They Believe Brother Slain

Dennis Satterfield, left, and Mrs. Lettia Stanford, believe that their brother, Hayward (Zoe) Satterfield, was murdered in his home near Denton, Md., despite a coroner's verdict of accidental death by burning. Their brother was found dead on Oct. 26 in a mysterious fire.

Key To Shore Death Hunted

Headless Corpse May Be Exhumed

"A search is on for a mysterious, unidentified witness who may be the key needed to unlock the secret held in the discovery of a headless body found in the burning embers of a one-room shack near Denton, Md., an Eastern shore community of about 2,500.

Robert Watts, NAACP investigator, said Monday that a man who is believed to have been with two white men on the night before the 68-year-old man's strange death "might be a star witness."

Men Seen Together

The four men were reportedly seen together in nearby Bridgeville, Md., about 8 o'clock the night of Oct. 25.

Shortly after 5 o'clock the following morning, the practically headless body of Mr. Satterfield was found in the flaming ruins of his lonely home.

Eye-witnesses said he was sitting with legs crossed in a chair. His arms were charred to the elbows. He was fully clothed.

Body May Be Exhumed

Mr. Watts said that the man for whom he is searching "may be the key to the whole thing."

He indicated also that he may ask that the body be exhumed. It was ordered buried, on the same day it was discovered, by a coroner.

Much Money Involved

Mr. Satterfield, described as an eccentric farmhand and onetime railroad worker, was known to have carried large amounts of money on his person, and more than $1,000 was found in the ruins of his home.

Relatives believe that several times that amount is still hidden in the ruins of the surrounding woods, or that the money may have been stolen.

A strong belief in the community is that Mr. Satterfield was murdered and fire set to his home to hide the crime.

Teenagers And Man Held In Dope Case

Harold Brinn, alias Jimmie Brinn of the 1400 block Druid Hill ave., 25-year-old five and dime department store porter, arrested with two teenage white girls on a dope charge, was ordered held in bail of $7,000 in Northwestern District Court Saturday.

The two teenagers, both waitresses in the store where Brinn was employed, were indentified as Charlotte Lozier, alias Connie Lozier, 17, of the 3400 block Hayward ave., and Barbara A. Dimler, 17, of the first block Merrill rd. Both were held as state's witnesses in bail of $3,000.

The trio was arrested by Northwestern Patrolmen William Dickerson, and Levis Spikas, on the corner of Lafayette and McCulloh sts., around 3 a.m. Saturday, while allegedly waiting for a bus.

Police found in their possession a small quantity of opium, three hypodermic needles, and three syringes.

Brinn was booked on five charges, one for the possession of a hypodermic needle and syrine, opium, and two charges of furnishing narcotics to minors.

Notebook In Mystery Death

A notebook, bearing notes of study assignments in Latin and algebra and discovered in the ruins of Hayward (Zoe) Satterfield's home, added to the mystery of the wierd discovery of the headless man, found in the burning wreckage of his Eastern Shore home. The notebook was found Wednesday by William Simpson, left, nephew of the dead man, and Robert Watts, NAACP attorney, who is investigating the incident.

thority or connection over Sandy Point State Park and Beach now?

A No.

Q When did your department last have authority over Sandy Point?

Turned Over In July

A The park was turned over about the first week in July.

Q To Whom?

A To the Department of Forests and Parks.

Q Now would you say on July 4, 1952, that the lockers, showers, and refreshment stands at South Beach area were ready for use?

A A great many of them were; some were still in the process of placing, or final construction work, in other words, there were men still working in the bathhouses and the toilet facilities.

Q On July 4, 1952, was South Beach clear of debris and trash?

A I can't answer that.

Q Would you know the answer as to East Beach?

A No.

Billimire Testifies

Garrett O. Billimire, assistant director of Public Improvements, was the next witness called.

Q Was mgre sand fill needed at the East Beach on July 3, 1952?

A By all means yes.

Q Was more sand fill needed on the South Beach on that date?

A In answering that question, I would like to answer it this way, to clear everybody's mind. The South Beach is a God-made beach, were the East beach has eroded from 1844, and this chart shows that the geological formation of this condition at Sandy Point and the East Beach, the State of Maryland I can honestly say, made every effort to establish that beach on July 4, for the people concerned.

Q Is more sand fill now needed at East Beach?

A Yes, we are making studies on that today.

Q Mr. Billimire, has money actually been properly appropriated by the State of Maryland to correct this deficiency on the East Beach?

Funds From Legislature

A Yes sir, in the next Legislature we have entered plans, the money to be made available for that correction.

Q But that's at the next Legislature?

A That is correct.

Q Do you have an estimate on the cost of equalizing East Beach with South Beach?

A In approximate figures, I haven't got an exact estimate, Mr. Koger, but to bring that beach up to what I would like to see it, it's going to run anywhere from eight to a hundred thousand dollars right off.

Poverty Is Witness

The next witness called was Sidney Peverley, chairman of the state Commission of Forests and Parks.

Q Could you tell me, Mr. Peverly, whether or not on July 4, 1952, the lockers, showers and refreshment stand were ready for use in the South Beach area of Sandy Point State Park and Beach?

A No, I couldn't tell you.

Q What connection does the Department of Forests and Parks have with Sandy Point State Park and Beach?

A Why we are the operating agency.

