Enough Fiskites In Paris To Form University Club

BY LENORE BUFORD

PARIS — (ANP) — The tours of the original Fisk Jubilee Singers seems to have left a travel-bug tradition at the University among the Magnolias.

Texan Cleophus R. Wise is here to study medicine at the Faculte ds Medecine. At present C. R. says he is quite busy "learning the language." He is a most recent Fisk graduate (Class of 1952) to come to Paris, and say that he has the "first year away from school blues."

Paging Jordan Scott

An ex-member of Fisk's football team, he is trying to get in touch with Jordan Scott, who was studying at the Faculte last winter. Mrs. Jordan Scott (nee Wahwee Frazier and also a Fiskite) will join her husband soon. She is in Frankfurt, Germany at this writing.

Jeannette Harris, New Yorker, and former Fisk staff member, was in Paris for several weeks en route to Italy. She is on the publicity staff of the race relations department of the AMA at the Fisk headquarters. Jeannette will return to Paris for a longer stay in the spring.

Another New Yorker, Velma Howard, will be in Paris indefinitely to write and to study French literature. Vilma was the sole philosophy major in the class of 1950.

New Orleans born Geddes Jones has returned to Paris and will be studying political science at the Sorbonne this year. When Geddes left a year ago he said that he would return, and every Fiskite who has been through in the past few months usually greeted the other schoolmates with, "Is Geddes back yet?"

It has been suggested that a Fisk Alumni chapter be formed in the city. If the travel trend continues it may materialize.

Good Morning in the U.S.A.

By Lulu Jones Garrett

Staid old Baltimore had two items perched amid its monuments, this week, that gave the teacups an extra rattle.

The Victor Grays (he's an AFRO promotion man and she former national basileus of AKA, now ACHR bigwig, town principal, et al) are readying divorce proceedings. Back from the South, over the week end, he was ensconced in the York Hotel, rather than the Edmondson residence.

And Dr. Ora Fisher, now of Detroit, guested in town for a rendezvous with her N.C. attorney husband to talk plans for a permanent severance. There's a lot of rumor to the effect that chic Naomi Scott Trigg, who recently called it a day with Kermit Trigg (both of the D.C. school system) will become Mrs. Frank Raiford, bride of the Detroit medico, when the decree becomes final.

And it is being said that Dr. Joel Golden and his Josephine (NYC) have reached the end of the trail.

OOOPSOODLING

On the positive . . . Ruth O'Neil Fleming, of Bennett College faculty, and daughter of the Charlottesville, Va., James Fleming, Jr., has set her wedding date to Richard Hugh Hunt of Chester, Pa. for a Christmas affair.

Lovely Marian Cheer and James Hayward, 3rd, exchanged vows in the Church of the Holy Family in Flushing, Long Island, Saturday. And exchanging vows in South Ocean Park on Long Island were Barbara Osborne of that Community and Lt. Percy H. Harris of Tarboro, N.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl McCain of Charlotte, N.C. announced, this week, the marriage of their foster daughter, Mildred R. Blocker, to Cpl. Kenneth H. Moseley, of the same town. They have been one since Oct. 16. Ceremony in York, S.C.

The newlyweds Willard B. Singletons are at home in Los Angeles. She's the former Eleanor M. Kerford, daughter of millionaire Lloyd Kerford, owner of the famed Kerford Quarry in Atchison, Kas., and landlord to Uncle Sam, who rents the natural refrigerator as well as buys his limestone.

And the recently wed George Trumbos of Cleveland, have gone off to Havana, Cuba for their honeymoon. And add to love notes: there's a new scion to carry on the DePriest name.

A son of the fourth generation was born to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar S. DePriest in Cambridge, Mass. recently.

Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Bradford of Princess Anne, Md. have a daughter. James D. Fisher, now on leave from a position as physical education instructor at Morgan State College, will have a bride as of Dec. 23. She's pretty schoolmarm Joyce Wilson, of Hickory.

And the Cab Calloways have another daughter; the present Mrs. Calloway's third (and his fifth). The Hi-De-Ho King hasn't yet mooched up on a single son!

PERSPIRATORS

After four months of vacationing in Europe and Africa, Dr. Margaret Williams Reid of Suffolk, Va. (she's the daughter of Dr. I. Dennis Williams of Savannah, Ga.) has returned home.

