AAU Threatens Probe Of Stanfield, Sprint Champ

NEW YORK — Officials of the Metropolitan Amateur Athletic Union are reportedly weighing the advisability of investigating the amateur status of Andy Stanfield Olympic 200-meter champion recently appointed to a job as coordinator of public school athletics in Jersey City, N.J.

Stanfield himself has as yet received no notice of the action though Pinky Saber, a member of the registration committee of the Metropolitan A.A.U., said that both Andy and Mae Faggs, a member of America's women's 400-meter relay champions, had been asked to appear before that body.

No Action Yet

"No action has been taken," Saber said. "We have received queries about both of them and we are forced to look into the matter. It's quite possible that neither has violated any amateur rules and no action will be taken."

Stanfield was named to his post on Aug. 6, about two weeks after his victory at Helsinki. Andy accepted the post only about 10 days ago, just after he had been given a gala welcome home by his fellow townsmen.

Stanfield is a graduate of Seton Hall University and holds a degree in physical education from the South Orange school. He has completed all state requirements and is presently awaiting a temporary teaching certificate from Trenton. He applied for this shortly after his return.

The basis of any charges against Andy would have to be that he had accepted the Jersey City position solely as a reward for his Olympic victory. The amateur code rules out anyone who completes for money or capitalizes on his athletic fame.

Received Advice

Andy has no intention of hanging up his spikes in the near future. Before he accepted the job as co-ordinator of athletics, he received advice as to how it would affect his amateur standing. Evidently the advice was that it wouldn't.

Still there was little doubt that sooner or later the whole matter would be brought before the registration committee. The AAU does not go for "persecution by rumor" and would rather bring each case up, hear it out and make a decision. As Saber says, there is no reason to believe that this decision will be against Andy.

Leo Lewis Sparks Lincoln To Win Over Tennessee

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Leo Lewis, sophomore halfback of Lincoln University, Mo., scored two touchdowns and kicked one extra point to spark his team to a 20-12 victory over Tennessee State University of Nashville in the third annual Bluff City Classic Friday night.

A crowd of 6,000 fans were stunned by the alert ball club from Missouri which took advantage of the breaks to capture their first Memphis classic.

Lincoln recovered a State fumble on the first kickoff on the latters' 18-yard line and used just five plays to drive for a touchdown. Maton Smith, halfback, scored from the two. James Brown kicked the extra point.

Rolls 52 Yards

Tennessee roared back with a 52-yard sustained drive to the one. Clarence Bush, quarterback, sneaked over. Clay Stampley's kick was blocked by the hard charging line of Lincoln stood out charging Lincoln line.

Tennessee scored again after recovering a Lincoln fumble on the 13. Milton Tiddle, freshman halfback, skirted his right end for eight yards to score Stampley's kick was wide.

Harry Walker, line backer for Lincoln, caught an A.-A. pass on the latter's eight which set the stage for Leo Lewis, fleet-footed back, to score on a flanker play from his two. The extra point try was wide.

Lewis Goes Over

It was Lewis again in the last quarter who broke away for an eight yard gain to make the final Lincoln touchdown. Harrison's kick was good.

Tennessee lead in first downs, 10-6.

Don Newcombe's South Team Defeats North, 7-3

WASHINGTON

The South scored a 7-3 victory over the North in the second annual all-star baseball classic at Griffith Stadium Sunday, with Don Newcombe twirling five innings for the victorious nine.

Newcombe, Brooklyn Dodger 2,000 fans, enabled the South to even the count on the North in the annual fall series.

The triumph, achieved before a hurling ace, now in the Army at Camp Pickett, Va., retired after five innings, with his mates trailing by a 2-0 count. However, the South stalwarts wasted little time and two frames later, the seventh, jumped on the North for seven big tallies, which decided the contest.

Newcombe went three scoreless and hitless innings, striking out four of the 10 batters he faced. In the fourth, Lacy Ellerbe, outfielder, blasted Big Don for a three-bagger for the first safety off the Dodger twirler.

Ellerbe Hits Triple

Ellerbe's blow came with two down however, and he failed to advance. In the fifth the North put two hits, including Steve Ellis's single and Charlie Rigby's triple, together with Cook's error for the lone two runs off Big Don.

All told, Newcombe allowed three hits, two runs, walked two and fanned five in the five frames.

Big Don's mound opponent, Ed Isley the 19-year -old fo'mer scholastic sensation, held the opposition scorless during his six-inning stint. Slender Ed gave up only two hits over the six frames but frequently had to bail himself out of trouble because of his wildness. He put five men on via walks but was airtight in the pinches striking out five and stuffing out every South rally.