Q Could you tell me whether or not either of the beach areas were clar of debris and trash on July 4, 1952?

A No, I can't tell you.

Q Can you tell me whether or not either of those areas was subsesuently cleared of debris and trash?

Doesn't Recall Trash

A I was there after the opening. I can't tell you what date, and I don't recollect any trash and so forth, any more than what would usually be there.

Q Do you recall what date you were there, approximately?

A Well, I'd say some time in July, I wouldn't—don't recall the date.

Q Would you say the early part of July or the last part of July?

A I would say about the middle of July.

Q When were the facilities at East Beach first designated as being for colored persons?

A Well, it was—the park was planned by the Planning Commission for the two facilities.

Joseph F. Kaylor, Director of State Forests and Parks, as the next witness called.

Q Mr. Kaylor, were the locker facilities, showers, and refreshment stand ready for use at the Sandy Point Park and Beach, at the South Beach area, on July 4, 1952?

A I'll answer your question this way, Mr. Koger. The park was dedicated on June 25 and during the interim, period between June 25 and July 4, there was a lot of work done to complete the adjustment of lockers, of clean up of the beach.

Mr. Billmire and I were down there practically all hours of the day and night trying to get the job completed, so that it could be opened on July 4, which was the official opening date.

Doesn't Know Percentage

Q Well, what percentage of the lockers and bath house facilities were ready on the opening date?

A I couldn't tell you. I'm not armed with those figures. We had difficulty, Mr. Koger, with the lockers in that when they were received from the Bureau of Prison Use Industries, they were set up and we had a mix-up in the keys and we had, to describe it emphatically, we had a whole pail full of keys which had to be adjusted to the numbers on the lockers.

Q How often do you visit Sandy Point State Park and Beach?

A During the heavy use season, Mr. Koger, I believe I was over there practically every day, or at least every other day.

Q When were you last there?

A Saturday morning.

Q Are all of the facilities which I asked you about at first, ready for use right now?

A Yes, the lockers are in shape, the showers are in shape, the bathhouses outside of the environs of the immediate buildings need clean up, that's a constant job that we have to attend to.

Henderson Gives Testimony

The next witness was Joseph Henderson, Superintendent, Sandy Point State Park.

Q On July 10, 1952, did certain representatives of the NAACP visit the Sandy Point State Park and Beach?

A About that date they did, yes.

Q Did you accompany this continent?

A Yes, I did.

Q How many members were in this party?

A Let's see, there was three or four, Mrs. Mitchell (Mrs. Juanita Mitchell, NAACP attorney) was the only woman involved.

Q Did any of the members of this contingent meet an accident or incident of any kind?

A For your question, I suppose you are referring to the incident where Mrs. Mitchell stepped in the mud on the East Beach.

Q How far was it from the water?

A I won't quote a distance, it was right at the foot of the terrace.

Q Would you say that the sod is well established at present on the East Beach?

Admits Lack

A At points, not over the entire terrace, no.

Q What percentage, would you say, of the beach area is sod—has sod that is not too well established?

A I won't state a percentage, it's the majority of the terrace that does not have sod on it.

Q Is that same condition prevailing at South Beach?

A For the most part, no.

Q Can you state why South Beach is different in this respect?

A Yes, the terrace on the South Beach was sodded and it was not on the East Beach, at least, the entire terrace was not on the East Beach, and that was primarily because the construction work in there with the fill and grading was not completed, that is primarily why the remainder of the terrace was not finished on the East Beach.

Study To Be Made On Nursing Of Patients

In connection with a program of the State Department of Health, a study of nursing care patients in Maryland has been launched by the Commission on Chronic Illness—a national independent research organization.

The study is expected to reveal the amount and kinds of nursing and personal services required by patients in nursing homes.

As first step in the survey, confidential questionnaires and instructions have been given to 126 licensed nursing homes in the state.

6 Fined $300 For Perjury

Gave False Facts In Divorce Cases

Found guilty of giving false testimony in divorce cases, six persons, including a mother-daughter team were fined $300 each and given six months in jail, spended jail terms on Friday.

The sentences were imposed by Judge E. Paul Mason who heard the perjury case testimony on Nov. 10.

The case involved three out-of-town women who testified to having Baltimore residences when they applied for Baltimore divorces and the witnesses who supported their stories.

Mr. Payne Cleared

All of the divorce applicants were represented in the divorce proceedings by J. Howard Payne, attorney.

The mother-daughter team, Mrs. Blanche Richardson, 28, of 410 E. Lafayette ave., a longtime Philadelphia resident, and Mrs. Maggie Hayes, 56, of 327 E. 23rd st. at first told investigating officers that Mr. Payne had advised them to misrepresent the facts.

During the perjury trial, however, they cleared Mr. Payne, saying they implicated him because they were "extremely nervous and frightened" at the time.

Paid $14 Fine

In addition to giving false testimony about Mrs. Richardson's Baltimore residence, her mother, Mrs. Hayes had posed as her aunt in the divorce case in order to make her supporting testimony stronger.

The other defendants fined this week are:

Mrs. Geraldine Dempsye, 30 of NYC; and her uncle, Oscar Redd of 212 N. Aisquith st.; Mrs. Mollie Smith, 30, of NYC and her aunt, Mrs. Sadie Rawlings of 1531 le Smith, 30, of NYC and her Edmondson ave.
