said he went to Myers's house to look for a man with whom he worked when the garage was painted in August.

His face still slightly bruised Saturday morning, Pierson claimed that Myers at first knocked him down with his fists. When Myers ran back into his house for his pistol Pierson said he fled down the street to Payson st. The realtor leaped in his car and caught him.

Man Was Drinking

Under questioning by Myers' attorney, Harry A. Cole, Pierson admitted he had been drinking but denied that he was intoxicated.

SLIM MYERS

Cole told Magistrate Lane that Myers had no desire to prosecute Pierson. He said the realtor was only interested in recovering his whisky.

up an honest government.

Despite efforts by "veterans for Ike" and paid party workers, the rally was spotty and without that political fervor born of optimism for victory o Nov. 4.

William C. Hueston, grand lodge secretary, presented a citation from the grand lodge of Elks to General Eisenhower.

Brief talks which were also lacking spirit were made by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and U.S. Senator Irvin M. Ives. Bishop R. C. Lawson presided, and W. C. Handy, blind musician-composer, played his famous "St. Louis Blues."

Democratic workers for the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket were busy as beavers distributing thousands of circulars before and during the General's address with reprint of a message which appeared in a leading NYC daily captioned:

"Mr. Dewey — American Negroes Have Grown Up Politically ... And It's Time That You Grow Up, Too."

Thousands of Harlemites went about their shopping chores on W. 125th st., between Lenox and Eighth aves., without bothering to take a minute out to hear the GOP Presidential candidate.

C. C. ABBOTT

Atlanta—How did this "Ax Lovie" decape being put into a mental institution? Surely such asthmatic traits must have shown itself on other occasions.

D. W. HUGHES

Wilmington, Del. — What will happen to this "Ax Lovie?" She should never be allowed to see another human being. She should be shot the same as a mad dog.

(Mrs.) L. L. RUTHERFORD

Washington—Is the AFRO pulling our leg? Please tell us that your torso murder story is just make believe.

TWO HU COEDS
How Could She?

Durham, N.C.—I could hardly believe it but when I saw the pictures: I knew the AFRO was telling the truth. How could she do it?

H. M. K.

Detroit — Psychologists must have a name for people like Arizona Lovie. She sounds more than queer.

J. JONES

Annapolis, Md.—I saw slaughter overseas during World War II, and have read of wanton murder here at home but this case tops them all.

J. S. T.

Nashville—I have never been in favor of corporal punishment before, but hanging is too good for that "Ax Lovie" you wrote about in your paper.

A. L. SLADE

New York—God will punish "Ax Lovie" in His way. She has broken commandments that have not even been written.

G. W. MASSENGILL

Philadelphia—Printing news like that "Ax Lovie" case will only give ideas to potential murderers. Everytime a sensational case is printed in the paper a rash of similar cases breaks out all over the country.

H. E. WILLIAMS

Detroit—Printing news such as your "Ax Lovie" case is a good thing. It tells the world that your sins will catch up with you and that crimes against nature will be punished.

J. W. JASON
Made Me Sick

Boston — It actually made me sick to read about that "Ax Lovie" case. It's hard to believe that a human being could be so cruel.

H. W. COOK

Winston-Salem — What is that smudge on the nose of "Ax Lovie" you ran on the front page? It looks like a mustache.

J. A. WOODSON

Cleveland—If this "Ax Lovie" doesn't hang, then there's no hope for justice in the world.

H. MATTOX

Charleston, S.C.—The brain of this "Ax Lovie" should be turned over to the scientists to study. Maybe they can find out what causes people to act like animals.

T. D. GLENN

Baltimore — I can't understand why the neighbors didn't suspect something wrong when this "Ax Lovie" was trying to burn up the body.

I saw a lot of action during the War and you can't mistake the smell of burning human flesh. If the neighbors could see heavy smoke coming from the house where there was no seat for heat, they must have smelled flesh burning.

T. C. DODSON
Inhuman

Chester, Pa.—I notice in your story on "Ax Lovie" that you refer to her as Mrs. Love. I can't imagine anyone being married to such an inhuman beast.

H. ELDRIDGE

Hartford, Conn. — Your picture caption said "Ax Lovie" struck a defiant pose. That's putting it mildly. In that picture she appeared to be arrogant, bold and contemptuous.

H. G.

Atlanta — That cases proves there's no telling what a woman will do if she gets mad enough. That's why I'm not married now. I shiver everytime I think of the case.

