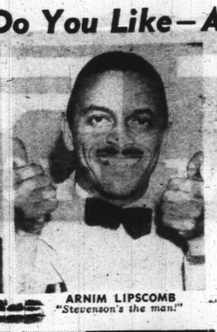
'Whom Do You Like—Adlai Or Ike?'

CELESTINE RICHARDSON
"No opinion."

FRANK ELLIS
"Adlai is in."



ARNIM LIPSCOMB
"Stevenson's the man!"

JOSEPH FITTS
"Adlai on all counts."

P. D. G. PENNINGTON
"I pick Stevenson."

LOUELLA BLACK
"Been too busy."

CHARLES HARPER
"Ike needs YOU!"

SOLOMON REDDICK
"I like both."

Support for Adlai Stevenson is still running high, according to results of a spot survey of eligible voters by the AFRO this week.

While these surveys are not intended as a necessary index to public opinion, they do reflect the intense interest the heated presidential race has generated.

Some of the persons queried were school teachers attending the three-day state conference at the Fifth Regiment Armory.

The teachers were reluctant to commit themselves, inplying that political expression is contrary to the dictates of the local school administration.

But Houston Jackson, assistant bunked this idea.

"Why such an attitude is completely false and gives a distorted picture. Every teacher is free to follow his or her mind in this presidential campaign," he said.

According to R. Clarke Davis, Stevenson's nomination is "the greatest thing since slavery. Anytime a man hugs Jimmy Byrnes, he can't hug me."

"Don't talk to me about foreign policy either, brother. I want to hear about Pennsylvania ave. and Dolphin st.—ME, that's what I'm interested in," Mr. Davis declared emphatically.

Charles Harper, 2024 Braddish ave., however, thinks differently about the presidential race. "I like Ike, we have been deviating from a program of virtue.

"As for civil rights, the 13th, 14th and 15th amendments to the Constitution refer to people as citizens. When you specify groups you are showing partiality.

"We don't need any special favors," asserted Mr. Harper.

According to Frank Ellis, 1929 W. Lanvale st., however, "Stevenson will win by a landslide. At least I know where he stands on civil rights and nobody knows where Ike stands.

"Had I been for Ike, it would have been destroyed by his almost pointless admiration of Byrnes and the Dixiecrats," Mr. Ellis said.

Arnim Lipscomb, 3924 5th st., nw., Washington, declares he likes Stevenson because "the liberal stand that he demonstrated while in the South proved his sincerity toward equal rights legislation.

"Eisenhower is a military man with 40 years in the Army. When he retired from the Army, he should have retired from public life altogether."

Joseph Fitts, 2506 Calverton Heights, says that "With Stevenson, we'll at least continue to work toward achieving the true meaning of Democracy. Don't ask me anything about Ike."

P. D. G. Pennington, school teacher, 2616 McCulloh st., said: "I think Stevenson is going to be the man, at least I'm going to vote for him."

Miss Louiella Black, Fairfield, Md., school teacher at School 106 declared: "I am still undecided. I've been so busy I really haven't had time to think about the campaign."

Solomon Reddick, 1917 W. Fairmount ave., teaches at the same school. "I haven't any opinion, because as of new, I like both. If I had to vote today, however, I think I would take Stevenson."

Miss Celestine Richardson, 3721 Kansas ave., nw., Washington, Montgomery county teacher, said: "I haven't formed any opinion, because I think political opinions should stay away from education."

James Gilliam, 2310 Ruskin ave., said: "If I was for anybody but Stevenson, I couldn't go home nights." His wife Mrs. Louise Gilliam works at Democratic headquarters in the Emerson Hotel.

Liquor Board Closes Dreamland

In a precedent - shattering decision, Friday, the Liquor Board announced it will close the Dreamland Cafe until April 30, 1953.

The board's action is a direct result of NAACP protests after two murders occurred in the tavern—located in the 1000 block Pennsylvania ave. — within ten days, last June.

At a public hearing held after protests were received, James H. Cullen, chairman of the Liquor Board, announced the meeting was called to determine the fate of the tavern.

At that meeting a number of uniformed Northwestern district police testified that the Dreamland was "no worse than any other place on Pennsylvania ave."

"Dangerous"-Vice Squad

Lt. Joseph Byrne and members of his headquarters vice squad, specifically termed the Dreamland as a "place where your life is in danger."

