From A To Z with Sam Lacy

SAM LACY

Football season, now in full swing, offers A and T College as the top contender for honors in the CIAA, as was the case last year . . . The Aggies appear to hold a decided edge over the opposition in the nation's largest college conference, as witness their four straight triumphs of the young campaign . . . At Lincoln University and at Morgan College, youthful talent prevails, with freshmen and sophomores dominating the personnel . . . At the former institution, a freshman coach, Bob Gardner, is bringing his young charges along at the same time he is getting his own experience in the big tent . . . It could augur well for the future of the Penna. Lions . . . Eddie Hurt, at Morgan, is expected to be dangerous within another year or two since his outfit is also in the process of developing . . . and the Bear mentor can always be expected to improve.

According to reports, Harry R. (Big Jeff) Jefferson is building Hampton and the Pirates will up and at 'em in the latter stages of this season, and surely by the time next year gets under way . . . West Virginia State College, Virginia State and Union, though not as formidable as in previous years, will get better as the season moves along . . . At Bluefield, Sam Taylor is just beginning to find himself. He suffered severe losses last year and the year before, but his youngsters of the current crop are reported to be an ambitious lot and to those who know Taylor, this means enough . . . Norm Riddick is said to be moving along smoothly with a game crowd at North Carolina College and will be heard from by National Classic time, and an improved Johnson C. Smith aggregation is well worth noting.

Tan players picked up an estimated $22,022 from the 1952 World Series . . . While these figures are unofficial, A to Z has been assured by authorities who should know, that they are "not far off" . . . Aside from the $4,242 each to Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella and Joe Black, a $1,000 piece went to Edmundo Amoros, the late-season Dodger acquisition . . . Cuts of $1,100 went to Larry Doby, Luke Easter and Harry Simpson, of the second place Cleveland Indians (AL), and $1,085 to Hank Thompson and Monte Irvin, of second place New York Giants (NL) . . . . Orestes Minoso and Hector Rodriguez got $760 apiece as members of the third - place Chicago White Sox . . . Don Newcombe was voted $500 by the Dodgers and Willie Mays $250 by the Giants . . . both of these fellows in the Army . . . The Indians gave Sam Jones $300 and Dave Pope $100, the same amount sent to Ray Noble by the Giants . . . . Jones, Pope and Noble spent part of the season in the minors.

Vicious rumors involving Brooklyn Dodger ace Joe Black, and circulating around several Eastern cities shortly after the World Series died a . boring . . . . . The word was being tossed about that Black had neglected the very important item of dissolving his first marriage before undertaking his second . . . . If you are one of those who heard it, take this as official, it's a lie . . . . Let's give Joe and Doris Black a wish for luck and happiness and the break that two nice kids deserve.

Included among the plans the Dodgers are making for improving the 1953 team is one involving a good, long look at Junior Gilliam, the 25-year-old Nashville - born second baseman the Brooks bought from the Baltimore Elite Giants at the same time they purchased Joe Black . . . The Dodgers also have to be thinking seriously about Jim Pendleton, who was Gilliam's shortstop at Montreal last year . . . . The former Chicago American Giant infielder is subject to the winter draft.

Before finishing with the World Series, it might be pointed out that the Bums did an excellent job when one considers that the "meat" of their batting order contributed little or nothing in the way of a winning attack . . . . Jackie Robinson (the team's top hitter), Gil Hodges (leading home - run and RBI man), Roy Campanella, Andy Pafko and Carl Furillo between them delivered only 15 hits in 114 times at bat . . . . a collective .132 batting average . . . . That's at the rate of only one-and-a-half hits in every ten times at bat.

Ebbets Field organist Gladys Gooding had her own unique way of packing the 1952 season in moth balls . . . She signed off as the crowd filed out, with the following songs. "Blues In the Night;" "This Nearly Was Mine;" "You Got Me Crying Again;" "What Can I Say Dear, After I Say I'm Sorry?" "Deep Purple;" and "What A Difference A Day Makes."

See Campy Off On Barnstorm

Jackie Robinson helps his Brooklyn Dodger teammate, Roy Campanella, pack his gear for the latter's long barnstorming tour into the Southern hinterlands. Campanella will head a squad of all-stars on their annual swing through North Carolina, Alabama, Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas.