SATISFIED BACHELOR

Baltimore—If she cut up the arms, legs and head and burned them up, I don't see why she didn't finish the butchering. That would have saved us all from those revolting pictures.

SENSITIVE READER

Raleigh, N.C.—I didn't get a good night's sleep after reading that weird story.

Shiloh were heard discussing the rumor—they refused to divulge their names or identify the source of their information.

The Rev. Mr. Harrison was absent from the Sunday morning services. His son-in-law, the Rev. Frederick G. Sampson, assistant pastor, preached.

The Rev. Mr. Sampson is scheduled to assume pastoral duties at a church in Roanoke, Va. However, the rumor identified him as the minister who would replace Dr. Harrison.

The Rev. Mr. Harrison's absence on Sunday marked the second week in succession that he has not delivered the Sunday sermon. Last week's sermon came from Leonard E. Terrell, president of Storer College.

Every seat in the church was filled last Sunday and the audience spread out to the aisles as the Rev. Mr. Sampson delivered an impassioned sermon that produced a constant murmur of approval from the congregation.

Warning about the temptation to be found in the world of today, the minister cautioned:

"You may be approached by the devil, but say I am a child of God. You will have temptation, but God will speak to you from His soul."

The assistant pastor encouraged the rapt congregation:

"Whenever there is trouble, read the scripture. Whatever has happened to you, always remember the scripture. Take God's word in your soul and you will find the answer.

"I leave you with Jesus, and remember that He will not forsake you," he said in conclusion.

dents that the anti - hazing rule was also in force last year when several members of the college basketball team were fined $8.75 each for hazing new students, including Mercer, college officials disagree.

The rule was in fluted and passed at the beg ning of the current school term, and the punishment for violation as stipulated, they state.

Student Council Inactive

The disciplinary action taken by the executive board in over a year.

Although there is a student council on the campus, it was not permitted to take part in the hearing. The executive board is composed of college department heads.

A graduate of Sollers Point High School, Mercer received a scholarship in agriculture to the school in 1951.

At the beginning of the '52 semester, he changed his major to history and government with the intention of enrolling at Loyola College next year as a pre - law student.

A member of the Maryland State College Air Force ROTC, he was dismissed the ex-student is now subject to the draft.

New Shiloh Observes 10th Anniversary Of Minister

New Shiloh Baptist church, Fremont ave. and Lanvale st., observed the tenth anniversary of its minister, the Rev. J. Timothy Boddie, with special services Sunday morning.

The Rev. Dr. Marshall L. Shepard, pastor of Mt. Olivet Tabernacle church, and recorder of deeds there, was guest speaker.

Following the death of the former minister, the Rev. Dr. W. W. Allen, on Palm Sunday 1942, the Rev. Mr. Boddie accepted the pastorate, Oct. 26, 1942, coming from Mt. Zion Baptist Church, Germantown, Pa.

Under the Rev. Mr. Boddie's ten year pastorate the $13,000 mortgage has been paid; the church has been completely renovated and redecorated; the organ modernized and amplified; choir lofts erected.

The kitchen and rest rooms have been expanded and new groups and organizations have been formed. At present a building program is in progress for additional rooms.

President of the United Baptist State Convention of Maryland the Rev. Mr. Boddie has a wife, Mrs. Emery M. Boddie, and four children: Marcia, Timothy Jr., Vashti and William.

Congressman Dawson To Address Democratic Rally

Congressman William L. Dawson and Mrs. Ruth W. Whaley will be principal speakers at a Democratic rally to be held at the Elks Home, 1528 Madison ave., Thursday night.

Heralded as an "old fashioned political rally," the meeting outlines the importance Democratic stalwarts have attached to securing the colored vote.

MRS. RUTH WHALEY

Congressman Dawson (D. ILL.) has advanced to one of the highest ranks in the Demonratic party. He is currently designated as assistant to the National Chairman, and assisted in the preparation of the Democratic platform.

Mrs. Whaley, secretary of the New York Board of Estimates, has for a long time been actively associated with the political fortunes of the Democratic party.

Held Many Positions

She has in recent years served as Deputy Commissioner, New York Department of Housing and Buildings, and as Director of the Division of Staff and Community Relations in the Department of Public Welfare.

A former school teacher, Mrs. Whaley is a graduate of Fordham University. She was the first colored woman to practice law actively in New York state.

Senator Herbert O'Conor, Mayor Thomas D'Alessandro, George P. Mahoney, Congressman Edward Garmatz, Sam Freidel, and Col. E. Brooke Lee, Democratic campaign chairman, will also be present at the meeting.