Dave Hoskins Wins 2 Playoff Games

DALLAS, Texas (ANP) — Dazzling Dave Hoskins proved the Eagles stopper - man again Saturday night in Oklahoma City when he went to the firing line for the second time in the Shaughnessy playoff series between Dallas and Oklahoma and pitched the Dallas nine to a one - sided 11-3 victory.

This was Hoskins's eighth consecutive pitching victory and his second in the playoffs. These were the Eagles' only victories in the playoffs, as Oklahoma City won the series four games to two.

In fact, Hoskins has been the only Dallas pitcher able to stem the heavy batting bombardment that the Indians have laid down since the series began. His second triumph made the series 3-2 in Oklahoma City's favor and gave the Dallas Eagles a slim but fighting chance to stage a two-game comeback in the friendly confines of Burnett Field in Dallas.

Hoskins exhibited perfect control as he walked not a single batter, struck out three and gave up but eight scattered hits.

Clarence Bush 7-Man for the Tennessee A. and I. State University eleven, will be at quarterback when the Tigers meet the Virginia State College Trojans Saturday. Bush is a senior from St. Louis, Mo.

Bolster Lion Line Backfield Hopes

LINCOLN, Pa. (ANP) — A number of backfield candidates for the Lincoln University football team will be playing in the line this season, Coach Bob Gardner observed this week as the Lions intensified their drills in preparation for the opener Friday night (Sept. 26) with Fort Meade at the Maryland base.

"With 18 backs and a shortage of linemen," Gardener said, "we'll have to convert some of our backs to give us depth where we need it most — up front".

After watching the squad engage in two scrimmages, the coach said he was satisfied with the hustling spirit of the men but added there was "lots of work needed before the team matched the smooth - functioning eleven of last year which won six and dropped two close ones.

With only three games scheduled at home, Lincoln will tackle Upsala College of Orange, N.J. here, on Oct. 4.

Steers Play Wildcats In New TCU Stadium

FORT WORTH, Texas — The Texas College Steers and the Wiley Wildcats will play their annual Thanksgiving Day football game here this year at Amon Carter Stadium, the home of the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs.

This year at Amon Carter Stadium, the home of the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs. Dallas, Saturday night, Oct. 11, between the Texas College and Langston University.

At The Ringside

CHICAGO (ANP) — Welterweight champion Kid Gavilan of Cuba, now on a tour of South America, had better start teeing off on southpaws because from the midwest a potent threat is rising to meet him. The rising new fistic idol is Chuck Davey of Detroit.

When Davey amazed the boxing world by neutralizing the potent gists of former middleweight champion Rocky Graziano at the Chicago Stadium, he demonstrated that he may be the next welterweight champion of the world.

At 26 years of age young Davey is just reaching his prime for the boxing ring. He has progressed carefully and steadily from a preliminary fighter to main events, taking on more rugged opponents in each fight.

Davey is winning his bout in a new way in this day of swinging maulers and no defense Chuck is outthinking and outboxing his opponents.

His southpaw style, of course, is puzzling to the ordinary fog. But unlike most southpaws, he uses all the tricks of the orthodox fighter, the jab the cross and the combination blows. The only difference is that he uses the opposite hands. His right jabs annoyed Graziano so that it continuously kept him off balance. Often it gave him openings for left hooks into the midsection or left crosses to the face.

Where Are Young Fighters?

Has the cycle moved to the white boxers? Only a year or so ago, nearly every champion and every leading contender was colored. Today, the rising young fighters for the most part are white.

Why is it that there are fewer good dark skinned fighters these days?

In this connection, it may be noted that young Chuck Davey among the welter-weights is a greater drawing card than either Gil Turner, Johnny Saxton or Johnny Bratton, top colored welters.

So far, Turner has not learned the art of defense although that has been his big weakness throughout his short career. Saxton appears to be the most serious of the three, but some of his bouts have been pretty sad.

Bratton by nature is endowed with all the assets of a welterweight champion speed, power and boxing ability. Unfortunately he has been temperamental in the ring, and appears to not always give his best. He is not always hustling in the ring. He gives fans the impression that he could be a lots better if only he would get out there and fight.

West Va. Held To Scoreless Tie

INSTITUTE, W. Va.—A crowd of approximately 1100 enthusiastic fans watched the Yellow Jackets of West Virginia State College play strong Mid Western Kentucky Thorobreds to a scoreless tie at Takin Field, Saturday evening.

