ABE COHEN

Sells it for Less and Pays More for Produce! Sandy Bottom Department Store!

"pull!" was given to the men in the old terminal room and in that second all the lines were disconnected there. The next second the word "pull!" was given to the men at the relay rack in the new terminal rack, and at that instant the bits of fibre were drawn out of the new relays and all lines were ready for use on the new switchboard. It was done. The cut-over was a complete success. The old switchboard had given up the ghost and the new switchboard started out on its career. Congratulations all around followed. Among those present when the cut-over took place were the following: Messrs. W. B. Copper, Thos. Perkins, W. F. Russell, Hope H. Barroll, Senator W. W. Beck, Messrs. W. W. Hubbard, Scott Beck, Charles L. Dodd, Dr. Frank B. Hines, Dr. H. G. Simpers, Messrs. A. A. Harris, J. W. Crouch, George R. Rouse, Merrick Clements, William Duyer, H. W. Vickers, Jr., Eben Perkins, F. G. Usilton, W. B. Usilton, Thomas D. Bowers, R. H. Collins, Thomas Bordley, T. D. France and many others from town.

REPRESENTING THE COMPANY.

Messrs. R. E. Bullock, J. N. Weems, E. L. McFrederick, J. B. Howell, plant department; Mr. W. N. Roberts, Miss M. Phelan, Mr. R. R. Tower, traffic; Messrs. M. E. Gerber, R. C. Harris, commercial.

The new plant is of the modern type. The switchboard, which is always the very heart of a telephone system, is one of the most complicated, delicate and likewise most expensive pieces of mechanism in the whole telephone world. In a single big switchboard such as may be found in Baltimore or Washington are four thousand miles of copper wire, fifteen thousand tiny Concentrate what is being said and talk with a smile. Courtesy is like oil to machinery—the lack of it will cause friction, and friction in telephone talking is a thing to be avoided.

If you are slow in answering your telephone bell, the party calling you may get tired waiting and hang up. What is frequently blamed as slow service, is often caused by the called party not answering his bell promptly.

If some one else is wanted do not place the receiver back on the hook while you get him, as placing the receiver on the hook automatically signals the operator that the conversation is finished. Should you desire to recall the operator, move the receiver hook slowly up and down. This flashes her signal lamp. If you move the hoop rapidly it does not transmit the signal, and operator does not know you want her. Jigging the hook does no good and is likely to injure the instrument.

When you have finished telephone conversation, hang up your receiver. This signals the operator that the conversation is concluded. The receiver should never be left off the hook while the line is not in use, as this prevents any incoming calls, however important, from reaching you. On a party line it prevents any one else on that line from using the telephone.

When the operator reports "busy" or "Don't answer," remember it is easy for her to make the connection if it can be made as to the test necessary to ascertain if the line is busy. If you are calling a party line telephone, remember that the "busy" report may not necessarily be because the particular telephone you are calling is in use. Possibly it is some other telephone on the same line.

Be slow to blame the operator for every little difficulty. Remember that there are three parties to every telephone conversation. Last, but not least, "when you telephone, smile."