See Campy As First Tan Coach In Major Leagues

BROOKLYN — When the playing days of Roy Campanella are ended with the Brooklyn Dodgers, he may still remain in baseball, if the word of Walter O'Malley, the club president, means anything.

The star catcher, according to his boss, has great promise as a coach.

"I don't see why Roy can't turn to coaching when his playing days are over," the executive told the Associated Press last week.

"He's intelligent, level - headed, well - liked by both players and fans, and I think he'd make a fine teacher.

"I believe the color angle is a thing of the past in baseball. Roy (Jackie) Robinson and the rest have taken care of that by their wonderful comportment. They've been a credit to the game and not even the severest critics could point a finger at their behavior.

"The only stipulation I made to Roy was this. I told him he must take care of himself. By that I mean he must watch his weight. He has a tendency to put on a lot of poundage during the off-season. He's got to watch his diet. I want him to set an example to the others. Before he learns to handle other men, he's got to be able to handle himself. The weight problem is the only obstacle to his chances of remaining in the Dodger organization for years to come."

O'Malley said he believed the 31-year-old Campanella could continue as a top - ranking star for five more years provided he took care of himself. He regards Roy as the best catcher and one of the greatest clutch hitters in baseball.

"There isn't a person around today who loves to play more than Campanella," O'Malley said. "To Roy, far more than most men in the major leagues, baseball has been more than a job. It has been a way of life. Knowing that, it was I who put the coaching proposition to him.

"Campanella owns a liquor store, you know. I asked him whether he wanted to remain in baseball or devote the rest of his time to his business when his playing days were over. He said he would like to remain in baseball in any capacity. It was then that I made the coaching offer to him —under my terms. He agreed."

Campanella corroborated O'Malley's disclosure.

Hall went 80 yards for the first score.

Campy Booked For 23 Touring Dates

Dunbar Tops Douglass, 7-6

Brown's Kick Decides Tilt

WASHINGTON

Halfback Edgar Phoenix tossed a 6-yard pass to cap a 64-yard touchdown march, but it was Donald (The Toe) Brown's placekicking efforts which gave Dunbar a 7-6 margin over Douglass of Baltimore, here Friday in a steady drizzle in Brooks Stadium.

A rain-drenched crowd of 1,000 fans saw Brown, a towering 6-foot 4-inch flankman for the second straight week respond to keep Dunbar among the unbeaten South Atlantic Conference elevens. Against Bates, Brown booted the extra point to avert a possible defeat, and give Dunbar a 7-7 tie last week.

Brown's accomplishment gave Dunbar a season's mark of three triumphs and a single tie. For Douglass, it was the Ducks' third straight loss.

Dunbar Takes Lead

All the offensive punch of both teams was packed in the second period. Dunbar took a 7-0 margin when the Tide pounced on a Douglass fumble its 34.

Quarterback Ken Thomas, 170 pound general, teamed with Warren Williams, 195-pound fullback to move the ball to Dunbar's 44. Williams, then faking an end run, tossed to End Paul Tate who had eluded Douglass' last defender on Douglass' 31 - yard stripe. Two plays later, Phoenix heaved the touchdown marker to Tate.

Brown, a strapping 195 pounder, than followed through with his perfectly executed placement with later decided the contest.

Braxton Sets Up TD

A brilliant run by Hezekiah Braxton following an interception of Phoenix's pass set up Douglass' lone score. Braxton sped from his 33 to Dunbar's 42 after hauling in a flat pass, and following his blockers down the field.

A second-string Douglass quarterback, Al Jackson, flipped an 18 yard pass to set the ball in scoring position on Dunbar's 24. Three plays later he found Tom Wyatt in the end zone for the count. However, Jackson's forward pass attempt on the conversion was incomplete.

Late in the fourth quarter, Douglass saw its chance to wrest a victory from Dunbar go to waste as Braxton dropped a pass in the end zone alone.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—(Special) —With sophomore fullback Romas Gavins running like a scared jackrabbit and quarterback Aikin Hepburn in the driver's seat, the Florida A and M College Rattlers unleased a devastating ground attack to swamp the Ft. Valley State College Wildcats 51-0 here last Saturday.