Irvin Kovens and Frank J. Hanson, Liquor Commissioners, also denounced the place as being dangerous, filthy, and generally unhealthy.

Mr. Hanson quoted Police Chief Inspector Joseph Itzel as terming the Dreamland as "The worse place I've ever seen" after a visit to the spot.

At the same meeting, Mr. Kovens recounted an instance when, while on a routine inspection, he and Mr. Hanson found an unconscious man lying on the tavern floor who had been beaten and robbed.

Praise From Mrs. Jackson

Mrs. Lillie Jackson, NAACP president, loudly praised the Liquor Board's action. "With the cooperation of such a fine and impartial board, the citizens are finally getting a chance to be heard.

"We must never forget, however, the splendid co-operation received from the AFRO and Lt. Joseph Byrne. He stood by us when the Northwestern district policemen wouldn't," Mrs. Jackson declared.

Order Mistrial In Poker Case

A jury was dismissed and a mistrial ordered in Criminal Court Monday by Judge E. Paul Mason who ruled that a Vice Squad officer had given prejudiced testimony against two men on trial for gambling.

The trial of the men, Mack Savoy, 44, 2300 block W. Lanvale st. and Albert Creig, 44, 1500 block W. Lanvale st., began on Friday.

After opening statements by the prosecutor, Asst. State's Attorney William C. Rogers, and defense counsel Alan Murrell, the first prosecuting witness took the stand.

On Sept. 4 Raid

He was Officer George J. Fink who was on the raid on Sept. 4 in the 600 block W. Biddle st, which led to the arrest of eight men, including the two defendants.

Fink began his testimony by saying that on Aug. 30 he went to the Biddle st., address to investigate a complaint that Savoy was there.

Mr. Murrell immediately objected that the testimony was prejudiced.

Judge Grants Motion

Judge Mason discontinued the case until Monday morning at which time he granted Mr. Murrell's motion for a mistrial.

Both men were continued in $2,500 bail pending further action by the state.

At the time of the Sept. 4 raid all eight persons arrested were charged with conspiracy to violate the gambling laws and maintaining a gambling place.

Charges Were Dismissed

In Northwestern Police Court Magistrate E. Everett Lane dismissed the charges against all eight defendants.

Later, however, a special indictment was returned by the Grand Jury against Savoy and Creig.

The complaint against the men charged that a draw poker game was going on at the Biddle st. address at the time of the raid. Police recovered only $5.66 at the time.

Hallinan, Mrs. Bass Speak At Political Rally

More than 600 persons at the Gillis Memorial Church heard the Progressive Party national candidates, Vincent Hallinan and Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, call for an immediate cease-fire in Korea and enactment of a full civil rights program at a public rally Friday night.

The candidates had earlier appeared on a TV show and Hallinan, labor lawyer who is the Progressive nominee for President, later spoke on a nation-wide radio program orlginating locally.

The audience, which filled the church auditorium, responded enthusiastically to the main speakers' thesis that only a vote for the Progressive ticket would help register the real desires of the American people.

Against Taft-Hartley Law

In addition to peace and civil rights, the candidates called for repeal of various thought control and restoration of the Wagner Act, and "anti-labor" measures such as the Smith and McCarran Acts.

Mrs. Bass, first colored woman to be nominated for the nation's second highest post, castigated her opponents Nixon and Sparkman.

"I've known Nixon since he was ten years old," the veteran civil rights fighter said of the California Republican, "and I've never known him to do a good deed."

She documented her charge with evidence of the contributions of California oilmen to her opponent's past and present campaigns.

And of Sparkman, Democratic nominee, Mrs. Bass laid bare a voting record which included 23 votes against any and all civil rights legislation.

Mr. Hallinan devoted most of his time to making clear the nature of the present war drive, insisting that it was a cover-up for attemps to lower the living standards of all Americans thru increased prices and taxes, while profits of corporations hit all time highs.

The Rev. T. C. Jackson rendered the invocation and benediction and the Rev. Hiram Smith, Mt. Lebanon Baptist Church, also spoke.

Youths In Cop Wounding Incident Are Convicted

Two young men invoved in an Aug. 2 altercation with several plainclothes officers in which Officer William Burke, Northwestern District, was accidently wounded got off with fines and suspended sentences Monday in Criminal Court.

Judge Herman M. Moser charged, however, that Trust Brown Jr. and Major Evans had been "smart and fresh" and warned that their kind of "rowdyism can cause far more consequences."

