past women have been elected to high position because of the votes of women and the strong women vote. It so happens here that women of all races and creeds support women candidates, regardless of race. Because of this established fact Miss Brown beat her male opponents by an overwhelming vote in the primaries.

Now the question arises: how will the women vote this time? It should be an interesting battle depending primarily upon which party carries the Army in the election in November. At any rate there will be a colored woman as state senator.

Says Panama Women Must Aid Country

PANAMA CITY (ANP) — The Panamanian woman has shown herself worthy of the right of suffrage and of participating in the community life to help in the solution of national problems, Mrs. Cecilia Pinel de Remon told a nation - wide radio audience last week.

The wife of President elect Antonio Remon, just back from a trip to Venezuela with her husband and a party of prominent Panamanians, spoke to the nation, especially its women over a nation - wide radio hook - up. Soon to become First Lady of the land where her husband assumes the office Oct. 1, Mrs. Remon re - pledged her efforts to continue these social reforms "as of now."

Sherman White Takes A Bride

Miss Doris Paris of Montclair, employed by API, NYC, and Sherman White, former Long Island University basketball star and All-American player, were honeymooning in Hyannis Cape Cod, last week after a wedding in her New Jersey home.

Sherman White, Ex-Cage Star, Weds Doris Paris, API Aide

MONTCLAIR, N.J. — Sherman White, former Long Island University basketball star and All-American, and Miss Doris Paris of Montclair, an employee of the API in NYC, were married Aug. 17 here.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Plaskett, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Monroe of Haiti, in the living room of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Theodore Moore, 92 Willowdale ave., where they're living

The bride is the daughter of Samuel Paris and the late Mrs. Paris of New Haven, Conn.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James White of 90 Forest ave., Englewood N.J.

Bride's Gown

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin ballerina length gown fashioned with an illusion neckline. Her fingertip veil fell from a matching satin head piece. She carried white orchids over a prayer book.

Miss Winona Nicholas of Orange, honor attendant, chose a ballerina gown of rose net and velvet with a velvet bodice and matching accessories. She carried an old fashioned nosegay.

Bride With API

John Wright of Englewood was best man.

Mrs. White is a graduate of Commercial High School and attended Hunter College, New York City, where she is employed by the Associated Press Institute.

Mr. White is a graduate of the Dwight Morrow High School, Englewood, and attended Long Island University where he won acclaim as a basketball star and was elected to the All-America basketball team.

The couple spent a honeymoon at Hyannis, Cape Cod, Mass. and are living at the Montclair address.
