H. F. JEFFERSON & BRO.,

THE LADIES' STORE,

Opposite Stam's Hall, CHESTERTOWN, MD.

"Progress" the Watchword

Merchandising is a real pleasure at this store, both to the customers and to those behind the counter.

The customer is well pleased because she can buy here what she wants and at a reasonable price, and every saleslady is in harmony with her work because every day she has new, stlyish goods to display, and, too, because you in some manner show your appreciation of the service the store renders.

This happy state of affairs causes all concerned to make their efforts spell PROGRESS.

LINENS, RATINES, CREPES And VOILES

These four kinds of dress goods surely have been leaders this season. And, of course, this store has had them in almost endless variety.

We have again replenished our stock in these lines and they are selling fast.

Come in and see the new things or write for samples.

Ladies' & Children's Dresses

NEXT WEEK WILL BE SPECIAL SALE WEEK FOR LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S DRESSES. You should see the styles and note the low prices. Cheaper than making them.

OUR DEATH RECORD.

MRS. SARAH A. DODD.

Mrs. Sarah A. Dodd, one of our most prominent residents, died at her home on High street last Saturday morning from the infirmities of age in her 83d year. Mrs. Dodd had been in failing health for some time, but her death was probably hastened by a fall which she sustained about two weeks ago in which she struck her head against the piano in her sitting room, and otherwise injured herself. The deceased was a native of Caroline county, but early in life she became an inmate in the home of the late Col. John N. Denning, then living on Corsica river in Queen Annes. Here she grew to young womanhood and became as one of the family. It was during her residence at the home of Col. Denning that she met Thomas Stephen Dodd, son of the late John T. Dodd, and the acquaintance developed into a happy union of the two on November 22, 1859. She then removed to Chestertown, and from the time of her coming here she became actively identified with every movement for good, with the church and with the social community. Death robbed her of her helpmate long years ago, but with a loyalty to her dead that was sublime to the hour of her death, she struggled along through life's pathway, raising a family of three boys, taking her place of loyal service to others in the community, and performing the duties of Sunday school teacher in the church of her choice, Chirst Methodist Protestant. The deceased was one of the grandest women that ever lived. No trouble was too hard for her to bear in perfect submission, no sorrow so great that she could not bear with resignation, and she gave her life to her family and to the welfare of others with a devotion that was as real and sincere as it was beautiful in its dispensation. Never a harsh word crossed her lips against a fellow mortal, and she was charitably disposed always to the faults of others. Mrs. Dodd was a woman of remarkable vitality, and even until the last hours of her life she remained conscious, and expressed her gratefulness for the devoted attention of her family and loved ones. The devotion of Mrs. Mamie Dodd, the deceased's daughter-in-law, to Mrs. Dodd during the last years of her life has been such as to endear her to all of Mrs. Dodd's relatives. No daughter could have been more devoted or loyal and no member of the deceased's family could have sacrificed any more of her comfort and pleasure than did Mrs. Dodd and her children to whom the deceased was devoted. We are glad to pay a tribute of respect to such a noble woman. We have felt the tender touch of her loving ministration in hours of illness, and we have heard the word of sympathy extended in all our boyish troubles, and we would not fail to give public expression of our love for this grand woman. The community has sustained a loss in the death of Mrs. Dodd, for her influence was for good, and her acts were always deeds of kindness. She is survived by three sons—Dr. H. L. Dodd, one of the town's leading physicians; Mr. C. L. Dodd, undertaker, and chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, and Thos. S. Dodd, of Chester, Pa. She also leaves a brother, Mr. James W. Lambert, of Chestertown. Funeral services were held from her late residence on High street on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by her pastor, Rev. Dr. W. R. Graham. Interment was made in Chester cemetery in the family lot. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Samuel and Joseph Vannort, Wm. A. Wheatley, Fred G. Usilton, Chas. S. Smith and Milton Baker. The floral tributes from relatives, friends, the church and Sunday school were profuse and beautiful. Her son, Undertaker Chas. L. Dodd, assisted by Undertaker J. E. Ferguson, had charge of the funeral arrangements.

DR. G. IRVIN BARWICK.

Dr. G. Irvin Barwick, formerly of Kennedyville, died at his late home, 1003 Poplar street, Baltimore, on Saturday morning last, from a sudden attack of angina pectoris. He had been confined to his bed for about a week, but his condition did not become serious until late Friday night. Dr. Barwick was about 45 years old, a native of this county, and a graduate of the Western Maryland College and of the medical department of the University of Maryland. He removed from Kennedyville to Baltimore about four years ago and took up the practice of medicine in that city. For a number of years Dr. Barwick practiced medicine at Kennedyville, had a large clientage and was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him. He was for years actively interested in Democratic politics, and wielded a large influence in the councils of his party. Four years ago he was a candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court as an independent, and received a substantial vote. Funeral services were held at his late home on Poplar street, Monday evening at 8 o'clock, and the remains were brought to Chestertown Tuesday morning and burial was in Chester cemetery at 11 o'clock, Dr. Graham and Rev. Frank S. Cain, of Kennedyville, officiating. Undertaker W. H. Krusen, of Still Pond, had charge of the burial arrangements. Dr. Barwick is survived by a widow, Mrs. Carrie M. Barwick, a daughter, Miss Elizabeth Barwick, a sister, Mrs. H. F. Jefferson, of Chestertown, and his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Barwick. His funeral was attended by a large concourse of friends whom he had throughout the entire county.

MR. GEO. DAVIS.

Mr. George Davis, aged 66 years, died at his home in Rock Hall on Wednesday afternoon. The deceased was a brother of Mrs. C. J. Reiche, of near Pomona.

The sister of Mrs. Marion Conklin, of Rock Hall, died on Wednesday evening. The deceased had been in failing health for some time, and had come from her home in Baltimore to Rock Hall for the benefit of her health.