The Yellow Jackets won the toss thus electing to kick off Curry kicked to the Kentucky five-yard line. A series of plays later found left guard Rupert Curry and left end James Young breaking through to throw Bill King, the Thorobred quarterback, for a 26-yard loss. Kentucky then took to the air.

Yellow Jacket quarterback William Archie stayed in constant danger as the furious Thorobreds swamped through the secondary.

The second quarter found the Thorobreds fighting hard in Yellow Jacket territory. A pass from King was completed to Samuel Patelt as he fell on the field umpire, William Price, to stop a possible scoring threat.

After taking the ball on downs, the Yellow Jackets then took the ball to the Kentucky 41, only to lose it themselves. The third quarter and fourth found both teams trying desperately to score but to no avail.

Yokelys In Even Split With Stars

Yokely All Stars broke even in their final double-header with the Oriole All Stars at Westport Stadium Sunday afternoon, winning the nightcap, 5-2, after dropping the opener, 6-5, in extra innings.

Barney Brown, veteran lefty of Negro National League fame, was the victim in the overtime contest, while Leon Day, another oldtimer well known to NNL fans, conquered the International Leaguers, headed by Howie Moss, in the afterpiece.

Lady Grapplers Set For D.C. Mat Debut

WASHINGTON

Two popular women newcomers in wrestling will make their local mat debut in an all-star line-up, beginning at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday night, Sept. 24, in Griffith Stadium.

Ethel Johnson, said to be the first of her group to be booked as a professional wrestler, will appear in a precedent-setting match with Kathleen Wimbley in a one-fall 30-minute bout. Their appearance will mark the first showing of the wrestlers locally.

Also billed as co-features on the international card which is headed by Lou Thesz and Antonio Rocco, the due looms as show stealers.

Miss Johnson, 18, weighs 130 pounds. Miss Wimbley at 140, stands 5 feet, 5 inches, and is 19 years old. It will be the first showing of the pair in the east.

Other performers rounding out Promoter Gabe Menendez's starladen card include Lu Kim, 280-pound Chinese wrestler and Adrien Baillargeon, Canadian strongman; and Gene and Steve Stanlee, brothers against the Zebra Kid and Man Mountain Dean in a team match.

Aggies Take On Allen U.

Play Carolinians Under Arc Lights

GREENSBORO, N.C. — The A. T. Aggies will meet Allen University of Columbia, S.C., Saturday night in the second of an 11-game schedule.

The game, to be played under the arc lights at Greensboro Stadium, will get underway at 8 o'clock, and marks the second and final game which the Aggies will play at night. The remaining home slate calls for daytime tilts.

Aggies Favored

According to reports coming from the South Carolina college, Coach W. W. Lawson, mentor of the Allen outfit, will field one of the best teams that it has had in recent years. His freshmen of last year are reportedly shaping into form for one of their toughest games of the year.

Last year, the Aggies cut loose with a five-touchdown barrage too out Bill Bell is not preparing for the game this year with that in mind.

On Monday he started drills with the same seriousness to remove glaring weaknesses revealed in his offense and defense when last Saturday night in the game featuring Central State College.

To Use All Formations

"We're playing each game as it comes," said Bell to reporters on Monday. He continued, "While we have defeated Allen in our recent engagements, the final score was never indicated the relative strength of the two teams. We are just going out there to outscore them if we can."

The Aggies will hold nothing under wraps in an effort to win this game. The variety attack, using six "T," "Y" and the single single wing as usual will be employed. The team is expected to try all of these formations in one only if the others fail.

All-Out Scrimmage Featured By Bates

Fundamentals Of Game And Split T Emphasized

With emphasis on fundamentals, Coach James Webb of Bates High School Annapolis, put his charges through their first full scale scrimmage session Friday.

The evening session of the two-a-day workout, was primarily used as a yardstick to cut down the large squad.

Before Friday the Bates team had devoted the major party of its time to dummy and contact work, and fundaments of the split T.

Dennis A Standout

One of the most impressive players to date according to Coach Webb, has been Team Captian Jack Dennis.

Dennis, a key man in Webb's plans for 1952 is considered by many to be a necessity if the T formation is to work effectively this season.

In spite of this fact, efforts are being made to locate a No. 2 man to back up Dennis. The pasging problem for the season has been put in the hands of Joe Simms.

Simms In Form

According to teammates, Simms, a junior, has shown flashes of fine passing form.

The coach is high in his praise for the way the team has performed on defense.

Consideration from this standpoint is given to Barney Hillary right tackle, and Joe Jackson end.

Replacement For Randall

Jackson is being groomed to fill the shoes of Leonard Randall who is now attending Morgan State.

Bates will play their first home game this Saturday against William Jason High of Georgetown, Del.

