Nab Errol Garner In Dope Dragnet, Largest On Shore

ERROL GARNER
He failed to register as convicted dope addict . . .

Pianist Under Bail For Not Registering As Addict; Shore's Raids Called Biggest

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — Errol Garner, the famed jazz pianist, was among those arrested here Monday by the FBI and city and county police who say they broke one of the largest narcotics rings in the nation.

Garner, however, was held under $2,500 bail for a hearing on Sept. 9 for failure to register as a convicted addict under the state's narcotics registration law and not for being an actual user of narcotics.

Police report that Garner was picked up when they went to a N. Ohio Ave., apartment to arrest his roommate, Frank (Tons) Randolph, 36, believed to be an ex-football player out of Chicago.

Find D. C. Contract

Garner who was appearing at Mack's Tavern here, reportedly told police that he had been convicted as an addict several years ago.

Although Randolph denied being a dope peddler, he was placed under $25,000 bail after two witnesses testified in Municipal Court on Monday that they bought marihuana in $10 and $20 lots from him.

Make 3-Day Haul

Two others arrested were Julian Swann, 26, and Peter Green, 27, both of 1937 Adams st. Charged with being marihuana addicts, they were each placed under $1,000 bail.

This raid was part of a three day haul in which police, sheriff's men and federal agents arrested approximately 40 well - known figures. The raid was so large the officers needed the whole second floor of convention hall for materials confiscated.

Atlantic City seems to be a very unfriendly place for Garner to work, for no sooner had he settled here for his engagement at Mack's Tavern than a $45,000 suit was slapped against him.

Complainant in the suit is Miss Harriet Joylon of Los Angeles who says that Garner took advantage of her in a business deal in April, 1951. She charges that he persuaded her to advance him $45,000 to promote himself and since then has not repaid her.

Efforts to reach Mr. Garner for comment in Atlantic City proved futile at presstime. He is scheduled to open a Washington engagement on Friday.

Robbery Charge Placed Against 2

Two men charged with the early morning robbery of Abraham Joyner, 1200 block N. Bentalou st., were ordered held for action of the grand jury in $2,500 bail Friday morning in Northeastern police court.

The pair are Robert L. Watson, 40-year-old laborer of the 1100 block N. Mount st., and Walter Powell, 29, a roofer, of the 1400 Brunt st.

Mr. Joyner testified that he was attacked by three men while in a "hacker's" automobile at Laurens and Parrish sts. about 2 a.m. Tuesday.

Trio Joined Them

He said he had entered the car alone except for the driver at a night club in the 1300 block of Edmondson ave. and asked to be taken home. Instead, he said, the driver went to another night club at Edmondson ave. and Vincent st., and it was there that the three men got into the car with him.

At Parrish and Laurens sts. Mr. Joyner testified, one of the men told him:

"This is as far as you go."

Beaten And Robbed

Mr. Joyner testified that he was then yanked from the cab, beaten and robbed of his wallet containing $19. He then identified Watson and Powell as two of the trio, saying he knew them by sight and nicknames only.

William L. Anderson of the 1500 block Laurens st. testified that he saw the attack from a window of his home, and also identified the two men as taking part in it.

Sgt. George Andrews exhibited a blackjack which he said he found in Watson's room when he arrested the man.

Neither of the accused men spoke during the preliminary hearing.

Trio Held On Dope Charge After Raid

Three persons arrested early Friday by narcotics squad detectives in a raid on what police suspected as being a dope-sales headquarters were ordered held in $3,000 bail each, Saturday to await further hearing in Northwestern police court.

Arrested and charged with possession of hypodermic syringes and needles are:

Mack Peachie, 37, 1600 block Breat st.; Garnet Logan, 26, 1400 block Druid Hill ave., and Loretta Fain, alias "Whirlwind," 29, who lives in an apartment in the 900 block Madison ave. where the raid took place.

Major Violator

Peachie is listed by the U.S. Bureau of Narcotics as a "major violator." police said.

A preliminary hearing was postponed until Sept. 12, when police said they wanted to analyze several capsules, believed to contain heroin, that were found in the apartment.

Sgt. Joseph Carroll and Detectives Casimir Moniewski, Kenneth Vaught and Lawrence Weeks broke into the apartment after a six-hour vigil which began after receiving a tip that a large quanity of heroin was being delivered.

Removed Doorknobs

Sergeant Carroll said that the three suspects entered the apartment about 3 a.m. Friday and the officers, peeking through the holes were they had removed the doorknobs, saw the trio giving themselves injections of dope.

Some of the needles were thrown into a toilet when the officers broke in, Sergeant Carroll said.