Mrs. Reid visited her husband, Capt. Lonnie T. Reid, who is in Germany with the 3rd medical battalion, for a spell with Mrs. Marie Davis Cochrane of Atlanta, Ga., who is studying at Oberford in England, and later toured the Scandanavian countries.

Capt. and Mrs. Reid spent his leave in Paris, Switzerland and Spain, after she had visited in North Africa.

Dr. Gustav Simpson of Haiti is in the State, guesting with Dr. and Mrs. Paul Williams in Trenton. It's a return visit, the Williams had been Simpson guests in Haiti last summer.

And off from Trenton, last week, flew Mrs. Anderson McGruder to visit Capt. McGruder in Frankfurt, Germany, at Camp Kilmer. Starks Blackmon (designer) was due in from Paris, this week. The Charles Payerlins of Hackensack, N.J. have motored off to Florida for the winter. Viola Phipps (she's a Relevue Hospital supervisor in NYC) went a-waiting to Pontiac, Mich., last week.

Baltimore's Frances White, Douglass high school teacher, having been feted no end in Los Angeles, Calif., the first leg of her round-the-world trip, was off to Hawaii, last week. In the California city she was guest of Mrs. Maynard Tyms and her sister, Mrs. Byron Kenner, a former co-worker of Mrs. White in Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Bassey, who married their 50th wedding anniversary on Oct. 13, are in Los Angeles. She's a native of Norfolk, Va., where they were married in St. Johns AME Church in 1899. Mr. Bassey, a retired chief petty officer with the US Navy, is a native of New York.

POTPOURRI

So busy was everyone talking of the appointment of Dr. Willis B. Player to the vice-presidency of Bennett College for Women (Greensboro), last week, that it went practically unnoticed that the board of trustees re-elected Mrs. Dwight W. Cone as chairman of the buildings and grounds committee and to the executive committee of the board of trustees. Baltimore's Bishop Edgar A. Love became a new trustee. Incidentally, Bishop Love was ailing, last week and unable to attend the 150th anniversary services of famous Sharp Street Methodist Church in Baltimore, where he once pastored, and on whose program he had been scheduled.

While in the church vein, may I mention that Shiloh Baptist Church, Fredricksburg, Va. ordained four ladies as deaconesses a Sunday ago. Into the rare posts went Mesdames Virginia Barnette; Willie Mae Coleman, Mabel Hazell and Annie Scott. Dr. L. C. Kerr of New York City went down to make the ordination speech.

And speaking of other feminine achievements, Lillian Richards, recently named director of NYS's department of hospitals, social welfare division, will head 227 social workers in 23 city hospitals, there.

PARTY PRATTLE

Top party coming up is the testimonial dinner to honor W. C. Handy, famed musician, "Daddy of the Blues" at the Waldorf-Astoria on the 13th. Ed Sullivan and Noble Sissle are co-chairmen. Dr. Ralph J. Bunche and Fannie Hurst, guests of honor.

Top party in Washington, last week, was Mme. Lillian Evanti's soiree in honor of Ambassador Joseph Dejean and Madame Dejan, of Haiti, who are leaving shortly for Mexico.

Oooh' the glamour guests:

Monsieur and Madame Manuel Ledan, Judge and Mrs. Andrew Howard, Dr. Valaurez Spratlin, Dr. Hilda Bolden, Monsieur and Madame Jules Blanchet, the Granville Hurleys, James Porters, William Taylors, Alvin Ruckers, Nelson Thomases, Fred Hundleys.

Dr. and Mrs. Mercer Cook, the Joseph Rhoadeses, Mr. and Mrs. Thurlow Tibbes, Lois Jones, Mrs. Carie Jones of Boston, the Roy Garvins, Mrs. Gladys Morse, the Fred Wilkinses, et al.

When the fraters of Chester County, Pa., got together an evening or so ago under the roof of Dr. P. Custis Howard in Coatesville, they inducted three new members, Walter L. Gray, Henry J. Scott and Theodore M. Tolbert of the Farm and Vocational School at Pomeroy.

Of other fraternity doings in circle the hosting of the boule in Washington, Friday night, by Dr. Dwight O. W. Holmes, president emeritus of Morgan State College on the college campus.

The Los Angeles chapter best Link chapters of the nation to that bat in purchasing that life membership in the NAACP, which became the national project at the convention in July.

Buying NAACP life memberships was the godchild of Link Ezzie Buchanan of the Chicago chapter.