Walcott Rated No. 1 For Rocky

Jersey Joe Granted Sixth Title Chance

WASHINGTON—Ratings of the National Boxing Association, released here last week, show that Jersey Joe Walcott, dethroned heavyweight king, is the body's choice as top challenger for the current champion, Rocky Marciano.

Already owner of five previous shots at the title, the venerable ex-titleholder is thus in line for his sixth chance.

The NBA quarterly ratings placed the new king, Rocky Marciano, at the top, followed by the familiar name of Walcott.

Only two others were listed as logical contenders, Rex Layne and Exzard Charles, erstwhile champion who is attempting a comeback.

Walcott was beaten in the title tries by Joe Louis in 1947 and 1948. After Louis retired Jersey Joe lost to Charles in a bout to determine Louis' successor in 1949. Last year he lost to Charles again in March and knocked Ezzard out in July to become the heavyweight champion. Marciano knoed Joe last month.

The NBA noted that foreign boxers dominate at least four of the eight weight divisions and blamed television for curbing the development of young boxers in the United States.

The NBA ratings:

HEAVYWEIGHT — Champion, Rocky Marciano; logical contenders, JERSEY JOE WALCOTT, Rex Layne and Exzard Charles.

LIGHT - HEAVYWEIGHT — Champion, Joey Maxim; logical contenders, ARCHIE MOORE and Harry (Kid) Matthews.

MIDDLEWEIGHT — Champion RAY ROBINSON; logical contenders. RANDY TURPIN, England; Carl (Bobo) Olsen, Hawaii, and Charles Humez, France.

WELTERWEIGHT—KID GAVILAN, Cuba; logical contenders, JOHNNY BRATTON, Bobby Dykes, Chuck Davey, Billy Graham and JOHNNY SAXTON.

LIGHTWEIGHT — Champion, Laura Salas, Mexico; logical contenders, JIMMY CARTER, Johnny Gonzales and GEORGE ARAUJO.

CHICAGO (ANP)—Chicago will be the scene of the game of the week in the National Pro Football league where the San Francisco 49ers will seek their first victory over the famed Chicago Bears.

Although the 49ers are co-favorites to win the National division championship they are not favored to beat the Bears. The Hustle takes the Chicagoans.

It will be a do or die affair for the Los Angeles Rams as they meet the Detroit Lions. Opening the season as world champions and favorites to repeat, the Rams have not reached the potency attained last year. They must win or drop out of the title race. Unfortunately, the Lions are top rugged.

The Green Bay Packers are going down South to tackle the Dallas Texans, Saturday night. Despite the exploits of Buddy Young and George Taliaferro, the Texans will find their line too weak to stop the Packers.

Ollie Matson and the Chicago Cardinals will try to pull an upset over the New York Giants, but the New Yorkers' defense is just too tough.

Once more it appears that the Cleveland Browns are on their way to a fabulous season. This week, the Philadelphia Eagles will be their victims.

The Pittsburgh Steelers should have little trouble with the Washington Redskins.

The Huddle's prognediction record is 10 rights and 2 wrongs for 833.

Armstrong Of D.C. Takes 26-0 Victory From Carver

For the third consecutive time in as many weeks, Carver Vocational High lost a major football game; this time to Armstrong of Washington.

Before less than 400 fans at Hughes Stadium Friday, the D.C. eleven out played and in general cut classed Carver to the tune of 26-0.

In the face of these three defeats, Carver must still contend Friday with the local Dunbar team in the first all city game of the season.

On the two previous occasions Carver lost to Dunbar of D.C. by a score of 16 to 13; and to Cardozo, 13-6.

The few bright spots in the Carver lineup were equally shared Friday by Matthew Davis, Daniel Winston; linemen George Brown, and Sylvester Molek.

The superb passing and kicking of Davis however failed to run up a single tally for the local team.

Armstrong In Command

The game from all aspects was Armstrong all the way.

Wide end runs and grandstand passes contributed to Carver's downfall.

Within the first 15 minutes of the game Armstrong completely stymied the Carver running attack.

The Washingtonians then struck swiftly for their first two touchdowns, with their first score resulting from a 60 - yard pass.

Thus far Carver's only consolation in winning a season's game
