WE ARE

MAKING THEM! Compare quality, fit and workmanship with some of these guaranteed Suits we're turning out. See if you're treating yourself just right, then we'll make yours.

No large rent, no large stock to carry and carry over, no large up-keep is why we're making Suits to order for less money than you can NOW buy ready-mades. Same quality. Think this over.

In connection with my tailoring business, I've added a line of Alpaca and Mohair Coats, Dusters and Raincoats from a manufacturing plant in New York. I carry sample garments and can deliver in two days. Look them over. I'll save you 25 to 30 per cent. on this line also. Respectfully,

W. E. MOODY,

SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE OF THE INTERNATIONAL TAILORING CO., OF NEW YORK, CHICAGO AND LONDON,

Office Under Voshell House, Next to Robert McWhorter's, CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND.

THE POULTRY SHOW.

The entries for the poultry exhibit at the fair July 28-31 are coming in very slowly. Perhaps there is a hesitancy on the part of some of our farmers and poultrymen about entering their poultry because of the condition of their feathers. Let us say to such that this will not effect the standing of the poultry. We think our farmers should patronize this exhibit for the sake of their financial interests. The entrance fee is small, and anyone, especially those poultrymen who advertised their eggs for setting purposes, should see the great value of having an exhibit of their birds at the show. The exhibit is going to be a success. But we want the largest display we can possibly get in order to make the first show a great success. For this reason the committee at its meeting on Monday decided to extend the time for the closing of the entries to Thursday next, July 23rd, in order to give everybody ample time to send in their entries, and those who are hesitating about doing so, the chance to make up their minds to help the thing along. No entries will be accepted after the 23rd, but all entries mailed that day will be received and duly credited. We urge everyone, however, to send in their entry as soon as possible in order that the committee may know the exact number of coops that will be required to care for the birds. Don't wait until the first day of the fair in which to bring your poultry and enter them. No poultry not entered by July 23rd will be received. There are 175 special prizes of value offered as premiums, besides blue and red ribbons for birds in competition. These prize winners will be publised in all the leading poultry journals of the country, and you can readily see what a big boost it will give your poultry. Now be a booster, and help make the first annual poultry show a big success.

Another Bequest to Washington College.

President J. W. Cain delivered to the Board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College last Saturday night a check for $500 from the executors in the estate of the late Dr. Samuel L. Rogers, who in 1848 was professor of English and Mathematics at the college. Dr. Rogers visited the college in 1908, and was so much pleased with the great advancement and many improvements he observed that he expressed his intention to remember the college in his will. Dr. Rogers died some three years ago. He spent the greater part of his life in Bridgeport, Connecticut. He was one of the oldest, if not the oldest, living graduate of Yale, and was close to 90 years of age. It will be remembered that the intention of an unmentioned benefactor to leave a bequest to Washington College was announced at the commencement in 1909 by President Cain, and like the bequest of the late Senator Foxwell, it became available only recently. It is worthy of remark that the intent of these two public spirited citizens expressed six or seven years ago should have reached the college less than a month apart. The bequest should be suitably recognized by the Board of Visitors and Governors, and no doubt President Cain will make fitting public recognition of it at the next commencement exercises.