Their next opponent will be Dunbar of D.C., on Oct. 3. Dunbar opens its season two weeks ago with a 19-6 win over Parker Gray.

Black Beats 2nd Record

BOSTON — Joe Black, who already had broken one pitching record, was in the books for setting another as he and his Brooklyn Dodger teammates completed their weekend series with the Braves here Sunday.

The ex-Morgan College and Baltimore Elite Giants star early last week passed the all-time mark for finishing games by a Brooklyn pitcher when he wound up his 38th contest on Sunday.

Since then he has added three more mop-up jobs to his growing total.

Previous high of 37 finishes was hung up by Hugh Casey in 1947.

The new record which went into the books behind Black's name is the high number 54 relief appearances credited to Lee Webber, of the 1943 Dodgers.

Joe was in his 54th game on Sunday, and as of Tuesday morning, the Dodgers still had six games left on their season slate.

National League's 1952 'Rookie Of Year'

Already named "rookie of the year" for the National League for 1952, Joe Black, former Morgan State College athlete, passes a grin to his manager, Charley Dressen, of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Black on Sunday morning, as the Brooks entered their final week of the campaign, boasted a record of 14 wins against three defeats, and was credited with 11 games saved by his relief pitching.

Aggies Beat Central State

Tally 19-6 Win For 3rd Straight

GREENSBORO, N.C. — A. and T. Aggies unleashed a strong power running attack against Central State College of Wilberforce, Ohio to give them a stinging 19-6 defeat, marking the third victory in a row in the third annual intersectional classic here Saturday night.

Nearly 10,000 thrilled spectators witnessed the answer to Bill Bell's more pressing question of the replacement for William (Red) Jackson, last year's All - Conference quarterback.

The game uncovered two sophomores in Otha Miller and Lonnie Jackson, last year's All-Conference quarterback.

Pulls Bootleg

Hall pulled off a neat bootleg play in the third quarter running 10 yards for the Aggies' final tally. He faked handoffs to a couple of backs, walked nonchalantly back from the line of scrimmage, whirled and raced untouched to pay dirt to electrify the jammed stadium.

The Aggies scored first, less than three minutes after the kickoff. Melvin McCallister, speedy Central State halfback received the kickoff, and raced it up to his 31. On the very first play from scrimmage, big Bill Boyers, Aggie All-Conference tackle, threw a vicious tackle at Lionel Reed whole fumble was covered by William Bush to put the Aggies in possession on the Central State 30-yard line.

J. D. Smith, A. and T. fullback, ripped through the Ohio line for 24 yards on a handoff from Miller. Donald Quarles slanted off right tackle in a handoff from Miller for the touchdown. The attempt at extra point by Quarles failed, being partially blocked.

Aggies Held

On the second kickoff, the Red Marauders from Ohio worked the ball down to the Aggies' 40 yard line with Freddy Gee, James King and Reed, easily the starring backs from Central State, alternating in beautiful fakes and line smashes. Here the Aggie forward wall held and took over when a fourth down, Central State pass failed to connect.

Jack Gibson, Aggie halfback, took a pitchout from Miller and raced 36 yards to the visitor's 30 yard line. Miller passed to Author Staton for 8 yards to the 22 and tackle for the remaining yardage Jack Gibson slipped through and touchdown. Gibson split the cross bars from placement for the extra point.

Central Scores

For probably the most beautiful play of the evening, Freddy Gee, heaved a 24 yard pass to Marauder end, James Austin, at the same moment that the gun was fired to end the half. Austin twisted in the arms of an Aggie tackler, latterallied to James King on the 20 yard line.

Md. State May Replace Shaw On NCC Grid Schedule

DURHAM, N.C. — Maryland State College may replace Shaw University as the homecoming attraction for North Carolina College here on Oct. 25.

If the Marylanders oppose the NCC Eagles for the Tarheels' homecoming, the Northerners will take over a spot that was orginally Shaw University's.

The Shaw Bears canceled their football schedule last week due in part to lack of personnel. Officials at NCC would not talk for publication, but they grinned broadly at the possibility of Maryland's invasion.

Confirmation of NCC's home coming plans was expected to follow a meeting of the college's athletic committee Sunday night.

Jesse Joseph Packs Wallop For Ft. Lee

RICHMOND — Football opponents may forget his last name is Joseph and call him Jesse James of the 6-foot 195-pound Fort Lee quarterback fires accurate passes and knows how to ride through the line for large gains on "bootleg" plays.

The player is Jesse Joseph, a member of the 1952 edition of the Ft. Lee Travelers eleven.

