PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

Miss Anna Little, of Baltimore, has been the guest of Mrs. Frank D. Leary and other friends in town during the week.

Miss Glasscock, of Baltimore, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Eliason.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hubbard are attending the annual convention of the National Fertilizer Association at Hot Springs, Va., this week.

A party of young folks from Chestertown is enjoying bungalow life for the week in two of Mr. Walter U. Lusby's Tolchester farm bungalows. Those in the first bungalow are: Mrs. Walter U. Lusby and daughter, Miss Emily, Mrs. Ollie Estes and boys, Frank and Ellsworth, in the second are: Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jones, Misses Mary and Nellie Nicholson, Sue Dunbracco, Estelle Anthony and friend and Webster Hague and Downes Price.

Mrs. Barbara Anthony and daughter, Miss Barbara, are spending the summer with relatives and friends in Philadelphia.

Mr. George Perkins, of Philadelphia, is the guest of his brothers, Messrs. Eben F. and Thomas W. Perkins.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Newsome are enjoying the breezes of Atlantic City.

Miss Avis Dodd is visiting relatives and friends in Still Pond.

Mr. A. S. Crowford is quite sick at his home on High street. He is threatened with an attack of appendicitis.

Mr. Gambrill, pharmacist in the Stam Drug Company, visited Baltimore and elsewhere last week.

Mr. Leonard Needles spent several days last week with his wife at the State Sanitorium. Mrs. Needles is improving steadily and is much encouraged.

Miss Louise Armstrong has accepted a position as secretary to County School Superintendent J. L. Smyth.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Silcox and little son, of Connelsville, Pa., and sister of Middletown, Del., have been guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Faulkner the past week. They made the trip in their touring car and called on many friends and relatives while in Kent.

Mrs. S. A. Dodd, one of our oldest and most beloved lady residents, had the misfortune to fall down two steps of the stairway leading from the sitting room to her bed room at her home on Tuesday morning. While no bones were broken, the shock to her nervous system was such as to render her condition serious for sometime, but we are very glad to state that she is improving.

The many friends of Mr. Walter T. Morris were very glad to see him in Chestertown on Tuesday. Mr. Morris is improving rapidly and his friends are delighted to see him looking so well.

Mrs. Fannie Davis and two daughters are visiting Mr. Frank Davis and family in Wilmington and Mr. Milbourn Davis and family in Philadelphia.

NEW TELEPHONE SYSTEM FOR CHESTERTOWN.

Last Saturday night, at 9 o'clock, saw the old magneto system of telephones pass out of existence forever in Chestertown, and the coming in of the up-to-date common battery system. It was at that hour that the cut-over or transfer of all the telephones connected with the old switchboard of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company was made to the new switchboard in their new quarters.

The hour of 9 P. M. on Saturday was selected for the cut-over as at that hour the traffic load is light and the least inconvenience would result from any irregularity. When everything was ready, the operators, looking very trim and neat, filed in and took their places at the new switchboard. These young ladies will be able to say to future operators that they held the distinction of having put up the very first connections on the new switchboard.

Other operators were stationed at the old switchboard, making connections right up to the last, and they will have it to say that they put up the very last connections on the old switchboard.

Every pair of wires in the cables entering the old central office had been spliced to a pair of wires in the cable entering the new switchboard room. At the old office heavy cords had been threaded along behind the heat coils which were a connecting link between the outside cables and the new switchboard, so that one pull would remove every coil and thus connect every line. At the new office the line relays were prevented from operating until all was ready by small, thin pieces of fribre inserted in them. Strong linen cords were threaded through the holes which had been made in the fibre so that they also could be removed by a single pull. When the change was made connections were immediately put up on the new switchboard corresponding to these on the old switchboard at the time, so that no conversation was disturbed.

There was a hush of expectation as if everybody present knew that something was going to happen but were uncertain as to what it was. The word

The Old Way and the New

The old way of communication was by letter. You waited a couple of days for the answer, which was frequently incomplete.

The new way of communication is by telephone. You save time, labor and expense for all concerned. You get an immediate answer, and go to the heart of the matter at once.

If you haven't a telephone, it will pay you to get one. If you have a telephone, it will pay you to use it more.

When you telephone—smile.