Brown, 21, 2000 block W. Fayette st. was found guilty of disturbing the peace and received a 30-day suspended sentence, o $50 fine and was placed on probation for a year.

Gets 1-Year Sentence

Evans, 22, 2200 block Harlem av., was convicted of disturbing the peace and assault. He got a suspended sentence, a $50 fine and the disturbing the peace charge and a 1-year suspended sentence in the House of Correction on the assault.

Placed on probation also for a year, Evans was ordered to pay court costs and $150 to Officer Burke.

The incident occurred at Mount and Baker sts. on Aug. 2.

Saw Five Men

Sgt. John Dunn, Northwestern District, testified that he, Officer Burke and several other officers, all in plainclothes had stopped for a light at the corner when they saw five men start across the street.

Both Sgt. Dunn and Officer Burke testified that one of the men asked if the officers had "any broads in the car."

The officers said that Brown shook the car by grabbing a radiator ornament on it. When the plainclothesmen got out to arrest the men, Evans had an open penknife in his hand, it was testified.

Officer Drew Gun

Officer Burke said he drew his gun and ordered the young man to drop the knife but after he did he put up a struggle.

Burke said he was shot when Evans kicked him as he was attempting to place his gun back in his holster. He was wounded in the hip and leg.

Under cross examination by defense attorney Melvin S. Silberg he denied clubbing Evans with his gun. Burke also admitted he testified at the Northwestern Police Court that he didn't believe that Evans knew they were policemen.

Former 82nd Member

Brown, a former member of the 82nd Airborne Infantry Division, denied that anyone in the group did anything to the police car. He also denied that he grabbed the car's radiator ornament.

Evans, a former member of the Air Force, claimed the first thing he knew anything was wrong was when one of the officers opened the car door and began beating him on the head.

He said he didn't know who the men were and even called for police to help him. Evans also denied his knife was open when he dropped it.

Called baek to the stand by the prosecutor, Asst. State's Attorney Saul Harris, Sgt. Dunn said the yough's knife was open when he picked it up from the gound.

Judge Moser, in commenting on the origin of the incident, remarked that if there had been "citizens in the car, they would have been afraid to get out."

71 Awarded High Masonic Degree

Candidates Gather In D.C. From 16 States Of The Union

WASHINGTON

Seventy-one candidates from 16 states were admitted to the 33rd Honorary Degree of Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Free Masonry on Monday at the Masonic Temple.

The occasion was the 98th Anniversary of the Order's Southern Jurisdiction.

Sessions began on Sunday afternoon at the Scottish Rite Cathedral on 11th st. and memorial services were held at night at the 15th street Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Allen Presides

Presiding was Dr. Willard W. Allen, sovereign grand commander, who reported a membership of 13,000 in 208 consistories in 26 states.

The financial report showed cash in bank $64,319, U.S. savings bonds $30,000.

Commander Praised

A resolution was passed directing the order to purchase an additional $10,000 in government bonds.

Speakers at the Monday morning session included Anthony N. Overbee, assistant secretary of the U.S. Treasury, who said that Dr. Allen has helped to bring among the 13,000 Prince Hall Masons one of the best organized efforts for defense bond promotion of any national fraternal group.

He said the record showed that Prince Hall Masons had purchased 25 million dollars worth of savings bonds during the life of the program.

Other speakers were Joseph F. Donohue, president of the District Board of Commissioners and special guest was George W. Crawford, New Haven, Conn., Grand Sovereign Commander of the Northern Jurisdiction of the Scottish Rite Masons.

Progress Noted

Dr. Allen, in his annual address, said the Scottish Rite membership is distributed in 20 states and the District of Columbia, that it has a fine fraternal relationship with the Northern Jurisdiction of Scottish Rite Masons.

During the year it has not only pushed the sale of government bonds, but has contributed to the United College Fund and, in cooperation with the Northern Jurisdiction and the Urban League, has set up a commission during the year to hold vocational guidance institutes in Baltimore, Pittsburgh, and Birmingham, Alabama.

Its purpose is to qualify men for new jobs which are now opening up to them.

Asks Full Support

He asked full support of the Supreme Council in the fight being waged by the colored press, the Urban League, the NAACP and similar agencies which are working for the benefit of minority groups

Members were urged to give their complete support to local businesses.

As an insurance man, he said he knows that the interest and the pride which we take in our own businesses will help determine the exten. of the services available.