Lloyd Randolph, local Democratic leader, is sponsoring the rally, while William B. Dixon is chairman of the affair.

Mental Hospital Is Given TV Set

The Frontiers club, a civic and charitable organization, presented a television set to patients in C building at Crownsville State Hospital Oct. 22.

The club, established for more than ten years, has taken a continuing interest in the hospital. Its members gave the first TV set to be presented to the mentally retarded children in the Winterode building.

They also furnished a day room for pre-parole male patients, complete with recreation equipment and furnishings.

Norwood Brown President

Norwood Brown is president of the club and Dr. Aris Allen and Cecil Burton act as chairman for Crownsville.

Arrangements for the teevision set presentation were made by Mrs. Dorothy Rogers, recently appointed as co-ordinator of volunteer activities of the hospital.

The Rev. David Creil gave the invocation and Dr. Jacob Mergenstern, superintendent, accepted the set for the hospital.

Caseworker Moves To Combined Office

When northern and eastern districts of the Family and Children's society are temporarily combined Nov. 1, Mrs. Gloria J. Carpenter, caseworker for eastern district, will work in the new consolidated office, the AFRO was told today.

Under the direction of Mrs. Eleanor Blake, district secretary, the headquarters will be located at 242 E. 20th st.

Mrs. Carpenter, of 2110 Rupp aaatatatasaaa cmfw st., received her bachelor's degree from Morgan College and her masters from Howard University. She has been with the agency for one year.

The combined districts will serve persons living north of North ave., east of Howard st. to Center st., north of Center to Fallaway and east of Fallaway and the waterfront.

What do you get for your money?

In commercial and industrial establishments the jobs performed by electricity and gas are comparable to those they perform in the home. Here also they provide outstanding value by stepping up efficiency, increasing production and reducing costs of operation.

The bill you get from us each month tells you how much electricity and gas you have used. But that really isn't what you have paid for, if you pause for a moment to think about it.

If yours is a typical family, you have enjoyed a whole month of lighting your home ... cooking your meals ... providing hot water ... evenings of television and radio entertainment. Your bill covers the operation of all your appliances ... refrigerator, washing machine, vacuum cleaner and many others. For many families it also covers the cost of heating during the winter months.

Yes, electricity and gas are your faithful and dependable servants day and night. They are likewise the biggest bargain in your family budget ... they do so much yet they cost so little.

AN APPEAL TO SOLID AMERICANS BY SOLID AMERICANS

Facts regarding the enslaving misnamed FAIR EMPLOYMENT PRACTICES ACT and the closed shop

By Harry F. Klinefelter

THE Civil War freed the Negro slaves — it was not fought to secure their votes because they then had none to give or sell!

A compulsory Federal FEPC, which really is a section of the Civil Rights Bill, is misnamed the Fair Employment Practices Act when it actually is a deceptive, enslaving scheme to snare both the White and Negro vote!

But should Uncle Sam ever be given the compulsory Federal peacetime power to tell us whom we must hire or fire, his next step would be to tell us for whom we must work—thus producing slavery which would re-enslave the Negroes and enslave the Whites as well!

The possession of this Federal-peacetime power would be irresistible as it has always been down through the ages. Lord Action's declaration, "Power Corrupts and Absolute Power Corrups Absolutely," is as true today as when he delivered it to Englishmen and to all others drunk with power.

The really decent people of all races, nationalities and religions everywhere cannot remain decent so long as they tolerate any form of slavery whatsoever!

Such laws, whether Federal or State, are a distinct menace to the God-given, Constitutional rights of Employers and Employees alike! Therefore, the individual States must retain, unimpaired, their fundamental individual rights as experimental legislative-laboratories, yet not endanger the sacred rights, liberties and privileges guaranteed all the Nation's citizens by the Constitution.

This still is the free United States of America, not Russia, where FEPC originated and where it is ruthlessly and brutally enforced.

Regardless of whether we are Whites or Negroes, or whether we are Democrats or Republicans, or whether we are members of Labor Unions or not, we all are workers of one kind or another, and we All are Free Citizens of these United States—except those workers compelled, by the Closed Shop, to join Labor Unions in order to get and hold their jobs.

Therefore, we all must beware and refuse to be deluded, deceived, tricked, betrayed and forced into slavery by venal Politicians and Labor Leaders Drunk with Power—our modern Simon Legrees!

That the dangerous radical Labor Leaders, like the dangerous radical Negro leaders, have sold out lock, stock and barrel to venal politicians who in turn have sold our Government down the river both at home and abroad, is a fact beyond dispute!