Joseph is one of the reasons head coach Morgan Tuner of Ft. Lee looks forward to the coming season with an optimistic view.

Outstanding Player

The 24-year-old native of Oklahoma City, was an outstanding player in the 'Travelers' 13 to 8 lose to Virginia Union last Wednesday night.

His bootleg runs kept the Panthers constantly in hot water. It was Joseph who knifed over from the three - yard line, for a touchdown.

Throughout high school and college, Joseph was a standout player. He played four seasons with the state championship high school team of Oklahoma City.

At Tennessee State

As a collegiate player he distinguished himself by directing the Tennessee State University team for four seasons.

Joseph was drafted in September 1951 and assigned to Ft. Lee. This is his second season with the Travelers.

Gaines, Harrell, Hartsfield, Trio Of Frost Backs, Led The Scoring

BALTIMORE—Scoring in every period, the Morgan State College Bears routed the Fort George G. Meade Generals, 35-0, Friday night, under the arc lights on the latter's field.

It was the first public appearance of the 1952 edition of Bears directed by Head Coach Edward P. Hurt and it gave him an opportunity to observe the weaknesses and strength of the outfit which must go up against a seasoned Central State College eleven at Wilberforce, Ohio, on Sept. 27.

Morgan's first score came early in the first period on a four-yard plunge by Al Gaines, freshman back and the extra point resulted from a pass from Quarterback George Williams to Capt Irvin Locust left-end.

Hartsfield Scores

The second touchdown was made in the waning moments of the same period by Fullback Larry Harrell, who drove across from two yards out. This time Williams booted the extra point with Gary Freeman holding.

Art Scott, freshman back, swept 10 yards around left end in the second quarter to score the third tally standing up. Again Williams converted from placement.

Morgan's fourth touchdown was made by Howard Hartsfield, former University of Nevada star, shortly after the third period opened on a 7-yard dash off tackle. Williams again converted the extra point.

18 First Downs

The final Morgan score came in the fourth quarter when Walt Moseley jogged seven yards through the middle to tally. The educated toe of Williams again added the extra point.

The Generals, plucky but outgamed, failed to score a single first down while the Bears were racking up 18.

I Believe in Insurance...
Insurance is a boon to any group which is economically disadvantaged. There was a time when burials in "potter's fields" or the practice of soliciting funds from friends or neighbors was common among some segments of our people. Greater opportunities for gainful employment and the quite remarkable growth of insurance buying among Negroes has almost eliminated such scenes.
Whether we buy insurance for protection against illness or for funeral expenses, or as most people purchase as a matter of saving and thrift, we have amassed our largest pools of capital through the development of insurance.
I believe in insurance.

There are so many things that insurance can do for you.
Insurance can give confidence and peace of mind to the head of a family. He can protect his family from the expense of injury or accident through insurance. He can get insurance that will guarantee an education for his children. He can provide, through insurance, for a carefree and comfortable old age.
And, of course, a man does not have to "die to win" with insurance. The fact is that more than half of all insurance payments go to living policy holders!
Wouldn't you like to see how the right insurance can help make your life happier?

Bowl Game To Be Played Oct 19th

Arrangements for "bigger and better" pregame and halftime festivities, are being planned for spectators who attend the second annual Optimist Boys' Bowl football game on Oct. 19.

The show, which is to be held at Memorial Stadium, will follow along the same lines as that which pleased some 9,000 fans last year.

Most of the participants will be youngsters between the ages of 8 and 12. Members of the Red Shields Boys Club term are included in this age category.

The bowl game will feature the Red Shields vs. Shamokin, Pa., as a part of the celebration. Shamokin will bring its high school band and marching unit.

Another feature of the show will be the official coronation of a Bowl queen.

Leftovers don't stay around very long when you glamourize them with glasses of smooth and tasty
What's in the ice box? Leftover veal, chicken, beef, tongue? Try this:
3 tbsps. butter
4 tbsps. flour
1 cup canned consommé
½ cup evaporated milk
½ cup Madera's Sherry wine
1 tsp. Worcestershire
Salt and pepper to taste
2 cups diced, cooked veal*
2 eggs, chopped
2 tbsps. chopped parsley
1 tsp. dry mustard
Melt butter; stir in flour; add canned consommé and evaporated milk; cook, stirring constantly, until sauce boils and thickens. Add all remaining ingredients. Heat thoroughly before serving. Serve piping hot on toast, or with noodles, or mashed potatoes. Serves 4.
*Chicken, beef, tongue or lamb may be substituted for the veal.
(Put your bottle of Madera on the table, too!)
